PHILADELPHIA MAJORITY MAY REACH 150,000

Poll After Strike Ended Increases the Gains for Pennypacker.

THE PRESIDENT SHOWS INTEREST

Declares That Pennypacker's Defeat Would Be National Calamity.

QUAY EXPOSES A TRICK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 1.

The final poll of the voters of this city was completed today. Discounting all that are doubtful and all that will stay at home, a Republican majority of more than 100,000 is assured.

Every ward, every division, every house and every voter has been canvassed. Nothing has been left to chance. Four polls of the city have been made since September 1. Each succeeding canvass showed Republican gains, but the last one—begun and finished since the settlement of the coal strike—gave the largest percentage of increase. Commissioner Durham is fully satisfied with the situation. It would not surprise him if the Quaker City yields a Republican margin of 150,000.

President Roosevelt is showing deep interest in the Pennsylvania congressional and state campaign. J. Hampton Moore, national president of the League of Republican clubs, who visited the president by appointment last Thursday, made public this afternoon the substance of Mr. Roosevelt's remarks on the political outlook in this state.

Assured There Is No Danger.

"The defeat of Judge Pennypacker in Pennsylvania would be a national calamity," the president remarked to Mr. Moore.

When assured that there was no danger of Democratic success in the Keystone State, President Roosevelt continued:

"I am glad to hear that. It is very important for the people of this country that the policies of the Republican party should be continued. I repeat, that the defeat of Judge Pennypacker in Pennsylvania would be a national calamity."

Congressman Dalzell of Pittsburgh called at Republican state headquarters this morning and held a long conference with Chairman Quay. Mr. Dalzell said nothing could prevent a big Republican victory in Pennsylvania. He is confident of congressional and legislative gains; also, that Judge Pennypacker would have a magnificent majority. Congressman Butler of the Chester-Delaware district accompanied Mr. Dalzell.

Chairman Quay today said:

"Among other last cards being played by the Democrats in the closing hours of the campaign is the circulation of a statement to the effect that, if the Republicans control the next general assembly, they will repeal the law compelling miners to secure certificates of competency and skill before being permitted to mine coal; also, that the law enacted at the last session of the legislature providing for inspectors will be declared unconstitutional.

The Tales Denied.

"It is my opinion that no credence will be given such 'roorbacks' as these; but in order that there may be no misunderstanding, I pronounce these stories false. A repeal of the bill providing for certification of miners, or the question of the constitutionality of the mine inspectors' law, has not and will not be raised by the Republican leaders. Such canards as these are being circulated at the eleventh hour in the hope that they will influence voters in the anthracite coal districts. They will fall of their purpose."

Col. Guffey, the Democratic state leader, today expressed the belief that the Democratic state ticket would be elected. The colonel came east for a final conference with John S. Rilling, campaign committee at the Hotel Walton. There were present Chairman Rilling, John B. Head of Westmoreland, J. Wood Clark of Indiana, Charles P. Donnelly of Philadelphia, John F. Ancona of Berks, Robert E. Wright of Lehigh and Congressman J. K. P. Hall of Elk. State Chairman Creasy and Secretary P. Gray Meek of Belefonte of the state committee also attended. Reports were received from all parts of the state. After the conference Col. Guffey said:

"I am here for a final meeting with the campaign committee, and am glad to say that I have every possible reason to believe our state ticket will be elected. The exorbitant claims sent out by the Republican managers are made only for effect. They are not warranted by conditions, nor are they made in good faith."

Democratic State Chairman Creasy said Pattison would have "at least 15,000 majority." CHESTER D. POTTER.

SCHWAB IN NO DANGER.

His Physician Denies Alarming Reports About His Health.

"Reports that Charles M. Schwab is in danger of a sudden relapse are untrue," was the statement yesterday of Dr. Stanley Rendell of Aix les Baines, attending physician abroad to the steel corporation president, who is now touring the country in Mr. Schwab's car Loretto. "There is, of course, some foundation for these reports, for Mr. Schwab is anything but a well man. His general health is good, except that his nerves are impaired from too much work and worry. The trouble has been to get him to let the cares of business alone and devote himself to rest. It was a great task to get him to consent to give up six months for this.

"I am convinced that his recovery will be complete before he has given up six months of recuperation, if he will adhere to the program of dropping all business care. I will return to Europe in about a month to see Mr. Schwab. All he needs is a physician to see that he does not work.

Alabama Constitution on Trial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—A suit was filed in the supreme court today, coming up from the circuit court of the middle district of Alabama, which is designed to test the validity of the new Alabama constitution. It is entitled Jackson W. Giles vs. The Board of Registrars of Montgomery county, Ala.

DROPPING ITS SMALL BUYERS

Steel Corporation Cuts Out List of Coke Purchasers.

MANY CLERKS TO GO

The H. C. Frick Coke Company is dropping its small customers. It is ignoring the foundry coke buyers, the little fellows who years past swelled its list of patrons to 1,000 or more. It is limiting its list of furnace buyers and will enter the new year with scarcely more than two-score of them. These will be chiefly merchant furnacemen, whom the United States Steel Corporation plans to influence in its heavy purchases of iron.

The result of the move will be the partial dissolution of a small army of office employes at Scottdale. There are about 500 now so employed in record, invoice and other work incidental to the accounts which have been carried with the many buyers now dropped. It is also understood that the new policy will mean the abolition of the coke clearing house, which, with other producers, the company now maintains.

A New Trade Policy.

The United States Steel Corporation is readjusting its trade policy on lines close to those of the Standard Oil Company. This is to sell finished materials at a small margin over the cost of production, just as the Standard Oil Company keeps down the price of refined petroleum. At the same time, the corporation supplies of raw materials are to be guarded, either by being held out of the market or offered at prices out of the reach of buyers who produce the more finished lines.

The Frick company is making no contracts to supply furnace coke to buyers, and it is the purpose to drop the foundry trade, except in instances of closely allied interests. The company now operates about 12,000 ovens and is adding 1,000 more. It also markets the production of nearly 9,000 other ovens owned by the steel corporation, and nearly 2,000 ovens of independent manufacturers. In its last fiscal year the steel corporation manufactured over 9,000,000 tons of coke and marketed nearly 11,000,000 tons.

The pig iron production of the corporation in the last fiscal year was over 6,000,000 tons. Its steel production was over 2,000,000 tons above this, and the iron required to make it up is bought from the merchant furnacemen. Now, by its low-priced contracts on coke entered with some of the furnacemen, the corporation will be in position to exact satisfactory deliveries of iron at prices which it can keep in check, through the possibility of its shutting off the furnace supply of coke at any time by enforcing a 30 days' cancellation clause.

Are Looking for Coke.

The corporation is now holding to a price of $2 a ton on merchant steel bars, but will contract for none for delivery before next May. At the same time rival producers are getting from $5 to $8 a ton above these prices.

St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia agents who sell to the small foundry trade of their districts have been in Pittsburgh for several days in the effort to contract for coke for next year's delivery should the Frick company. They have been told that their trade would be dropped, because in this year the company has not been able to keep pace with specifications on its larger contracts for furnace coke. These three agencies have been handling about 500 cars of coke a week, and are now looking about for a chance to place their orders with the other producers, many of whom are already crowded with business.

STRANGE DROWNING.

Brilliant Student of Harvard Law School Finds Death in the Charles River.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—A special from Cambridge, Mass., to the World, says: Turned out of his wherry into the icy waters of the Charles river, Ernest Mansfield of Springfield, Ky., one of the most prominent students in the Harvard law school, was drowned this afternoon in the Charles river. The drowning was not witnessed.

Mansfield was a brilliant student. He led his second year classes in the Harvard law school and was an editor of the Law Review. It seems probable that Mansfield should have overturned his wherry by accident. The craft is a broad, flat boat. Nothing short of a deliberate move or a fainting spell could have caused the accident.

LEAK IN THE OFFICE OF VICE CHANCELLOR

Rumor That the Steel Corporation Got a Tip What Decision Would Be.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 31.—There is apparently trustworthy authority for the statement that a man well known in Wall street circles called on members of the United States Steel Corporation, told them what Vice Chancellor Emory's decision in the Hodge case would be, and suggested that it was not too late to have the suit dismissed.

It is also said that members of the corporation called up Gov. Murphy on the long-distance telephone and asked him whether the Hodge case was satisfactory of a leak in the office of the vice chancellor. This part of the story Gov. Murphy declines to confirm or deny.

The man who is said to have had the advance information of what the decision would be has been often mentioned in connection with the Hodge suit, but was not supposed to have any connection with the complainants in the Hodge suit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Mr. Lamar, when seen tonight, said that if a director of the Steel Corporation would say that any one representing himself to be Gov. Murphy had talked with him over the telephone regarding the Hodge suit he would answer in an interview and in a manner that could not be misunderstood.

M'ENDREE CONFESSES TO ROBBING GRAVES

Says He Sold Bodies to Three Medical Colleges in Indianapolis.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 31.—John McEndree, white, alleged leader of a gang of grave robbers, was arrested in Martinsville last night and was brought here today. The detectives say he is implicated equally in the grave robbing business with the colored ghouls now in jail. McEndree confessed today that he had been in the graveyard robbing business. When asked how many times he had been out with a gang, he said:

"Oh, I've made about 20 trips."

He said he got bodies from different cemeteries about Indianapolis and disposed of them at three of the local colleges.

CROKER ENJOYS HIMSELF.

No Longer Seems to Care a Rap for Politics or for the Election.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(Copyright Cable.)—Richard Croker is again in London, but on the eve of the election in the United States he remains dumb, so far as politics is concerned. He is very ruddy.

"You see, I spend most of the time outdoors," he said. "I do not remember to have spent as pleasant a year as the last one has been for a long, long time. Sometimes I wonder why I didn't get out of politics sooner. I have a very good time over here. I go about a great deal and get much enjoyment out of the races."

URIBE-URIBE SAFE.

He Sends Message to His Wife That He Is Arranging for Peace.

COLON, Oct. 31.—A detachment of 1,500 government troops arrived here today from Sabanilla, department of Bolivar, on board a French steamer.

The steamer also brought a telegram from Gen. Uribe-Uribe to his wife at Bogota. This message was dated Rio Frio, October 28, and said the writer was safe and about to sign a treaty of peace to include the entire departments of Bolivar and Magdalena. Uribe-Uribe added that he expected to reach Bogota shortly.

It is understood that Admiral Casey now permits the transportation on the railroad of Colombian troops and ammunition across the isthmus.

WILL BECOME A $4,000,000 BANK

Union National Will Add $2,500,000 to Its Capital Investment.

SURPLUS OF $3,250,000

The Union National bank, organized in 1859 as a state bank and now one of the strongest and oldest banking houses of this community, is to increase its capital investment to over $4,000,000.

This is to include the present capital stock of $250,000, a surplus of $1,000,000, undivided profits of $289,259, and the proceeds of 2,500 shares of new stock, which will be sold at the rate of $1,000 a share, making $2,500,000, and of which $250,000 will be added as capital stock issue at par and $2,250,000 to the surplus. This will make the bank an institution with capital investment of $4,039,259.

The directorate of the bank has voted to recommend this, and a special meeting of the shareholders has been called to meet at the banking house, Fourth avenue and market street, on December 1, to vote approval.

For years the Union National has been regarded as one of the most stalwart of Pittsburgh's banking houses. Such a move has been quite unlooked for, although its business for a long time has been far in excess of a logical relation to the capital investment. The book value of the 3,000 shares of the stock which the bank will have will become something over $800 a share. It is now something over $600. The last public sale of a block of the stock was at $1,033 a share. On the purchase of the new stock present shareholders will, of course, have the first call.

Quarterly dividends of 7½ per cent have been paid. The bank in its last statement to the comptroller of the currency, September 15, showed assets and liabilities of $5,235,823 86. The assets were loans and discounts, $2,489,973 62; investment securities, $1,123,525 24; United States bonds, $750,000; banking house, $105,993 34; other real estate, $11,434 11; 5 per cent redemption fund, $12,500; due from banks, $314,135; cash and cash items, $427,305 15. Liabilities were shown as capital, $250,000; surplus fund, $1,000,000; undivided profits, $289,259 78; circulation, $250,080; deposits, $3,446,564 08.

The directorate of the bank is made up of the following: R. S. Smith president; Addison Lysle, the capitalist; Thomas M. Armstrong, the cork manufacturer; Adam Wilson, contractor and builder; John H. Wilson, soap manufacturer; Dorilus Horne, the drygoods merchant; John B. McClune, steam pump manufacturer; William M. Rees of James M. Rees & Sons Company, engine and boat builders, and Johns McCleave, the attorney. The cashier is C. F. Dean, and his assistant G. M. Paden.

LAKE COAST PROTECTION.

Fortification of Canadian Boundary to Be Undertaken, as Well as the Seashore.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—The annual report of Gen. Gillespie, chief of engineers of the army, says the defense of the great lakes and the St. Lawrence is under consideration.

The seacoast defenses are now somewhat more than 50 per cent completed; 25 of the principal harbors of the United States have a sufficient number of heavy guns and mortars mounted to permit an effective defense against naval attack. The total cost for the engineering work is estimated at $30,000,000.

Incendiaries Burn Four Barns.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Farmers in the western portion of the county are excited over the burning of barns. Within a week four have been consumed by fire of incendiary origin. Last night the large barn of W. P. Kelso of North Beaver was burned and the night previous that of Miss Martha Patterson was destroyed. The farmers have organized a vigilance committee.

ESTIMATES ARE GIVEN OUT ON THE VOTE OF NEXT TUESDAY.

The Citizens party and the machine yesterday made off-hand estimates of the majorities they respectively expect at the election. Thomas S. Bigelow said: "All indications point to a glorious victory. I will put our majority at 25,000. I really think it will be nearer 40,000."

James W. Clark, secretary of the Citizens party executive committee, said: "Our majority will be anywhere from 30,000 to 50,000."

William B. Hays, chairman of the campaign committee, remarked: "The majority will be from 25,000 to 30,000."

J. O. Brown claimed 30,000 majority for the machine ticket.

W. J. Burke of the Ballot Reform party says the Grimes ticket will get 12,000 votes in the county.

POCOHONTAS EMBRACE NEARLY CAUSES RIOT

Lady Tumbles With Admirer Through Plate Glass Window and Arrests Follow.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 31.—At 8:20 this evening five soldiers of the Sixteenth regiment provost guard were wandering along Main street watching the Halloween procession, when they spied a wooden Indian in the habiliments of a squaw standing in front of James Kalbach's cigar store smiling upon them. One of the soldiers began introducing his chums to Pocahontas and each in turn planted a resounding Hobsonesque kiss upon her ruby lips.

The last man to the front was too ardent in his embrace and he and Pocahontas tumbled against the French plate glass window, breaking a large hole through it.

Constable Shortall was close at hand and grabbed two of the soldiers, but not before Kalbach had struck one of them. The other three soldiers got away. The constable marched his men through the large crowd that had gathered and when they got to Center and Main streets the soldiers called on their comrades of the provost guard to rescue them.

Two of the soldiers held their guns horizontally in front of them, barring the constable's way, and demanded his prisoners. The crowd edged between the constable and the provost guard and forced the soldiers aside, then pushed the constable and his men across the street to the sheriff's office with such a rush that the glass in the office door was broken.

By this time Col. Windsor and another officer appeared on the scene and after a conference between him and Kalbach it was agreed that the soldiers involved should pay the cost of putting in a new window. They will be given a military hearing tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

PRISONER CONFESSES MURDER AND ROBBERY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MARION, O., Oct. 31.—Philip Nagle, suspected of murdering William Wade a few nights ago near Upper Sandusky, was arrested this morning by the sheriff of Lawrence county, 10 miles from Ironton, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Taylor. The officers found him and two brothers asleep in the same room. Wade's watch and dirk knife were found under Nagle's pillow and Wade's revolver, which was loaded, was found on a mantel nearby.

Nagle confessed to the officers that he murdered Wade with the motive of robbery and secreted the body in a culvert under the Hocking Valley railroad in Wyandott county after committing the crime. He confessed that he induced Wade to take a walk up the railroad track for the purpose of killing and robbing him and when he thought he was dead, robbed the body.

It is believed that Nagle would have made a desperate struggle to escape if he had been awakened. He will be taken to Wyandott county tomorrow to answer the indictment of murder returned by a special grand jury. Nagle and Wade worked in this county several weeks. Relatives of Wade reside here. Nagle came to this city the same night after committing the crime.

SCHOEN INTERESTS INVEST IN SOUTH

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The Herald says this morning that a deal was completed in this city yesterday by which the control of the Southern Car and Foundry Company passed from the hands of its old owners to a new syndicate, which is said to be identified with the Schoen interests, formerly connected with the Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh. The new owners, whose identity has not been disclosed, are said to be practical car manufacturers.

Andrew Carnegie in London.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Andrew Carnegie arrived in London today after a tour of Scotland, where he received the freedom of numerous towns. He was the guest of honor at a dinner given by John Morley at the Athenaeum club tonight. He starts for the continent tomorrow for two months' recreation. The statue of John Bright, which has just been placed in the house of common, is the gift of Mr. Carnegie.

An inefficient detective force encourages burglars and thieves to operate in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The ring fills all places with ward heelers. Remedy: Vote the Citizens ticket from top to bottom. Advt.

GUARD MOBBED IN HOME TOWN

Company Get a Warm Reception on Return to Mahanoy City.

NONE ARE INJURED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Mahanoy City, Pa., Oct. 31.—In striking contrast to the treatment accorded the soldiers of the Fourteenth regiment during its stay of 20 days here, was the reception accorded to Company D, Eighth regiment, in command of Capt. Britz, on its return home last night. The soldiers of the Fourteenth were made much of, while derisive cheers and mean personalities were the lot of the home command.

The hooting and jeering began as the soldiers disembarked from the train at the Philadelphia & Reading station and increased in volume until the armory, in Pine street, was reached. Missiles were hurled into the ranks, but none of the guardsmen was struck.

A howling mob of several hundred swarmed in front of the armory, bent on attacking the militiamen as they emerged from the building for their homes. Many of the guardsmen, nearly all of whom were strikers and members of the United Mine Workers' organization, remained in the armory until the mob dispersed.

Lieut. Harry R. Bricker, a reputable physician and president of the city council, was forced to draw his sword in his own defense.

Trouble is brewing at several collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company in the Mahanoy valley over the daily discharge of employes who were conspicuous in the demonstrations against non-union workmen during the strike.

After Gen. Wiley's departure for home tomorrow, the Sixteenth regiment and Sheridan troop of the Second brigade will be attached to the first brigade, commanded by Gen. Schall, at Tamaqua until they are withdrawn from the field.

MOROS PLEDGE LOYALTY.

Many Visit American Camps in Philippines and Professes Friendship.

MANILA, Oct. 31.—A telegram has been received from Gen. Sumner at Zamboanga, Mindanao, saying he is disposed to give the Bacolod Moros more time to make peace before capturing and destroying their strongholds.

Capt. Pershing reports to Gen. Sumner that many additional Moro leaders have come in and pledged friendship and support to the Americans. These visits have been returned by the Americans, who were cordially received by the Moros.

Capt. Pershing is urging the Moros to return to their abandoned fields and plant crops.

Twenty members of the native constabulary of the island of Negros defeated 70 ladrones near Turica yesterday. The ladrones were intrenched and it took an hour's fierce fighting to dislodge them. Six of the bandits were killed and several wounded. Their leader, named Dalmacio, was wounded and captured. Two guides in the employ of the constabulary were killed.

FIRE CAUSES PANIC IN A COUNTY JAIL

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., Nov. 1.—A panic was precipitated at the Fairfield county jail during the night when the lower room of the workshop in the rear of the old jail building caught fire. The smoke was so dense that it filled the corridors and the prisoners confined in the second story were terror-stricken. The jailer went among them and told them there was no danger, but the volume of smoke increased. Finally they were taken from their cells and marched to the new building nearby. When the blaze was extinguished they were marched back.

W. K. VANDERBILT SENTENCED TO JAIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A special cable from Paris to the Sun says: William K. Vanderbilt has been sentenced in default to two days' imprisonment and a fine of 10 francs for recklessly driving his automobile on the Champs Elysees on September 12. Mr. Vanderbilt was informed on that day that he would be prosecuted, but he returned to the United States without noticing the warning, and he was not represented at the trial. Mr. Vanderbilt will be liable to arrest on his first appearance in France unless his solicitor obtains the suppression of the imprisonment part of the sentence.

HALLOWEEN FROLLICKING WAS GENERAL

All Manner of Grotesque Characters Abroad Last Night.

POLICE WERE ROUGH IN MAKING ARRESTS

Many Funny Scenes Enacted and the Noise Was Fearful and Unceasing.

CITY'S GREAT CARNIVAL

The annual Halloween street show, Pittsburgh's carnival, the great parade of mummers, came off according to the revised police program last night. The jollity of the occasion was at times interrupted for the moment by the arrests that were made, between 75 and 100 of them, but there were so many hundreds whose costumes did not overstep the police taboo and who enjoyed themselves so thoroughly that the arrests did not mar the general hilarity.

The principal scene of the passing show was in Fifth avenue. Scores of cars from the East End and Oakland, and from the South Side, Allegheny and the West End, discharged their loads of eccentrically attired passengers in Fifth avenue, and east and west in that thoroughfare the gaily-attired throng rushed to and fro. Cowboys rode down the street on funny cayuses, clowns wandered through the crowds, grotesque Jewish masks, imitation negroes, make-believe ghosts with death's head faces, black-face comedians in all sorts of costumes, and stage Irishmen lent kaleidoscopic variety to the scene.

Pittsburgh Police Were Rough.

One feature of previous Halloween shows was begun last night, but was quickly nipped in the bud by the police. That was the masquerade of men and women as members of the opposite sex. Most of the arrests were made at Wood street and Fifth avenue, and some things about the work of the police were right funny, although the officers did not see the humor. The crowd seemed to enjoy jeering the policemen, and this angered the officers because they thought they were being laughed at for doing their duty. The crowd, however, did not care who was arrested, but it was the rough treatment that the spectators received when an arrest was made that riled them. Some times three and four policemen, one after another, knocked the crowd about like ninepins.

Many of the costumes were comic. One of the most successful was worn by two men, who walked side by side. The upper part of their costume was of one piece, so that they looked like one broad body with two heads. The trousers had but three legs, so that they walked as one man with two heads and three legs.

Represented the Fusion Ticket.

One of them had across his forehead the word "Democrat" and the other the word "Citizens." They represented the fusion ticket, and as they walked down Fifth avenue they were greeted with cheers and shouts of "You'll win, all right!"

One rather neat turnout was an old-time Deadwood stage coach, with the passengers inside and the Wells Fargo Company's messenger sitting on the roof with his shotgun all ready. Wagons loaded with Siwash bucks and Klootchmans passed up the street. Three little Indian squaws in red attracted lots of attention.

It was amusing to see the police size up persons whom they suspected of being men or women in disguise. Down on Sixth street Lieut. Garret Crossan's men stopped several and made two arrests on the strength of the voices of the masqueraders.

The police rule that masqueraders must keep to the middle of the street was a good one, for it allowed the crowd generally to see the show to advantage and kept the sidewalks in a measurably orderly and passable condition.

Prizes Awarded by Pickering.

There were tall doings around Pickering's corner, at Penn avenue and Tenth street, when the masqueraders who entered the competition for grotesque make-up gathered before the judges. The furniture firm offered five prizes for the funniest costumes, and the contest had been thoroughly advertised. Not less than 10,000 persons gathered around the judges' stand.

The winners were selected from several hundred competitors. Their names and the list of prizes follow:

First prize, a $50 leather couch, H. Marlowe and A. Harmon, Allegheny; second, a $30 combination case, E. Bowman and wife, Allegheny; third, a $15 Morris chair, E. E. Moore, Union station; fourth, a $15 rocking chair, F. Laman and E. Ganter, Homestead.

Marlowe and Harmon masqueraded as the "rubber necks," and wore most ludicrous costumes. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman made a decided hit in their clownish makeup as "Pinks" and "Rings." Pickering's prize offer did much toward making last night's carnival a success, and many of the funny costumes seen in the downtown thoroughfares were worn by the competitors.

Great Times on the Hill.

Even the horses, dogs and goats and the wooden Indian tobacco signs in the Wylie avenue district joined in the carnival of merriment. Never before had things inanimate been seen in a street parade, and in this respect the roisters on the hill made the night famous.

The fun began early and continued until long after midnight. At sunset there was an overture of cow bells, the concerted signal for all spooks to appear, and as if by magic they walked forth a motley throng. Clowns innumerable, minstrels fantastic, knights in armor, ladies-in-waiting, tramps in rags with the traditional tomato can, and hundreds of other grotesque characters sallied forth among the masqueraders.

For years the Hill district has been given the palm for distinction in its celebrations of Halloween, and the crowd that filled Wylie avenue last night was the greatest in its its history.

Horses strangely caparisoned with blankets and white panteletts on all of their four legs, were mounted by knights wearing the strange mountebanks. Wagons with long streamers of red

SOUTH MENACED BY COAL FAMINE

Southern Railway Blamed on Account of Poor Car Service.

ACCUSED OF FAVORITISM

Tennessee Yards Full of Fuel Which Company Fails to Move. Condition Said to Be Growing Worse Instead of Improving.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Oct. 31.—Knoxville and the entire south is in danger of a coal famine if the Southern railway continues to give such services as has two or three months delayed the operators of mines in Tennessee in getting coal to consumers. Instead of bettering the coal car service during the past 30 days the Southern railway has allowed it to grow worse.

Operators say they are losing thousands of dollars every week by the failure of the railway company to furnish them with sufficient cars, and by the further failure to move the coal after it is loaded. There are now standing in the yards here cars loaded with coal which left the mines 60 miles away 15 or 20 days ago.

The Southern Railway Company is not furnishing half the cars which the mine operators want, perhaps no more than one-third. The condition is precarious. If these conditions continue many large factories in the south will be obliged to shut down. The loss will fall heavily upon mill men of South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee and parts of other states.

There appears to be a disposition on the part of the Southern railway to favor the companies which are selling them coal. There are four companies which do not sell the Southern any fuel, the Proctor, Black Diamond, Minersville and the Royal companies, who are getting the worst of the distribution of cars right along. It is also charged that the Southern is holding the coal for its own benefit.

WAS FOUND HANGING.

Joseph Wagner of Millvale Used a Rope to End His Life Last Night.

Joseph Wagner of Maryland avenue, Millvale, was found hanging in his room about 7 o'clock last night by his family. They immediately cut the body down and sent for a physician. When the latter arrived he said Wagner had been dead sometime. He was 45 years old and a laborer.

George Green, colored, of Sharpsburg, was committed to jail yesterday morning to await the coroner's inquest into the death of Adam Sneigal, a Russian, 23 years old, who was killed in Morehead Bros.' mill on Wednesday night by being drawn through the scutchers. Martin Sneigal, a brother of Adam, charges Green with jostling his brother and causing him to fall in the machine. The inquest will be held this morning.

George Meier of No. 1927 Carey alley, South Side, was yesterday charged with the murder of his aged brother-in-law, John P. Schaeffer, at the latter's home in Arlington avenue, Lower St. Clair township, last Monday, on recommendation of the coroner's jury. George Schaeffer, a brother of the dead man, testified to seeing Meier fire the fatal shot.

Louis C. Castner, 60 years old, for 40 years an East End druggist, died suddenly early yesterday morning at his home, No. 5078 Alder street, East End, of apoplexy. During the evening he attended a social at the home of Dr. R. C. Clark and was stricken shortly after reaching home.

W. Raymond, 46 years old, was found dead in bed at his boarding house, No. 514 Winfield street, East End, yesterday morning. He has a son and three daughters living in McKeesport.

A woman fell down stairs and was killed suddenly yesterday morning while looking at rooms in Hemlock street, Allegheny. She was identified at the late hour last night at the morgue. She was about 55 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighed about 115 pounds. She wore a gray and black coat, a black and white dotted waist and skirt, with a black belt.

MANY WAGERS MADE.

Election Bets Favor Citizens Party. $25,000 Offered That Whole Ring County Ticket Will Be Beaten.

Election betting was free throughout the city yesterday, most of the wagers being small, however. The Citizens had to offer odds to get wagers in the general results.

Last night John Staley left $250 at Newell's to be bet, as a whole or any part of it, that outside of the commissioners and directors of the poor, the Republicans will not elect a man on their county ticket.

Mr. Staley also made some bets yesterday. One was $2,500 that James Francis Burke will be beaten 2,000 votes, and another was $3,000 even James W. Brown will defeat Dr. Barchfeld for congress. Mr. Staley announces that he has more money to bet the same way.

At the Safety building, former city detective Jesse Paevey, bet $500 that Burke would win for congress. He also made a wager on the Graham-Shiras congressional fray in Allegheny. The second wager was for $100. There were a number of other bets made on Graham. A well-known downtown merchant placed $500 on the Allegheny congressman to succeed himself. Citizens money was plenty to wager on the congressional fights and every bet offered by machine adherents was eagerly snapped up.

In Allegheny the ring followers are backing Graham strongly. Detective George H. Waggoner placed a number of small bets on James Francis Burke last night.

Nine Were Arrested.

Nine arrests were made yesterday on the 24 informations made before Alderman McMasters, charging voters with having voted on fraudulent tax receipts and having given out fraudulent receipts at the last election. The men were arrested by policemen. Their names and addresses were not put on the daily blotter and it was with difficulty that their friends found them and bailed them out. The men arrested are William Lamb, George Wind, Michael McCarthy, Robert McClaine, Lewis Lauth, Joseph Leisman, Joseph H. Fodelin, E. M. Sells and John T. Hoffman.

PRESIDENT'S INTEREST IN THE ELECTION KEEN

He Is Assured by Chairman Babcock Republicans Will Control the House.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.

In a telegram received here today Republican Congressional Chairman Babcock predicts a Republican majority of at least 15 in the next house. He adds:

"Pennsylvania will show an increased Republican delegation. Representative Acheson will be re-elected, and we will carry at least 29 or the 32 districts."

The president has in the last few weeks talked with Republicans from nearly all the states and has heard from all the states through Chairman Babcock of the congressional committee and by means of letters. The general opinion conveyed to the president is that the Republicans will carry the house by a safe majority. This is highly gratifying to the president.

He believes that his party has much important work ahead of it for the next few years, and this, he believes, would be retarded for years should a Democratic house be elected. The divisions that would follow a Democratic house and a Republican senate would mean absolutely nothing done on the trust, the tariff or anything. While the Republicans might be benefitted by having the responsibility transferred partly to Democratic shoulders, the president has told friends that he has no desire to have his party placed in the position of avoiding a responsibility which it does not object to bearing and meeting.

Gov. Odell is a friend of the president and has the sincere best wishes of the latter in the contest soon to be decided. This afternoon the president indirectly sent a word encouragement to the Republican workers and voters, and indicated his desire to see a general Republican triumph. In answer to inquiries this afternoon regarding the pending campaign, Secretary Cortelyou said:

"The president is watching with the keenest interest and the most earnest desire for Republican success of the various congressional canvasses and the state canvasses in states like New York and Pennsylvania, where governors are to be elected."

ROOSEVELT'S OUTING.

Goes South to Shoot Birds and Visit Bull Run Before Proceeding to Oyster Bay to Vote.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt will shoot partridges tomorrow at Manassas, Va., and inspect the Bull Run battlefield Sunday.

This pleasant outing, which has been arranged to precede the president's trip to Oyster Bay to vote, is to be participated in by Secretary Root, Secretary Cortelyou and Surgeon General Rixey. The party left on a special train at 9 o'clock tonight. Sunday will be spent by the president in becoming thoroughly familiar with the battlefield of Bull Run, and on Monday morning the special will start for Oyster Bay.

The president will leave Oyster Bay Tuesday night for Washington. He will stop in Philadelphia to attend the celebration of the anniversary of the initiation of George Washington as a Mason and reach the White House Wednesday night.

After breakfast at the White House this morning, President Roosevelt informally received 191 mechanics and laborers who have been engaged upon the repairs of the mansion. The president stood on the front porch and greeted them as they passed, having a pleasant word and a smile for each.

WINSHIP DISABLED.

Hero Who Personally Prevented American Defeat in Philippines, Has Five Bullets in His Body.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—Lieut. Emory Winship, attached to the flagship Iowa, has been condemned by medical survey on account of rheumatism and transferred to the British hospital at Montevideo.

His was one of the heroes of the naval campaign in the Philippines and was advanced several numbers in his grade for distinguished conduct in action. He carries five Mauser bullets, three in his right leg, one in his left leg and one in his left hip, received while operating a Colt automatic gun in a small steam launch, trying to protect the landing of men from his ship, the gunboat Bennington.

The party was attacked by overwhelming numbers of Filipinos and would have been routed but for the action of Lieut. Winship in taking personal charge of the automatic gun and pouring such a deadly volley into the natives that they were compelled to retreat and permit the landing. Lieut. Winship was the target of the attacking party, being struck five times. It is believed his rheumatic disability will be only temporary.

MAKING BUDDHISTS.

Cuban Girls Intended for Mrs. Tingley's California Colony to Be Detained at Ellis Island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Thirty Cuban girls, all under 16, who are expected to arrive from Santiago on the Orizaba tomorrow, will be detained at Ellis island by the immigration authorities and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, until it can be satisfactorily determined for what purpose they are brought into this country.

It is said that these girls are being brought here to become pupils under the care of Mrs. Katherine A. Tingley, high priestess of the Universal Brotherhood at Point Loma, Cal. Mrs. Tingley is known as the "Purple Mother," and is said to have reared a temple where she teaches a colony of children the Buddhist religion. Since the Spanish-American war, she is said to have obtained a large number of children from Cuba, through ordinary proselyting methods, and the people, churches and newspapers of Cuba are vigorously protesting against giving any more children into her keeping.

MORE TROUBLE IMPENDS.

Kingston Coal Company Orders Checkweighman from Its Property.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 31.—Trouble is threatened at the four mines operated by the Kingston Coal Company and which employs 2,700 men and boys. The company officials served notice on the two check-weighmen today that their presence on the company's property was no longer desirable.

The weighmen are in the employ of the miners and look after the weighing and inspection of the coal in the interests of the miners.

Boy Rode on Troop Train.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Lyons Duncheskl, 13 years of age, who disappeared from Shamokin, was found to have come to Washington with Company H, Tenth regiment. He got on the troop train and came to the armory of Company H with the soldiers. He disappeared after having told one of the officers that he was going to one of the glass houses in the town.

A HELPFUL BLAST.

ROUSING MEETING FOR OLD ALLEGHENY

Citizen Speakers Addressed the Greatest Assemblage of North Side Campaign.

The biggest meeting that has marked the present campaign in the North Side was held last night in Allegheny Carnegie library hall by the Citizens party. The auditorium, with a seating capacity of 4,000, was packed to the doors, and many, unable to gain admission, stood in the halls.

Dr. S. S. Woodburn was chairman. The speakers were L. K. Porter, H. L. Goehring, John Frances, L. C. Beatty, John M. Goehring, R. S. Cunningham, James R. McFarlane, candidate for judge in common pleas court No. 1, and J. J. Miller, candidate for judge in the orphan's courts.

H. L. Goehring attacked the ring methods of winning elections. He called attention to the fact that William Flinn was not in the fight openly, but sitting in the tower and allowing his henchmen to do the work. "The cause for which you are fighting," said Mr. Goehring, "is citizenship, and we mean to destroy this one or two-man machine that has been our government for the last two decades."

Mr. Porter confined his remarks chiefly to a comparison of Congressman William H. Graham and George Shiras III., candidates for congress from the Twenty-ninth district, which was not flattering to Mr. Graham. Mr. Porter in his address said:

Mr. Graham having been in office for almost a quarter of a century, is it unfair that we ask on behalf of the people a little account of his stewardship? As recorder he was paid a salary of $4,000 per annum for nine years. As a member of congress he has received a salary of $5,000 per annum. Did such salaries entitle us to all of his time? If so, how much of his time since 1881 has he given to his official duties, and how much of his time and attention?

Shortly after he was elected recorder, in addition to other things, he began to and continued to devote his time to building up a street railway, of which he was one of the largest owners. Did the time, ability and skill acquired in council in obtaining franchises with such marked success that hundreds of thousands of dollars were added to the value of the stock.

In the early history of Western Pennsylvania men were willing to forego all other pursuits to devote their whole time to representing their districts. Is there none to succeed them? We believe George Shiras III. to be such a man and we call upon all men wanting honest government and clean upright congressmen to vote for him next Thursday.

WORKERS NOTIFIED.

Wage Reduction for Securing Export Orders Declared by Amalgamated.

Official notices of the tin plate settlement were sent out yesterday from the headquarters of the Amalgamated association. The substance of the circular is as follows: "Three per cent of the wages of all men working on the hot mills of the American Tin Plate Company are to be placed in charge of a disinterested trust banking company in the city of Pittsburgh.

"The American Tin Plate Company to be reimbursed for rebates paid on presentation of documentary evidence satisfactory to a committee of the Amalgamated association, indicating that the American Tin Plate Company has paid such rebates.

"It is the bounden duty of every tin worker to accept the result of this question as the very best that could be done under the circumstances. The utmost confidence should be placed in and expressed for the men who had the arduous duty of finally disposing of it. The time for criticism is past. Ample discussion has been had for and against the proposition before final action was taken. Now that the die has been cast, let us put all difference aside, and thus subserve the best interests of all concerned."

ADVISED HER TO PRAY.

Mrs. Hutchinson Told She Has Been Playing Into Devil's Hands.

"You have been playing into the hands of the devil. Go home and ask God to give you strength to withstand temptation, and if you are sincere, He will hear and answer your prayers."

These were the words of Burgess Horner of Wilkinsburg yesterday when rendering his decision in the case of Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson, accused of cruelty to one of her children.

Mrs. Hutchinson was fined $10, with the alternative of 60 days in the workhouse on this charge, and $2 on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Burgess Horner warned Mrs. Hutchinson that she would not be shown such lenfency if she appears before him again.

Millvale Justice Sued.

Information was made yesterday against Justice A. J. Needling of Millvale, before Justice E. R. Buethner of the same place, on a charge of assault and battery by John Kindley. Kindley alleges that Needling ejected him bodily from his office on October 29, and beat him about the face and head with a paper weight.

Killed by Live Wire.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—William Bradley, aged 19, a lineman in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company, died at the Westmoreland hospital at noon from injuries sustained by falling from a pole three hours previous. His ear came in contact with a live wire. His home was at Aconia, O.

HOODOOED FREIGHT TRAIN MET WITH FIVE ACCIDENTS

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Local railroaders believe the Southwest Pennsylvania local freight is hoodooed. On the last trip from Greensburg to Fairchance and return Engineer P. A. Skelly of Greensburg fell from the stairway at the tower at the local junction here and dislocated his shoulder and sprained his ankle; at Davidson the wagon of Isaac Kontski, a peddler, was run into and the occupant killed; at Redstone junction six cars were backed from a siding and a delay of six hours resulted; at Fairchance three cars and the cabin were derailed and turned on their sides; at Youngwood Engineer W. I. Johnstown, who took Engineer Skelly's place, received a telegram announcing the death of his father in Altoona; at Grand Union tower, Ludwick, a through freight ran into the cabin and badly damaged it, Brakeman J. E. Honse of Greensburg being thrown from a boxcar and seriously injured.

The trip generally required 22 hours, but the crew did not reach Greensburg until 48 hours after starting.

DEMMEL IS SLATED FOR DECAPITATION

Recorder Brown's Anger Over His Indiscreet Admissions Is Not Appeased.

Superintendent Philip Demmel of the detective bureau is slated for dismissal or reduction, according to the latest advices. His frank acknowledgment of the conditions in his department has aroused the anger of Recorder Brown. The city executive puts little faith in Demmel's denial of the statements attributed to him and insists on a full and written report of the workings of the detective bureau. More than that, the recorder asserts that the inefficiency of the bureau is to be blamed on the detective chief.

Superintendent Demmel went to the city recorder's office yesterday morning and made denial that he had said he was hampered by politics, and that the men given him were inefficient. Recorder Brown told the police official that he did not want any denial, but the report of the detectives' individual work, and he would determine whether they were incompetent or not.

Superintendent Demmel returned to his office, where he devoted his efforts to getting out the report asked for. Recorder Brown seemed enraged at the action of the detective official.

"I will judge whether the detectives are efficient or not," said the recorder. "The results from the detective bureau have not been satisfactory, but that is Superintendent Demmel's fault. I gave him free hand to do as he pleased, and he has failed to grasp the situation. Harmony does not exist among the detectives because of the lax methods of their superintendent.

"Demmel's excuse was most absurd. I will get a report of the detectives' work and will determine whether any of the detectives are incapable. Politics has not been considered with Demmel or his men."

DOLAN WAS HONORED.

British Trades Congress Presented to Him Handsome Remembrances.

A handsome cabinet of English oak, containing a complete set of tea and dinner cutlery, was presented by the British Trades Union congress to President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh district of the United Mine Workers at the close of the convention in London. The tea and dinner sets are made of the finest Sheffield steel and the handles of the knives are of ivory.

A gold shield on the outside of the cabinet contains the following inscription: "Presented by the British Trades Union congress to Mr. Patrick Dolan, delegate American convention, London, September 2, 1902."

More Troops Ordered Home.

SCRANTON, Oct. 31.—The Thirteenth regiment of this city and the governor's troop of Harrisburg, located at Olyphant, were today ordered to prepare to move home tomorrow.

J. P. Morgan in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan arrived in Chicago from the east this morning, accompanied by Frank Sturges and C. J. Lanier. The party went to the horse show. Mr. Morgan declined to give the reason for his visit to Chicago.

MACHINE TRYING DESPERATE TRICK

Quarantined Colored Citizens Headquarters and Holds the Workers Inside.

The Pittsburgh machine, under the guise of enforcing the sanitary rules of the bureau of health, maintains a rigid quarantine over the colored Citizens headquarters in the Seventh ward. An imaginary case of smallpox was discovered in the building at No. 80 Elm street, where the colored Citizens' workers held their meetings, and it is the intention of the ring to keep the men locked up until after the election.

The sanitary policeman who guards the house takes his orders from the Seventh ward machine headquarters. Three policemen take turns in watching the house. Their chief is "Chickens," a well-known man in the Seventh ward. Yesterday afternoon "Chickens" donned his badge and was pacing along Elm street, when he chanced to meet Walter Marsh, a former member of the police force, who was discharged because he refused to pay the assessment to the city machine.

"What are you doing?" asked Marsh.

"I'm a sanitary policeman now and am watching a case of smallpox. It's down in this house where the coons have their Citizens headquarters," answered "Chickens." Then he is alleged to have said to Marsh:

"I'm just waiting till they get a good crowd in there and then close the place."

"It is asserted that a smallpox victim was taken away from the house," said Alderman Connor of Wylie avenue, "but there is not a resident in the district who saw any one taken away. This scheme to disorganize the Citizens workers among the colored people has been in process for a long time. Eleven persons are in the house and they will be kept there until after the election. An investigation is being made and suits will be entered for damages, when it is found that the men were imprisoned in the house for political reasons."

ALLEGHENIAN'S TROUBLE.

Year's Sentence of a Chauffeur for Manslaughter May Be Used as Precedent in His Case.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Herbert A. Marble, a chauffeur employed by the West Chester Automobile Company of New York, was today found guilty by a jury of manslaughter. He was charged with having caused the death of John Molz, a farmer of Wallingford, on the night of September 23. Marble was sentenced to one year in jail.

Another automobile accident is pending in the criminal court, in which Henry W. Dupuy of Allegheny, a Yale senior, is defendant. He, too, is charged with manslaughter, and in addressing the court today States Attorney Williams referred to this case.

In sentencing Marble, Judge Case said: "I do not think that it is a state's prison offense in this case. It is painful even to send the young man to jail under the circumstances."

To Erect 10-Story Building.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—It was announced this afternoon that the Masonic Temple Company had purchased the Andrews property, at Boardman and Market street, for $30,000, and would erect a 10-story office building thereon.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind.

POLYGAMY EVIL STIRS MOTHERS

Exposure by Mormon Wife Feature of Last Session of the Congress.

WILL START CRUSADE

Body Will Appeal for National Laws Against Practice—Steps Taken Toward Better Marriage Laws.

The principal feature of the closing session of the Mothers' congress last night in the First Presbyterian church was an exposure of polygamy, written to the congress by a Mormon wife. The writer stated that public officials in Utah openly encourage polygamy.

She said that it is almost impossible to secure a conviction for the the practice of polygamy; that prosecuting attorneys cater to polygamists, in order to get their votes, and that, even if convicted, the judge is liable to impose a trifling fine on the culprit. The letter related instances showing the moral degradation wrought by polygamy.

After the reading of the letter the congress adopted resolutions denouncing polygamy as "one of the grave dangers which threaten the foundations of the nation, and urging upon congress the importance of promptly passing an act making polygamy a national criminal offense."

This action will result in a movement to be started by the National Congress of Mothers at its next meeting. It was this body that took the initiative and accomplished the expulsion of Congressman Roberts from the house of representatives.

The session last night was presided over by Mrs. Howard Lippincott of West Chester, Pa. Mrs. Frederick Schoff of Philadelphia, the founder of the Pennsylvania congress, resigned the presidency, after a service of three years. A paper on "Social Evils That Menace the Home" was read by the Rev. W. L. Worcester of Philadelphia.

The committee on resolutions reported that members pledge themselves, "In view of the great increase of divorces, to embody in the training of children purer and truer ideals of marriage, and to work for better marriage laws and uniformity of divorce laws of different states, making it less easy to sever marriage ties." Another resolution adopted was one urging women to do Christmas shopping in November to avoid additional strain upon shop girls and boys during the holiday season, and one that the congress urge the state legislature to pass uniform laws for working children.

Child labor was discussed at the morning session. The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy spoke on social and economic changes, stating that Pennsylvania is among the least humane and enlightened of the states in the care of its children.

In the afternoon the resignation of Mrs. Schoff was accepted, and Mrs. Lippincott of West Chester was elected to succeed her as president. The other officers were re-elected.

Two Carpenters Injured.

Edward Franks and Harry Barnhardt, carpenters employed by T. H. Hazlett, a contractor, fell 35 feet from a scaffold on a new building at Swissvale and Rose avenues, Wilkinsburg, yesterday. Barnhardt fell with his back across a scaffold support and was injured internally. Franks was badly cut and bruised about the head.

Rally to Be Held Today.

The 17th annual rally of the young people's branch of the missionary societies of the Allegheny and Pittsburgh presbyteries will be held at the North Presbyterian church, Allegheny, this morning and afternoon.

The macadamized roads in Allegheny county have been badly constructed and are costly in repairs, because the ring has shown favoritism to the contractors. Vote the Citizens ticket for genuine good roads. Advt.

The Advantages of Banking.

The Pittsburgh Bank for Savings is now circulating among its clients a small booklet which contains many useful hints on the subject of banking. The introductory page is devoted to a brief and concise historical sketch of the institution. Every page of the booklet virtually bristles with sound advice on the part of saving money.

EIGHTY-EIGHT MILES OF BAKER BALLOTS

Allegheny County Receives 423,000 Tickets for Use on Next Tuesday.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock the Pittsburgh Printing Company delivered to the county commissioners the ballots for the 579 voting districts in Allegheny county, fulfilling the contract for the whole county three hours ahead of the time prescribed by law. Commissioners Murray and Mercer stated it was the first time since the Baker ballot law went into effect that the law had been strictly complied with by the printer.

The ballots are 21x23 inches, and the contract called for 423,000 of them. At times as many as seven large cylinder presses were working on the ballots, and notwithstanding this, the printing firm ran until midnight since Wednesday of last week.

The paper used in printing the ballots, if laid out singly, would make a footwalk 3 feet 2 inches in width and over 88 miles long, and this 88 miles of paper passed twice over the bed plates of the cylinder presses, was counted and bound, the 579 districts requiring about 4,250 books of ballots, each containing 100 ballots.

Official reserve and specimen reserve ballots were printed for every district, and are held by the commissioners, in order that any district not receiving its ballots on the Monday preceding the election can be temporarily supplied until the printer can furnish the required number for the full election.

WOMEN GOLFERS ARE ACTIVELY ENGAGED

Miss Fownes Won the Highland Handicap Cup, While Miss McCook Led at Edgewood.

The handicap cup played for on the Highland course was won yesterday by Miss Mary Fownes. The cup was to be won twice for possession, and Miss Elkins and Miss Fownes were the previous winners. The scores yesterday:

	Gross.	H'cap.	Net.
Miss Mary Fownes	98	2	96
Miss Gerdes	111	12	99
Miss Patterson	123	24	99
Miss Louise Elkins	104	4	100
Miss Sarah Hillman	130	30	100
Miss Jane Bennett	106	4	102

The third handicap contest in a series being played under the point system for a cup offered for the women of the Edgewood club was won yesterday by Miss McCook with a net score of 48. Miss McCook not only had the lowest net, but easily played the best golf with a gross score of 52, lower than all the net scores, with the exception of Miss Brennan. Three points are scored for first, two for second and one for third in each contest. Miss Catherine McCook, Miss Brennan and Miss Flenniken are now tied, with five points each. The fourth and final contest is to be decided on Tuesday. The scores yesterday:

	Gross.	H'cap.	Net.
Miss McCook	52	4	48
Miss Brennan	65	14	51
Miss Catherine McCook	57	4	53
Miss Blakeley	58	4	54
Miss Flenniken	62	7	55

In the semi-final match of the women's tournament on the Allegheny Country club course, Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., defeated Mrs. O. D. Thompson by 4 up and 2 to play. The final match is to be played today, between Miss Livey Christy and Mrs. Nevin.

FROM SILVER TO STEEL.

Transformation of Old Smelter at Great Falls Begun by Hill.

GREAT FALLS, MONT., Oct. 31.—James J. Hill has begun the development of a steel and iron industry in the west, which will rival anything of the sort in the world.

He is in Great Falls to arrange the transformation of the old silver smelter into an immense iron and steel mill.

Will Play Georgetown.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The University football team left at noon for Washington, where it will meet the Georgetown college team tomorrow. The cancellation of this game by Manager Dawson yesterday led to such a kick that he reconsidered and soon raised enough money to make up the difference between the Georgetown guarantee and the expenses of the trip.

County roads are paid for by public moneys. The ring has no more right to promise to the people of one section more than to another. It has promised more roads for next year than can be built in five.

YEARS AND USE

Prove the Old Reliable Hardman Piano a Marvelously Constructed Instrument for Withstanding Age and Service.

IT ACTUALLY IMPROVES WITH USE.

Two thousand users of the old reliable Hardman Piano in Pittsburgh are its warmest friends and admirers.

Turn to one of your neighbors—with such a number of these magnificent pianos in use in one city, it is scarcely possible that one reader of this paper should not know one or more homes where the old reliable Hardman is the pride and joy and everlasting, constant source of pleasure to the young and old occupants of those homes.

Turn to one of your neighbors who knows by actual experience, and ask about the merits of the truly named "Old Reliable" Hardman Piano.

It is with the utmost confidence we ask you to go to those who own Hardmans' to learn of this piano's merits.

It will interest those who are contemplating the purchase of a piano to know that our great Holiday Stock of Pianos includes many exceeding handsome Hardmans. There are pianos here of the most ornate beauty of design and finish. It will well repay a visit of inspection. You need not buy. Come and look. We will cheerfully show you over our big 6-story building, with 6 large floors full of beautiful pianos, and when you have been all through you will not be urged to buy. Such attention imposes no obligation upon you. We want only the opportunity to show Pittsburgh people that in their own city they have a piano store equal to any in the country.

W. F. FREDERICK, 633 Smithfield street (near Seventh ave.), is exclusive agent for Hardman Pianos. This house is distinguished as exclusive selling agents; also as the world's acknowledged standard piano, the (genuine) Chickering, made by Chickering & Sons, Boston, for nearly a century. Also for the Kroeger, Schomacker, McPhail, Behr, Bros., Haines & Co., and other pianos of repute, as well as the Estey and Mason & Hamlin organs, and the best of all, the Chase & Baker Piano Player.

ST MESSAGE TO KING

ward VII. Congratulated on he Linking of His Empire by Electricity—Connects Vancouver With Fiji Islands.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The last section of the British Imperial Pacific cable was laid to the Fiji Islands yesterday. A congratulatory cable message to King Edward reached Buckingham palace this morning, being the first message sent over the line which links the British empire together.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 31—The completing of the cable link between Vancouver and Brisbane was accomplished last night, although the first message will not get through until this morning, when the announcement was made that it came from the Imperialists, which was a reality. The cable is still in the hands of the contractors and it will not be open for business for about three weeks. During that time it will undergo an elaborate system of tests, in order that the officials may be satisfied that it is in thorough working order, before being taken over from the contractors.

The section between Bamfield creek and Fanning Island, which is the longest in the world, already has undergone a series of tests and proved entirely equal to expectations. The great question in the success of the cable was over the enormous stretch, but it was found by test to give a speed of over 100 words a minute with the Deerlove transmitter.

Message in Five Minutes.

The actual time occupied in the transmission of a message from this city to Sydney, Australia, will be less than five minutes in case of a short commercial message, and this time, of course, will be occupied mainly in the manual reception of the message at Bamfield creek, Fanning Island, Norfolk Island and Brisbane.

OTTAWA, ONT., Oct. 31.—Sir Sanford Fleming received today the following telegram over the Pacific cable, from Premier Seddon of New Zealand:

Oct. 31, 1902.

"Delighted to congratulate you on completion great work of Pacific cable, thus rewarding your interest and labor forging further link to advantage of our empire.

SEDDON.

The new ocean cable extends from Victoria, British Columbia, to New Zealand and Australia. The Australian end lands near Brisbane, the capital of Queensland. It completes the lines of telegraph and ocean cable circling the globe.

How Cable Was Laid.

The cable was laid by two special steamers, the Colonia and the Anglia. The first portion was laid in the summer by the Anglia, from Queensland and New Zealand to Norfolk Island, which

SIR SANDFORD FLEMING,
One of the Canadian Cable Commission Who Has Done More Than Any Other Man to Forward the Great Project Yesterday Consummated.

lies in the Pacific east of Queensland and north of New Zealand. On September 18 the steamer Colonia left Bamfield creek, on the coast of British Columbia, and within two weeks laid 3,535 miles of cable to Fanning Island, which lies in mid-Pacific about 600 miles south of Hawaii. In a direct line the distance from British Columbia to Fanning Island is about 3,700 miles, but the running of the cable over the hills and valleys at the bottom of the sea required nearly a thousand miles more of cable than the direct distance measures. The Colonia returned to Hawaii, where her crew was transferred to the Anglia. The vessel proceeded to Fanning, made connection there, and on October 18 started to lay the cable from Fanning to Suva, the capital of the Fiji Islands. The last link, from the Fiji Islands to Norfolk Island, has just been completed by the Anglia, and the globe is circled with electric wires.

MARCONI LANDS.

Will Try to Flash Messages Across the Atlantic by His System of Wireless Telegraphy.

GLACE BAY, CAPE BRETON IS., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The Italian warship, the Carlo Alberto, arrived off the coast at 2 o'clock this morning, and immediately a launch put out and landed Signor Marconi, the Count di Solari and 16 officers of the cruiser.

Mr. Marconi comes to test the possibilities of trans-Atlantic wireless telegraphy. The Carlo Alberto has been placed at his disposal by the king of Italy, and he will attempt to communicate from his station here with points across the Atlantic.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Oct. 31.—Smallpox continues to spread in Barbados at an alarming rate. A week ago the total number of cases reached 1,200.

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN ARE SLOWLY DYING FROM CATARRH

November Colds Should Not Be Allowed to Develop Into Chronic Catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Cures a Cold Promptly and Permanently.

"I am glad to recommend Peruna as it has done so much for me. I had been a great sufferer from catarrhal colds until I was urged to try Peruna, and I am happy to say that it has entirely cured me. I shall never be without it and most cheerfully recommend it to others who are afflicted as I have been."—Katherine Dauter, 239 15th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Most people think the success of Peruna depends upon the use of advertisements. Undoubtedly the advertisements help some. But by far the greatest number of people who hear of Peruna have their attention called to it by a friend.

Someone gets cured of chronic catarrh by Peruna. After he is certain of his cure he is sure to recommend it to his friends. Friend recommends it to friend and the news spreads from tongue to tongue.

All the advertisements in the world could not make Peruna as popular as it is. Peruna cures. That is the reason people like it. Peruna cures a very stubborn disease. That is why everyone recommends it. Peruna cures chronic catarrh after all other remedies fail, which explains why neighbor recommends it to neighbor. Peruna cures catarrh permanently, and this way has gained a life-long friend.

People who have been cured by Peruna many years ago have been eager to recommend Peruna to their friends ever since. This is the way Peruna is advertised. It advertises itself. Its merits are its chief advertisement. Once cured of so distressing and exasperating a malady as catarrh, it becomes the duty of everyone to pass it along, to call the attention of those who are still victims, to a remedy that rarely fails to cure.

Pe-ru-na Cures, That Is Why the People Like It.

All the Advertisement in the World Could Not Make Peruna as Popular as It Is.

Miss Margaret Donnelly, 21 Webster Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna was recommended to me about a year ago for catarrh with which I had been troubled nearly all my life, but which had given me serious trouble a few months before I took Peruna. In two weeks my head cleared up. I did not have headaches, and in a short time felt perfectly well."—Margaret Donnelly.

when I found myself with a bad case of catarrh of the head and throat Peruna was the first thing that I thought of. And my convictions were not wrong, for in a few weeks after using Peruna systematically I was entirely rid of this aggravating and distressing disease, catarrh.

"If people knew how efficient Peruna was for this trouble they would not hesitate to try it. I have all the faith in the world in it, and have never known of a case where the person was not cured in a short time."—Jennie Driscoll.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Beware of Cheap Imitations of Peruna—Be Sure That You Get Pe-ru-na.

There are no substitutes for Peruna. Allow no one to persuade you that there is something just as good. The success of Peruna has tempted many people to devise cheap imitations. Beware of them. Be sure that you get Peruna.

Miss Jennie Driscoll, 870 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I heard so much in praise of Peruna as a specific for catarrhal affections that

BREAD-AND-BUTTER HATS.

Millinery That Meets the Requirements of Every Day People.

Some trimmed hats are dreams, some are nightmares, and some seem made only for wear in stageland. Not so with Campbell's trimmed hats. They are good, stylish, made of good materials and are all that eligible millinery need be. The best thing about them is the fact that keeps safely away from the extreme that makes a modest woman unstylish. No wonder such an all kind of women we like best shop at Campbell millinery department. Fifth floor. No supplies.

In the history of Allegheny county no event has shocked the public sense of decency and morality as the Stone-Flinn deal. It is a disgrace to the city, a disgrace to the county, a disgrace to the state, a disgrace to the whole political and business fabric. Vote the Citizens ticket and vote against that kind of politics.

Beware of the man who comes to you to trade votes. The way to defeat such men is to vote straight for the ticket nominated by the citizens of Pittsburgh and assist in putting the gang out of business.

Women's Winter Coats in All the Latest Styles and Fabrics at Very Low Prices.

These are days which suggest the need of Winter Coats. Only a matter of a week or so until they are an absolute necessity. For a long time back we have been preparing for just such weather as naturally belongs to us when Winter appears, and we have anticipated the demands that will be made upon our popularly-priced lines.

Women desiring to purchase a thoroughly good, reliable Winter Coat, one that will give the very best service and retain its neat, stylish appearance, should not disregard the unusual opportunities offered in the following items:

At $10: Black Kersey Coats in the 27-inch lengths. These are half fitting, the back and front finished with straps, the sleeves finished with neat turn-over cuffs. All these 27-inch Coats are lined entirely with satin.

At $10: A staunch little Jacket of Covert Cloth. Turn-back cuffs on sleeves, strapped seams, Coat all lined with silk. As jaunty a little Coat as ever graced any woman.

At $17.50: 30-inch Monte Carlo Coats, the back in Chinese Mandarin style. The material is Kersey. Coat has straps in back and front, velvet collar, white pearl buttons, lined with Skinner satin.

At $20: Coats of Kersey, 27-inch lengths. Half fitting back, loose front, Pacquin sleeves. Coat is handsomely stitched and lined with satin. Velvet collar and cuffs and bell sleeves complete this handsome Coat.

Children's Trimmed Hats.

The designers this year seem to have gone in for the eccentric in children's Hats, and we have some of the most odd novelties, and at the same time very beautiful, that we have ever seen. We can't describe them to you and have to content ourselves with asking you to come with your girls and look at them.

In girlish Hats that sell for very small prices, we have Hats of felt in all the leading colors, tam crowns with wing at side, wide stitched brims, and the price is only $3.50.

In extreme novelties there are many odd conceits trimmed with quills—assorted colors—the price is only $5.

Of the finer Hats for young girls, we have many indescribable styles, trimmed in many different ways, at $8 and $10.

For boys and girls we have felt Hats with immense brims, either rolled or straight, beautifully stitched, ornamented with silk streamers, $1.50. This line is very special.

Boys' Golf Caps, 35c, 50c, 75c up to $2.

Boys' Scotch Caps of corduroy, new styles of crown, many different colors, $1.50 each.

Tams for both boys and girls at 50c up to $3.

Women already know that our collection of millinery is matchable nowhere in the Greater City, either for style or the low prices.

Women's and Children's Slippers.

The Shoe Department of 2d floor, Annex, has all kinds of Slippers from the neat and comfortable house Slipper to the exquisite and dainty Slipper for party wear.

Dull kid braided vamp Oxfords, $3.50.
Dull kid braided vamp 3 strap Slippers, $3.50.
Dull kid beaded vamp and cross strap Slippers, $4.
Patent leather 3 strap Slippers, $3.
Dull kid Duchesse, high tongue, wide ribbon tie, $4.
4 strap Slippers of bright kidskin, $2.
Plain common sense Slippers, 1 strap, low flat heel, $1.50.
We have fur trimmed Juliets, low flat heels, red, green and black, $1.50.
Finer grade felt fur trimmed Juliets, red, green and black, $2.
Misses' fur trimmed Juliets, 11½ to 2, $1.25.
Juliets for children, 4 to 11, $1.
We have a fine line of women's crochet Slippers, in all colors, $1.50.
Felt Slippers, low heels, $1.25.
Women's, misses' and children's Bath Slippers, all grades ranging in price from 50c to $1.50.

Cotton and Wool Waists.

One of the late arrivals is a Venetian Cloth Waist, front of pinch tucks forming a yoke. Plain back. The collar has a silk turn-over. Shirt sleeves with narrow cuffs, and the price only $1.

Cashmere Waists—navy, light blue, red and black. Tucked all over, $5.

White Waists of a mercerized basket weave cloth, with fancy figures; 6 wide side pleats and one box pleat in front; French back; stock and buckle. $3.50.

Waists of heavy colored linen, made with slot seams front and back; collar and fancy tie. $4.50.

Waists of black and white figured vesting. Tucked front, buttons to one side; Bishop sleeves. Worth $5, but we are selling it for $4.

Outlined Pillow Tops, 25c.

Or rather we should say Tops and Backs complete, 25c.

The design is one of our own—representing a soft hat filled with holly.

Can be worked up beautifully, if the right contrasting colors are used. We will charge you nothing for suggestions as to the right colors.

The material is light tan duck. On sale in the Art Needlework Department, 1st floor.

Fur Coats and Also the Smaller Furs.

There is no telling what day may call forth the Sealskin Coat, and these remarks are simply made to put women in mind of the fact that we have the best collection we ever brought to Pittsburg. Those of you who have made up your mind to have a new Coat for this Winter might just as well select it now as to wait until the weather gets here for it.

You will find the richly plain Seal Coat and Seal Coats trimmed with most any fur that is used with Seal.

As for the smaller Furs neckpieces are quite comfortable these days. And we are selling Scarfs for remarkably low prices. For instance:

French Seal Cluster Scarfs at $5.
Imitation Stone Marten Scarfs at $5.
French Imitation Cluster Scarfs at $5.
Black Marten Cluster Scarfs at $10.
Sable Fox Single Scarfs, finished with two brush tails, $15.
Long Black Marten Boas, finished with 6 tails at bottom, $18.
Dark Mink Double Scarfs, made of undyed skins, finished with natural tails, $22.50.

Men's Gloves.

More particularly for street wear. This department has a reputation for carrying the largest assortments, including all the best makes.

This year our buyer, when abroad, secured a number of additional brands of men's walking gloves—some made in Germany, others in England—which makes our variety of styles even more attractive than ever before.

Tans and grays are the popular colors—both in lined and unlined gloves.

Walking Gloves, English cut, tan, oak, gray—$1 to $1.50.
Imported English Walking Gloves—tan and oak—$1.25, $1.50, $2 and up to $4.
Silk lined Mocha Gloves—gray, tan and brown—$1.50 and $2.
Silk lined Kid Gloves, $2.50 and $2.75.
Kid Gloves lined with wool, $1.50 to $3.50 a pair.
Kid Gloves lined with fur, $3.50, $4.50 and $7.50.

Boys' and Girls' Gloves and Mittens.

Best line of Warm Gloves and Mittens that we ever carried for the young people. Choice of kid, wool and leather.

25c and 35c a pair—double and single all-wool Mittens. Extra fine quality.
25c a pair—50 different patterns of medium and heavy weight. Fancy knit Gloves.
50c a pair—Leather Gloves and Mittens, lined with wool.
$1 a pair—Kid Gloves and Mittens lined with fancy silk.

Girls' Three-Quarter Coats.

If we had all the say all girls would wear long Coats. They are so much more dressy and neater than the Jacket. However, don't understand this as meaning that we are short on jackets. We have the biggest kind of a stock equal with that of the three-quarter Coats, but we like the Coats best.

Three-quarter Coats of blue and gray cheviot. These are double breasted and finished with velvet collar. The price is only $6.50.
Girls' Norfolk Coats of cheviot—in a pretty effect of brown mixtures. The price is $8.50.
We also have these Norfolk Coats in plain cheviots, as well as brown and gray kersey—all lined with satin—at $12, $13.50, $15 and up to $23.

The La Fleur Corset

is the reigning sensation in Pittsburg today among women. This girdle of daintiness seems to meet the requirements of every taste.

It is a Corset that can be fitted to all figures. We have models for the debutante as well as for the matron. A lady who could make you a perfect Corset, were she so inclined, will do the fitting. Any hour of the day it will be a pleasure for us to demonstrate the many good points of this artistic Corset.

PENN AND FIFTH.

DESPAIR SHOWN BY THE MACHINE

Tearful Cries of "Fraud" at Slimly Attended County Committee Meeting.

ADVOCATE AX AND CLUB

Dr. Barchfeld Urges Extreme Measures—Offer of $20,000 in Rewards Is Made, But Treasury Is Empty—Police at Polls.

The hopelessness of the machine as to the result of the election next Tuesday was shown at the meeting of the Republican county committee yesterday. Only 164 members of the 579 attended, although the chairman had issued frantic appeals for a full meeting. The candidates made wild charges that they would be beaten by fraud and Dr. Barchfeld capped the climax by openly advocating lawlessness at the polls. He promised some effective work by the police.

The ring's henchmen passed a resolution offering $20,000 in rewards for convictions for illegal voting. Much doubt was expressed as to the genuineness of the offer, in view of the fact that the machine is preparing for a liberal use of repeaters in districts where it managed to save the election boards from the popular uprising in February. One downtown committeeman openly declared that the reward did "not go" in his bailiwick. It is also understood that the machine's political treasury not only does not contain $20,000, but that the ward leaders have been informed that it is entirely empty. In fact, Recorder Brown confessed as much at the meeting.

Recorder Brown's Bugaboo.

County Chairman Robertson presided and made the opening speech. Recorder Brown offered resolution which stated "That bands of ruffians and thugs of the lowest type have been and are being imported into this county from Philadelphia, Chicago and other localities by the Citizens party for the purpose of repeating at the election on Tuesday, November 4," and offering a reward of $20,000, to be paid in sums of $500, for the arrest and conviction of any person who casts or attempts to cast an illegal vote.

Recorder Brown followed with a speech bitterly attacking the Citizens party. "I do not speak as one with authority, for if you speak with authority in this campaign, you must be a millionaire," stated the recorder. "As one of the oldest commissioned officers in the organization, I can, at least, speak from experience. In all of my experience I never saw such an overwhelming attempt to carry an election as now in Allegheny county. We have not even nickels to match against their $5 gold pieces."

Called Larkin "Copperhead."

At the conclusion of the recorder's address, George A. Chalfant presented typewritten resolutions charging that 20,000 bogus receipts had been circulated by the Citizens.

At this juncture there was a movement on the part of a large number of the members of the committee to leave the hall. Chairman Robertson begged them to remain and listen to another season of oratory. Col. W. E. Thompson was called upon and made a defense of his record as county controller. He alluded to city controller, John B. Larkin, as "a copperhead Democrat."

James F. Burke was the next speaker and predicted his election by a majority of 5,000, "just as sure as the sun shines."

Dr. Barchfeld repeated his inflammatory speech of the evening before, advising Republican workers to go to the polls on election day armed with "baseball bats" and "axes to chop up the ballot boxes." He was particularly violent in his allusions to the Citizens workers. "These monsters, parading in the garb of reform, would commit murder to carry this election. If we, with the police of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and in control of the county jail, cannot carry this election, we ought to lose it," declared Dr. Barchfeld.

Chairman Robertson gave instructions to workers and overseers. He warned them to be on the lookout for fraudulent tax receipts. He said the organization would win a victory unless it were stolen, charging that 160 repeaters brought into the city would all be landed in jail by Supt. McAleer and police force before Tuesday.

LAFAYETTE WILLS,
City Clerks.

Allegheny, Pa., October 1, 1902.

(No. 558.)

AN ORDINANCE—To Authorize and direct the proper officer or officers in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny, to enter into and execute a contract with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a corporation under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a like corporation, whereby said Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company may change and elevate a part of the line of its railroad within the limits of the said city.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the city of Allegheny in select and common councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the proper officer or officers of the said city be and are hereby authorized and directed in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny to enter into and execute a contract with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in the following form, to-wit:

CONTRACT.

This agreement made this..... day of ....., A. D., one thousand nine hundred and two, between the city of Allegheny (hereinafter called the "city"), as first party, and the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a corporation under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania (hereinafter called "railroad company"), as second party, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a like corporation, lessee of said Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company and joining herein to express its consent to the making of this contract (hereinafter called "lessee"), as third party, Witnesseth:

Whereas, The railroad of the said railroad company enters the limits of the said city and the tracks of the said railroad within the limits of said city are laid across a number of public streets at grade; and

Whereas, The said railroad company contemplates a change of a portion of its said railroad by elevating its tracks in such manner as to reduce the number of grade crossings and thereby secure the safety of lives and property and promote the interests of said city, and the said city, deeming said change and elevation and reduction of grade crossings resulting therefrom adapted to secure and promote the best interests of the city and of the public, is willing that such change be made; and

Whereas, The said city has heretofore, by written agreement, given its consent to the Pennsylvania Company, operating the railway of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company, to relocate, change, elevate and depress its said railroad in said city, between McClure avenue and the Allegheny river bridge; and

Whereas, In and by said recited agreement between the city and the Pennsylvania Company, more particularly in the twentieth and twenty-first paragraphs thereof, provision is made that the tracks of the railroad company shall be raised to an elevation corresponding to that provided in said contract for the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway Company, crossing Anderson and Sandusky streets, and that the said Railroad company should never construct any track or tracks at any grade other than that fixed by the said contract at Anderson street or Sandusky street, or any street west thereof; now

THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH:

First. The said city hereby assents and agrees that the said railroad company may change the elevation of its tracks between a point about two hundred (200) feet east of Bridge street and the eastern line or side of Federal street, as follows:

Gradually ascending from the point first above mentioned, proceeding westwardly, the tracks shall cross Bridge street at eight tenths (0.8) of a foot above the present grade;

Still ascending, said tracks shall cross McFadden street on a bridge of iron or steel at an elevation of seven (7) feet above the present grade of McFadden street.

Still ascending, and proceeding westwardly, the tracks shall cross over Pine street, at an elevation above the present grade of said Pine street to give a minimum clearance of twelve (12) feet, to under side of bridge; and shall cross over Sycamore street with a minimum clearance of thirteen (13) feet above the present grade; and over Chestnut street with a minimum clearance of twelve and four-tenths (12.4) feet above the present grade, and over Madison avenue with a minimum clearance of thirteen (13) feet above the present grade and shall connect with the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company as elevated under the above recited agreement with the city, at or near the eastern end of the present freight station of the railroad company; proceeding thence over Anderson and Sandusky streets to the eastern line of Federal street with a minimum clearance of thirteen feet at said Sandusky and Anderson streets.

And the city agrees that the said railroad company may elevate, construct, maintain and operate its tracks upon the grade and elevations hereinbefore described, and for this purpose to make, construct and maintain all necessary bridges, piers, posts, pillars, abutments or other work or appliances which may be necessary or proper for this purpose, at the proper cost and expense of it, the said railroad company. The said railroad company shall also have the right, if in its judgment the same may be necessary, to place within the curb lines of each of the streets in this contract named iron or steel columns to support said bridges.

Second. The line of McFadden street under the tracks of said railroad company shall be changed as follows: Commencing at the present line of said street at the south side of said tracks, thence to a point at the north side of said tracks twenty-five (25) feet westwardly from the present line of said street; and the said city shall depress the grade of said McFadden street about five (5) feet, so as to give a clearance of ten (10) feet to the under side of said bridge over said street, and revise the grade of the approach to said McFadden street as far as may be required by the aforesaid depression of grade of five (5) feet at the railroad crossing. And the said city shall pass all necessary ordinances to establish such grade, and to provide for the grading of said street to said new grade.

Third. Said railroad company agrees to pay the cost of grading and paving McFadden street to said new grade within the limits of said change of grade as fixed by ordinance, and to indemnify and save the city harmless from all lawful claims for damage to property occasioned by or growing out of the said change of grade.

Fourth. The railroad company agrees, at its own cost and expense, to construct and maintain the abutments, necessary supports and superstructures, which, pursuant to this agreement, will be redired to carry its tracks between the limits designated and at the elevations described. Facing the abutments at Anderson and Sandusky streets with light colored brick. It further agrees to raise the existing stone wall on Ohio street three feet above its present level and to construct thereon a good and substantial coping to be satisfactory to the director of the department of public works of the city of Allegheny and to maintain the same in perpetual good condition.

Fifth. The said lessee joins as a party hereto for the sole purpose of expressing its consent to the making of this contract.

Sixth. This agreement shall extend to and bind the parties hereto, their successors and assigns respectively.

Witness the corporate seal of the city of Allegheny and the signatures of the city recorder, the director of the department of public works and the city controller and the corporate seal of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the signatures of its president and secretary, and the corporate seal of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the signatures of its ....., vice president and ....., secretary, the day and first above written; this agreement being executed and delivered by and on behalf of the said city of Allegheny pursant to the ordinance of the said city, entitled "An ordinance to authorize and direct the proper officer or officers in the name and on behalf of the city of Allegheny, to enter into and execute a contract with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a like corporation, whereby said Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company may change and elevate a part of the line of its railroad within the limits of said city," and by and on behalf of said Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company under and pursuant to resolutions duly adopted by their respective boards of directors.

R·I·PANS

The symptoms of my trouble were the day before they came on I would have a bad taste in my mouth, my head all stopped up so I could hardly breathe and there would be a severe neuralgic headache for twenty-four hours. This would happen every seven days, and the pain was something terrible. Of all this I am now relieved. I found no permanent cure until I tried Ripans Tabules as the directions called for. Now I am positive that I am permanently cured.

WHY CUSTOMERS SELECT PIANOS AT HAMILTON'S FOR CHRISTMAS DELIVERY

The preliminary buying of musical goods for Christmas always takes on a decided spurt with the coming of November. For prudent buyers have learned that it is a positive disadvantage to wait for the last week before making a selection of pianos and other articles intended as gifts. And as an incentive to the large number of prudent shoppers who are willing to make their selection early, Hamilton's offer special inducements to those who come now. Even thus early numerous pianos and various small articles are being laid aside for Christmas delivery at this old reliable house.

If you visit Hamilton's and see the magnificent stock assembled there, comprising, as it does, the most noteworthy gathering of instruments ever seen in this vicinity, you will not wonder that so many pianos, in particular, are being held for future delivery.

It is a positive treat to go through this stock, which is at once a feast for the eye and a delight to all music-loving souls. Hamilton's being the largest music house in the state, quite naturally controls the sale of the leading instruments. And foremost among these is the A. B. Chase, the ideal piano. No one familiar with the merits of musical instruments can hear the A. B. Chase without realizing that it is a product of the present time. It has the advantage of all those in structure which have been developed within the past 10 or 15 years, and which set this instrument apart from all others—especially from those which live on a reputation gained 25 or 50 years ago.

Music lovers generally have found that the name of a piano has very little interest for them unless the manufacturers have kept pace with modern progress. The A. B. Chase is the piano for such discriminating persons. Its fame is daily increasing. And among those who know the relative merits of such things the A. B. Chase is preferred to all other pianos.

Hamilton's stock comprises a number of other noteworthy pianos, including the famous Fischer, the popular Schumann, the Hamilton, the Smith & Barnes and others, each of which is highly regarded for special merit.

The Angelus Piano Player makes a superb Christmas gift, as do many of the smaller musical goods, such as music boxes, mandolins, guitars, etc.

Easy terms of payment may be arranged to suit the convenience of purchasers.

Store remains open Saturday evening till 10 o'clock.

BURKE MANAGES PRETTY FARCE

Dramatic Scene in Headquarters of "Muddy Water" Party.

CAST OFF THE BUTTONS

White Wings of City Transfer an Allegiance They Never Had. Machine Prepares to Betray Pennypacker—Orders Go Out.

The influx of the municipal white wings into the headquarters of the Ballot Reform party in the Times building in Fourth avenue, was quite large yesterday, and the way the men threw down Citizens party buttons and foresWore the Citizens party was immense. The white wings received their orders from the machine on Thursday to vote and work for the Ballot Reform ticket, and they started in yesterday.

The white wings were received by W. J. Burke, the Ballot Reform party promoter, who sits in the outer office, but the rattle of the buttons as they struck the floor was plainly heard by Peter Shields and J. F. Grimes, who sat in the sanctum adjoining. The way the thing was worked almost deceived Burke, who says he favors the election of Robert E. Pattison, but has a strong leaning toward the Pittsburgh machine.

To lead the public into the belief that the machine is for Pennypacker, the white wings have heretofore been allowed to wear the machine buttons, but when the order that they were to turn in for "muddy water" was given out, Citizens buttons were distributed to them. The role they were to play was then carefully rehearsed, and this is the way they went about it.

Grand Stand Play.

The new recruits to the noble cause of the Flinn-Grimes brand of reform went to the Times building and ascended in the elevator to the third floor, wearing the Citizens button conspicuously pinned to the lapel of their coats. Of course, the white wings were not in uniform.

"We're tired of that Citizens party," one disguised white exclaimed. "We want to join the ranks of Ballot Reform." Dramatically ripping the Citizens buttons from their coats, the recruits disdainfully threw the emblems on the floor, while the Ballot Reform adherents in the room applauded. J. Grimes and Shields, in the next room, chuckled.

The arrivals were then enrolled in the new party, while Mr. Burke talked to them of Ballot Reform and W. H. Baird solemnly adjured them to vote for "the shipowners' liability bill."

To each man a button was given, and Mr. Burke pinned it with his own hands. He was much pleased with the heartiness of the new converts' palms, and when they gravely assured him that they were also workingmen, who had seen the new light, he congratulated them and shook hands again.

So many city employes came to the front that Burke had a revision of his vote estimate of the day before ready for the reporters when they arrived. "I had the Ballot Reform ticket would have 8,000 votes in this county," said he. "I want to revise those figures. I believe that we shall have 12,000. I have never seen such a change in public sentiment as was manifested today, and it all occurred within 24 hours. The workingmen are enthusiastic for the cause of honest elections, personal registration, and the initiative and referendum."

Before the election other city and county employes will be instructed by the machine to vote the Ballot Reform or "muddy water" ticket, for the idea of avenging itself on the Republican state organization has never left the minds of the ring leaders.

Afraid to Order Police.

The clerks in the municipal departments and the court house will get their orders tomorrow. The police bureau is so thoroughly honeycombed with disaffection that the machine managers dare not give general orders for the police to vote for the Ballot Reform ticket, and besides, the sight of policemen supporting that organization would be such an evident "give away" that it would be entirely hopeless for the ring after the election to make a successful claim that it supported Pennypacker.

Thousands of printed postal cards were sent out on Wednesday by the "muddy water" outfit and were received by Democrats, who are going to vote the straight Democratic ticket. The cards contain a legend, urging the recipients to vote for Ballot Reform, and close as follows: "The Ballot Reform candidates are strictly anti-Quay and will vote against all machine legislation. Hunt up an anti-Quay Republican and trade with him by voting in the Ballot Reform column. Thus you will secure two votes for Pattison and two votes for an anti-Quay delegation to the legislature." This is signed by W. J. Burke, W. T. Hamilton, P. R. Horton and George Newcomb.

If you don't approve of the "hold-up" policy, you know how to put an end to it. Vote the Citizens ticket. Advt.

Friends Meet After 40 Years.

Dr. C. R. Stuckslager, president of the Peoples National bank of McKeesport, and the Rev. H. D. Fisher, a Methodist minister of Kansas, met yesterday in the bank after having been separated for over 40 years. During the early years of the rebellion the two were warm friends. The Rev. Mr. Fisher, who was preaching abolition, had his house burned down by the rebels and the news was carried to his friend, Dr. Stuckslager, that Fisher had also perished. Until recently each thought the other dead. The Rev. Mr. Fisher heard not long ago that his old friend was located in McKeesport and the meeting yesterday resulted.

The macadamized roads in Allegheny county have been badly constructed and are costly in repairs because the ring has shown favoritism to the contractors. Vote the Citizens ticket for genuine good roads. Advt.

Jefferson to Take Part Again.

Joseph Jefferson, the veteran actor, has consented to participate in Founder's Day exercises at the Carnegie institute next week. Mr. Jefferson has twice taken part in these programs. Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder will be entertained at the Hotel Schenley during their stay. Several social affairs have been planned for them. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirke Porter have planned an evening reception and supper, following the Pittsburgh orchestra's recital on Thursday evening.

Extending Library Benefits.

In connection with the home library department of the Carnegie library it has been decided by Librarian Anderson to establish deposit stations in various parts of the city. Miss M. Stevenson of the children's department is engaged in selecting books that will be sent to the different stations.

Nothing in the history of Allegheny county so shocked the public sense of political morality as the Stone-Flinn deal for "mutual political and business advantage." Vote the Citizens ticket as a protest against that kind of politics. Advt.

CITIZENS PROVE LABOR'S FRIENDS

Employers Liability Bill Is Framed by Them and Endorsements Secured.

OTHER ACTS ARE READY

"The employer and the employed should be on the same footing before the court of law in this commonwealth. I will, if elected, use all my influence in the legislature to bring about a bill with this aim in view, and if passed by that body will unhesitatingly sign it."—Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, in his speech at Scranton, Pa., October 18.

With this hint from the Republican candidate for governor, the Citizens party in this county immediately drafted an employers' liability bill, placing the employer and the employed on the same footing. The bills were submitted to Senator Quay and Judge Pennypacker. The former pledged all his influence in the legislature to the support of the bill and the latter reiterated his Scranton declaration. This bill, if passed, will ameliorate the far-reaching effect of what is known as the fellow-servant law.

The Citizens party has drafted two other bills that will be presented at the next legislature, and they, if passed, will also prove a boon to American labor. The bills were prepared by Samuel Bailey, Citizens candidate for legislature in the Eighth district, and Robert H. Heath, Citizens candidate for legislature in the Sixth district.

Engineers to Be Licensed.

One bill provides for the better protection of life and property by the "examining and licensing of hoisting engineers having charge of steam boilers, steam engines and appliances connected therewith, through the creation of a board of examiners in this commonwealth," and provides penalties for violation.

The power is placed in the hands of the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to appoint five hoisting and stationary engineers to constitute the state board. The board is required to examine applicants for positions; on habits of life and on knowledge and experience of the duties of an engineer. When satisfied that the applicant is a suitable and a safe person to be intrusted with the powers and duties of such a station the board shall grant him a license. This license may be revoked upon satisfactory proof of negligence or wilful violation of any provision of this law.

Old Men All Right.

Every person who has been employed as a hoisting and stationary engineer in Pennsylvania for four years next prior to the passage of the act, shall be entitled to a license without examination.

The other bill provides for "the better protection of life and property by the examination and licensing of plumbers and steam fitters, having charge of construction and installation of plumbing and steam fitting, and appliances connected therewith," and has the same provisions and penalties as the engineers' bill.

These bills, if passed, will greatly lessen the accidents due to negligence or incompetency in these lines of business. By the mistake of an engineer or a plumber many lives have been lost, and no redress could be obtained.

When accidents occur the bill placing the employer and employed on equal footing, or the employers' liability bill, as it is called, provides an equitable hearing of the case in court, and when an equitable hearing is obtained some substantial remuneration to the family of the American mechanic, who has lost his life through the mistake or neglect of another, is granted.

The Citizens party is a recognized friend of labor and the bills drafted are good ones. The bills have been drafted along the lines of the mining laws, which are well known as among the best in the country, and insure the miners redress for all their injuries.

PITTSBURGH NOT IN STOCK YARDS DEAL

Western Combination Will Fight Pennsylvania—Wabash to Build New Yards.

The proposed merger of all the stock yards in prominent cities in the country will, it is thought, have no effect on present Pittsburgh yards. The combination will be strictly a western affair, and the yards of Philadelphia, Jersey City and Pittsburgh will not figure in the new organization.

Probably the greatest reason that Pittsburgh will not be in the new combine is on account of the Pennsylvania railroad. The stock yards here and also at the two other eastern centers are controlled by the Pennsylvania, and the proposed new combination is being formed largely to fight this railroad system.

For years the Union stock yards of Chicago has been fighting the Pennsylvania. All other yards further west have been antagonistic to the road, and when the new combination is completed it is safe to predict that the Pennsylvania railroad will not be in the deal.

The entry of the Wabash into the city will probably cause new yards to be built in Pittsburgh controlled by the Wabash lines, which will carry all the live stock freight between western cities and Pittsburgh and between Pittsburgh and Buffalo.

The Wabash system taps the cattle-producing country better than almost any other system. Its lines reach Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago and almost every point in Texas, from which a greater part of the cattle and live stock is shipped.

Simon O'Donnell, general manager of the East Liberty stock yards, was in Chicago yesterday, and could not be seen on the subject of the new combination. One of his close business associates, however, volunteered the information that Pittsburgh yards would not be in the deal.

While the Armour and Swift interests in Pittsburgh are large, they do not have any connection with the Pittsburgh stock yards, and until the new yards of the Wabash are built, these firms, which are among the most prominently mentioned in the new merger, will not have a chance to control the local live stock supply.

The Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company is the present lessee of the East Liberty yards, and if the railroad connections are made in time this packing company will be installed in its new yards at Herrs Island by the first of the coming year. The Wabash will get no connection to the Herrs Island yards, which will be owned and controlled by the Pennsylvania.

There has been an increase of 15 per cent per capita in taxes during the past six years. Another term of ring control is dangerous. Vote the Citizens party ticket. Advt.

For the promotion of vice syndicate, vote the ring county ticket. For pure administration elect the Citizens candidates. Advt.

Girls Who Work

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ills, especially when obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night.

Day in and day out, month in and month out, the year through, the working girl toils, she is often the bread winner of the family, and must work that others may live; whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, whether it is warm or cold she must get to her place of employment and perform the duties exacted from her.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach; in consequence of frequent wetting of the feet monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden and it is hard work to drag about. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism, and if taken in time can be easily and permanently cured.

A Cordial Invitation to Every Sick and Ailing Working Girl.

It is to these girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand, and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her unrivalled record of success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing her until your health is wrecked.

Grateful Words from Working Girls Who Have Been Helped.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I want to thank you for what you have done for me. I was dreadfully tired, I stand over my work all day, and no one who hasn't tried it knows how it makes your back and sides ache. I couldn't sleep, and had no appetite, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I feel entirely different now; it is a wonderful medicine. I do not feel that my work is hard now, and I recommend your medicine to other girls who are always tired."—Miss Isabel Surgin, 293 Willis Ave., New York City.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done so much good for me that I wish to recommend it to all girls whose work keeps them standing on their feet all day in a hot store. The doctor said I could not live and I must give up work, and stay out of doors; he did not seem to realize that a girl cannot afford to stop working. My back ached, my appetite was poor and I could not sleep; menstruation was scanty and very painful. One day when suffering I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me, I soon found that my menstrual periods were free from pain and natural; now my health is fine, and every one is surprised at the change in me, and I cannot be too grateful for what you have done for me."—Miss Janet Paine, 530 West 125th Street, New York City.—$6000.00 forfeit if originals of above letters proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The opening chapter of the History of the Standard Oil Company
BY
IDA M. TARBELL
Author of "The Life of Lincoln," etc.

This is the most important series of articles McCLURE'S MAGAZINE has ever offered to its readers.

It is a narrative intensely dramatic, packed with human interest, and vitally illuminating the trust question.

The history of the Standard Oil Company is largely told in the records of congressional and state investigations, and in courts; and these are the main sources of the material of these articles, which are documented and authentic. Here one learns of the amazing arrangement between John D. Rockefeller and his associates on one hand, and W. H. Vanderbilt, Tom Scott, Jay Gould, and other railroad kings on the other hand, which inaugurated the most relentless and successful attempt to monopolize an industry in the world's history.

To quote from the November chapter:

"Suddenly, at the very heyday of this confidence, a big hand reached out from nobody knew where, to steal their conquest and throttle their future. The suddenness and the blackness of the assault on their business stirred to the bottom their manhood and their sense of fair play, and the whole region arose in a revolt which is scarcely paralleled in the commercial history of the United States."

No one can afford to miss these articles.

Hearts Courageous

From the New York Times Saturday Review:
PATRICK HENRY is the central and dominating interest of Miss Rives' new novel, "Hearts Courageous." It is a story brimming with love, beauty and heroism.

From Book News:
IN "HEARTS COURAGEOUS" Philadelphia in '76 stands before us in vivid reality.

From the Philadelphia Press:
A HISTORICAL study of Revolutionary Philadelphia. The time pictured is that fierce early summer of '76. The most dramatic scenes are behind the doors of Independence Hall, while the Declaration hangs in the balance. Miss Rives' picture is in no sense the conventional one of the school books. It is in Independence Hall that the heroine, Anne Tillotson, to save the life of her mysterious lover, betrays and denounces him to the Congress, and delivers with her own hand the message from Louis XVI.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Recorder Brown need not apply to Supt. Demmel for information as to the inefficiency of the detective bureau. He himself presented ample evidence on that point in his address to the city executive committee of his party organization. He asserted that last February "thugs and ruffians and ballot-box stuffers" were brought into Pittsburgh for election day work and that the same thing will be tried again in this campaign. Recorder Brown has under his control the entire detective and police force of the city, and if such outrageous violations of law as he describes are perpetrated it is the fault of his own administration. He puts himself in a ridiculous position of making public complaint of conditions which he himself has power to cure. He should get busy.

The doubts which Judge Frazier expressed as to the legality of tax receipts issued to party committees must be shared by every one who considers the subject impartially. There can be no doubt that the law contemplates that the payment of taxes, which is a qualification for voting, shall be made by the taxpayers themselves and not by any party organization. In fact, party payment of tax receipts is hardly to be regarded as other than a species of bribery. At the same time there is no reason in law or in morals why a man may not pay his taxes by deputy, and the practice of party committees acting as the representatives of taxpayers in this respect is so long established and so universal that it has secured toleration. No one can refuse to perform such service without placing himself at a disadvantage, and to correct the evil something more than voluntary political action will be required. It may be that this can be accomplished in connection with the enactment of a personal registration law. The law should make it a condition of registration in advance of an election that the voter shall show his tax receipt. Party watchers should have the right to scrutinize it, so as to exclude the possibility of using fraudulent tax receipts. Of course party assistance to voters in paying taxes could be continued in connection with the registration, but it would deal with personal cases and there would be an end of the wholesale transactions in tax receipts which now accompany every election.

Although so late as last Wednesday evening Mr. J. H. Cunningham had declared that he would persevere in his bolting candidacy for congress against the regular nominee in the Twenty-fourth district, circumstances brought about a change of mind. In the presence of the fact that the party organization of his own county was about to repudiate his candidacy and condemn his course, he decided to accede to the advice of party leaders to withdraw from the contest. Unfortunately he did not reach this proper decision until he had accomplished a great amount of mischief which cannot be undone. He has left the Republican party without a congressional nominee on the party column on the official ballot, and although Mr. Cunningham has personally withdrawn, his name will still appear upon the ballot. The Republican voters of the Twenty-fourth district must exert themselves to see that these complications do not result in a loss of party strength. In addition to voting the Republican column of the ballot they must be careful to put the cross mark after the name of Ernest F. Acheson in another part of the official ballot.

Mr. Cleveland is so fond of what Mrs. Partington used to call "a nice derangement of epitaphs" that it is sometimes difficult to get at his meaning under the platitudes which envelope it. It is plain enough, however, in his Morristown speech, that he has not changed his tariff views since the enactment of the Wilson tariff, and that if his influence could prevail the country would have to endure another similar experience. The point of view from which he regards the subject is that of the consumer and not that of the producer, but in this country the consumers are producers. An effort to bring down the cost of articles for the benefit of consumers is a losing operation when accomplished by striking down the earnings of the people as producers, and that is precisely what took place in the past. On the other hand it is untrue that the protective policy in caring for the interests of the people as producers injures them as consumers. The development of industry which takes place under tariff p[illegible]tion cheapens production and con[illegible]sers p[illegible] benefit of it. This is not [illegible] iron rails to tin plate the [illegible] policy has been to bring [illegible]than was previously the [illegible] accomplished at the [illegible]nprovements in the [illegible]leveland is held in [illegible] of his intentions, [illegible]u quality of intel[illegible] guide in matters

[illegible] Pacific cable is an [illegible]ends from the coast [illegible]couver, to Australia, [illegible]nnection is made at Australia with cables extending to England, thus completing the electrical circuit of the globe. It cannot fail to be of immense value to commercial interests and incidentally to British political interests. It passes near the Hawaiian islands in its southwestward course. Presently we shall have an American cable, also, across the Pacific, extending from the California coast, via Hawaii to Manila in the Philippines. It will cross the British cable and add another to the links that bind the nations of the world closer together. This American cable is necessary to American commercial and political interests and will be the forerunner of the important traffic to pass through the isthmian canal. It will bring Asia almost as close as Europe has been brought, and it is gratifying to reflect that this agency for the promotion of communication and civilization had its origin in this country, due to the efforts of those great Americans, Henry, Morse and Field.

FLINN AS A DEMOCRATIC LEADER.

The conversion of Mr. Flinn's political business from a Republican to a Democratic party basis has been going on for a number of years. The tendency dates back to the publication on March 16, 1896, of the draft submitted by him to Senator Quay of a treaty between the local organization and the state party organization. The preamble set forth that it was for "mutual political and business advantage," and in substance it proposed to Senator Quay the political advantage of friendly delegations from Allegheny county, while for Mr. Flinn it secured the business advantage of undisturbed control of local interests and opportunities. This incident furnishes the clue to an understanding of Mr. Flinn's subsequent course in politics.

Senator Quay having rejected the terms offered him, Mr. Flinn tried to overthrow him. A combination of city rings was quietly organized, and when its strength was disclosed Quay's defeat seemed certain. How Quay snatched victory out of the jaws of defeat by rallying the counties against the city rings is still fresh in the public recollection. His success ended the hopes of city bosses to get control of the state organization by efforts inside of the party lines. Mr. Flinn, whose tenacity in pursuing his purposes is untiring, then began to ally himself with the Democrats, and in succeeding sessions of the legislature endeavored to defeat Senator Quay by a coalition between ring representatives in the legislature and the Democratic minority. That Mr. Flinn is in politics to make money is well known, but the political grievances and ambitions of Mr. John Wanamaker brought large financial resources to the service of the coalition. Senator Quay again appealed directly to the people and a legislature was returned which re-elected him to his seat in the senate.

The passage of the new charter bill with the ripper section invested the governor with an authority that made him a mark for treaty negotiations of the kind once offered to Quay. The agreement between Gov. Stone and the Flinn machine has never been published, but no one doubts that it was for "mutual political and business advantage," and that in all probability it was substantially upon the same lines as the document published in 1896. It is a matter of public knowledge that the delivery of delegates took place precisely as might have been expected in pursuance of such an agreement.

Events since have shown, however, that the Republican party organization no longer affords a basis for such business, and comprehension of that fact has had a decisive effect upon Mr. Flinn's party associations. He resigned all Republican party offices and his activity during the present campaign has been on the Democratic side. The "Ballot Reform" party, organized in his interest, associates the local ring nominations for county offices with the Democratic state ticket, and hard and thorough work is being done to build up a ring organization upon a Democratic basis. If Mr. Flinn can point to any considerable accession to Pattison's vote through his "Ballot Reform" ticket he will have a claim to Democratic consideration which he will know how to enforce.

Light is thrown on the value of political control as a business asset by the St. Louis disclosures. It has been proven that for one street railway franchise "the Central Traction Ordinance," $250,000 was paid to councilmen by a local boss, who sold the franchise at a profit of one million dollars. The Pittsburgh method has been much finer. Such opportunities instead of being allowed to fall into the hands of graft syndicates among councilmen, have been systematized as a business interest, and their value realized by direct business participation in enterprises based upon city franchises. Thus franchises whose value far exceeds those figuring in the St. Louis disclosures have been conveyed without scandal and with far greater gains. The success of the system implies decided business ability supplementary to the political control on which the system was founded, and it may be that past conditions were such that without a system conveyance of public rights without public compensation would have gone on just the same, with even greater political demoralization, but the time has passed when Republican party organization can be used for the purpose. Mr. Flinn's efforts to find in the Democratic party a new base of operations will be watched with interest.

THIS WONDERFUL AGE.

Annoyances incident to the strikes in our own anthracite region and among the French miners have brought to the public some appreciation of the large part the coal industry plays in every day affairs. A recent official computation gives a statistical view of the same thing. It estimates that during the past 75 years there has been an increase of 4,500 per cent in the world's production of coal. There is a tremendous significance in that statement, for it indicates the characteristic development of the age in which we live.

Coal was widely used prior to the opening of the last century. But the period of 75 years covers the adaptation of steam to purposes of industry and commerce. We call it as we please, the age of steam, the age of iron or the age of coal. Their development has been simultaneous. The use of steam created demand for the production of iron and coal. At the same time it made possible their production on a larger plane and at lower price. Incidentally, there has sprung up a thousand other uses for them, while steam has made possible the assemblage of material and transportation of product.

The increase of 4,500 per cent in the production of coal expressed in gross figures runs into so many millions of tons that it is incomprehensible to the ordinary mind. Possibly the enumeration of percentage is not much more clear. But the thing that is understandable is that everything produced in the world has been multiplied many fold by the development of coal, steam and iron. The land has been made to support many times the population it could support before; the products of one region have been made available for feeding, clothing and delighting the peoples of other regions to an unlimited extent. Where coal and steam and iron are produced there is the mainspring of material development, and nowhere else are they produced as abundantly as in this Pittsburgh region. It is worth thinking about, how the forces of this district affect the progress and destinies of the whole human race.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

The bank exchanges of Pittsburgh for the month of October approximated $193,000,000. The public has become so familiar with big figures these days that this sum may not at first seem important; but when it is stated that it is $23,000,000 larger than the best previous October record, that it is $55,000,000 larger than for October, 1900, when the country was congratulating itself upon unprecedentedly prosperous times, and that it is $112,000,000 larger than for October, 1898, when the country first began to feel that it had shaken off the free-silver incubus—when these facts are recalled the record of the Pittsburgh clearing house for the month just closed shows the astonishing expansion that has taken place in business within a comparatively short time. Another way of looking at the figures is to see that they show an increase at the rate of a million dollars a day for each business day, as compared with the corresponding period last year, and at the rate of nearly $1,500,000 a day over the like period of four years ago.

While the industrial and financial growth of Pittsburgh is attracting general attention, the reports from other prominent clearing house cities show a steady increase in transactions, proving that the volume of trade is exceeding expectations. Railway traffic returns also continue to make favorable comparisons with previous years, and the outlook in this respect warrants the prediction that the tonnage of the railroads during the ensuing six months will be the greatest on record. The movement of wheat to primary markets is now under full headway, and that of corn will soon be taxing the capacity of the grain-carrying roads. The foreign demand for these products is good, and while the advance in the price during the week tended to check exports, the total is up to the season's average.

Usually the statistics relating to our foreign trade are merely scanned to see how imports compare with exports, and whether the balance is favorable or unfavorable. In the classified statement issued from Washington this week, however, covering the foreign trade movement for September, there is an item which tends to prove that trade is not only large, but that the people are prosperous. The value of articles classed as luxuries which were imported into the United States during the month was $11,751,421, an increase of more than $2,200,000 over the corresponding month last year. When the people of this country can afford to indulge their taste for what are classed as foreign luxuries at the rate of more than $140,000,000 a year, the presumption is that they are in prosperous circumstances.

The money market has returned to an almost normal condition at this season of the year. In New York bankers' balances loaned on call to stock market operators did not get above 7 per cent, and the average was at the legal rate. There was a further contraction in speculative operations, and the month closed on a market relatively free from disturbance. Predictions of gold exports were not fulfilled, and bankers express the hope that our merchandise exports will increase at a rate which will avert gold shipments until such time as currency begins to return from the west and south.

There was a deal of merrymaking on the streets last evening. Some of the costumes were clever, and for the greater part the demonstration kept within the lines of innocent amusement. There were exceptions, as the police records will show. But now it is all over a great many will wonder whether the fun was worth the effort on the part of the mummers, or the risk of injury on the part of the spectators. Those who think not will be free to stay at home another year, and those who like it will try it again. But to all observers one thing was painfully apparent—the lack of space on the downtown streets for all who wanted to participate in or see the carnival, and the ordinary street traffic of an evening. Any mishap that might have caused a panic would have produced a catastrophe on Fifth avenue. It is to be earnestly hoped that more street room will be provided before next Hallowe'en.

In refusing the petition from Philadelphia requesting that one or more of the justices should sit as a court of oyer and terminer in that city on election day, the supreme court assigns excellent reasons. There is little to indicate that Philadelphia will be the scene of anything requiring extraordinary processes. In fact it may well be suspected the petition was merely intended to give color to the Democratic charge that great frauds are planned in that city—a charge that is circulated every year or two to excuse the paucity of Democratic votes in the Quaker city. Election frauds should be punished, whoever commits them, but there is no justice in a hue and cry about frauds that do not exist.

Space is given to another column to a communication from Hon. John F. Dravo, the veteran champion of the river interests. His explanation puts him squarely on the same platform as The Gazette for every means of transportation—an open field and no favor. The only difference is that Mr. Dravo's resentment against a railroad policy of the past continues lively, while The Gazette has forgiven what has passed in the promise of better things for the future. We are glad to note that his attack is not upon any railroad, but solely upon a mistaken policy.

Down to the end of the campaign no Democrat in Pennsylvania has put forward one positive issue. Their campaign has been one of vilification, scolding and abuse, their one plea to be given the reins of government for experimental purposes. Mr. Pattison's two administrations were as negative as this, his third campaign. The one virtue claimed for them is his use of the veto power—the negative of doubtful legislation. Not one positive advantage.

Norway has just received a warship from British yards that averaged a speed of 32.4 knots an hour for three hours. It is a torpedo boat destroyer, with engines of the turbine type. But the thought suggests itself that the United States might well try that type of engine in larger vessels. Pittsburgh can build the engines, if necessary, as it makes the armor plate, and the result should be the most effective war vessels afloat.

It bodes ill for David Bennett Hill's presidential prospects that Democratic papers all over the country refer to his platform plank advocating government ownership of the anthracite coal mines as the work of a cheap demagogue.

With the ringsters yelling fraud and corruption it is well to watch them more closely than ever for the tricks with which they are so obviously familiar.

Such a view of ring methods as was given at the city committee meeting last evening will make many anti-ring votes. It ought to.

Of course the "Muddy Water" party broke in on the festivities, feeling its right as chief of the maskers.

Candidate Barchfeld may live to repent his advocacy of clubs and axes as election adjuncts.

Today will practically complete the period of argument. Then will come the voting.

Attorney General Knox brings the digging of the isthmian canal a little nearer.

Divorces in Pennsylvania.

From the Buffalo Commercial.

Pennsylvania does not intend to be left behind in the procession of divorced sons. In Philadelphia alone in seven months of this year more divorces were applied for than in any previous 12 months. In four years and a half over 8,600 persons joined together in wedlock have found the bonds irksome on one account or another, and have been willing to brave the publicity of the courts to get rid of husband or wife.

OLD IRONMASTER FETED IN GOTHAM

Pioneer in Struggle for American Supremacy Enjoys 80th Birthday.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.

Pittsburgh cannot but be much interested in the birthday dinner held at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight. The occasion is to celebrate the 80th anniversary of the birth of John Fritz, known as the Nestor of American ironworkers, and many of the biggest men in the industrial world were there to help him do it. Pittsburgh furnished some of the guests. Mr. Fritz has seen the manufacture of iron and steel grow from almost nothing in this country into a colossal industry, and has done his full share toward developing it. He is president of the Bethlehem Steel Company. That concern is peculiarly his own, for it was many years ago that he conceived, designed and erected the great forge and armor plate plant at Bethlehem, Pa., which is known the world over. When it began operations its output was inconsiderable; last year it turned out 16,000,000 tons of finished iron and steel. These achievements and others were talked of at the dinner tonight, and when the white-haired guest of honor stood up to tell what he knew of the progress of steel-making in this country the roars of applause startled the waiting cab horses and their sleepy drivers in three thoroughfares around the great hotel. Formal dinners are common in New York, and particularly at the Waldorf-Astoria; but it is doubtful if any held this winter showed more heartiness and friendly interest among the participants than the birthday feast of old John Fritz. As he looked around at the 300 friends gathered to do him honor and to wish him many happy returns of the day he saw men who, like himself, had worked hard for the positions they occupy, and who were just as disposed to be thoughtful as he when they compared present conditions in their business with what they were when John Fritz flung his gauntlet into the industrial arena as a pledge of American supremacy. John Fritz's 80th birthday dinner was something to be remembered for many years, and, moreover, there was nothing in the aspect of the jolly old octogenarian to indicate that he will not have many years of this earth in which to recall it.

Jail Sentences Excite Chauffeurs.

The sentence of six months' imprisonment in the Kings county penitentiary on a chauffeur who smashed into a street car in Yonkers, has set automobilists here a-thinking. More than that, the Automobile Club of America and the National Association of Automobilists have begun action to get the sentence set aside. Appeals will be taken and all the machinery of the law set a-buzzing to keep the automobile owner out of a cell. There is a serious issue involved, because if the courts take to clapping reckless automobilists into the penitentiary, who will be safe? Suppose it should happen to some of the Vanderbilts, for instance, if the speeding of a "White Ghost" or "Red Demon" carries with it threats of a lockstep and cross-barred surtout?

Plenty of Games to Choose From.

Tomorrow will be another big football day. New York is fixed up over the gridiron contests scheduled, and there will be a multitude of football enthusiasts on the special train that will leave New York for Philadelphia about noon. Columbia will tackle the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, and it is expected that a royal game will make things howl in staid old Philadelphia—which, by the way, is not so staid as its reputation. Then there will be other big games within reach of New Yorkers, if they choose to be present. Thus, Yale will be at West Point, the Carlisle Indians at Harvard, and Cornell at Princeton. One thing is certain, very few football lovers of this city will miss some one of the games, their choice depending on their personal affiliations with this or that educational institution represented in the eleven.

Odell's Plurality Put at 37,600.

How desperate is the political battle in this state is shown by the assiduity with which Democratic spellbinders follow Gov. Odell to the places which have listened to his oratory. Divested of all the brag and bluster inseparable from such a hot campaign as this, the success of the Republican ticket seems to be beyond question. The Republican state committee, in an official statement, just issued, puts the plurality of Odell at 37,600, based on a total vote of 1,300,000. Meanwhile, Coler and Bulger are speaking tonight in the Bronx, to offset Odell's address there last evening, while Odell is blazing the way for them by delivering speeches this evening in Brooklyn, Patchogue and Freeport. Coler and his friends will get to these places by Monday, probably.

Kocian Remembers His Countrymen.

Rudolph Aronson announces that he is making arrangements for a special concert to be given in New York, with Kocian, the Bohemian violinist, as the star, the proceeds to be given to the Bohemian poor of Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Milwaukee and other cities where any of that nationality have their abiding places. Bohemians in New York are co-operating, the whole project being the result of a request from Kocian to that end. Of course, the program on that occasion will be made up entirely of Bohemian compositions, in the shape of works by Dvorak, Sevcik and Kocian.

New Theater Opening in Harlem.

Harlemites will be admitted to a new theater in their district on Monday evening. They have been permitted to buy reserved seat tickets for it since Thursday. It is the new West End theater, in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, one block west of Eighth avenue, and is the house in which "Bill the Button Man" is understood to hold a large proprietary interest. The opening attraction will be Alice Fischer, in "Mrs. Jack," a star and play who have bumped about from pillar to post ever since they have been in New York, but who contrive to do a good business, notwithstanding. The play was seen first at the Wallacks; then it went to the Victoria, with Creatore's band as part of the evening's entertainment, and now it is in Harlem.

Park Question in New Jersey.

Those New Yorkers that live in that gloriously fertile and picturesque part of New Jersey known as the Oranges are exercised over the question of parks. The parks in Essex county, where the Oranges are situated, are among the most beautiful in the state. Wealthy people live there, as a rule, and they are there because they enjoy rural surroundings. They have paid a great deal for their parks, and are willing to pay more. One of the most important issues to be decided in that neighborhood on election day is whether another million dollars shall be appropriated for park extension. The probability is that this "ayes" will have it.

Redmond's Mission Financial Success.

John Redmond, the Irish M. P., who makes things lively in the English house of commons, sailed for home today. Appropriately enough, his ship is the Celtic. He said he had a good time in this country, one of the satisfactory things accomplished being the getting under way of a subscription of $100,000 for the "Irish cause." If the ship does not go down, Mr. Redmond probably will be pouring hot shot into the British constitution at Westminster before the end of next week.

Co-Eds Revel With Ghosts.

In the murky shadows of Morningside heights tonight, shrouded figures glide at intervals. Wailings as of lost souls echo through the college campus of Columbia, while the general appearance of Barnard is that of ghastly revelry. The Barnard college girls are celebrating Hallowe'en. It takes a lot of bright girls, all of high spirits—and what might be called, if gallantry permitted, devilry—to do justice to this particular night of spells, omens, visions and witchery. The co-eds made up their mind this should be a real, old-fashioned Hallowe'en, and they are carrying out their purpose at the Teachers' college. Corpse candles, the whirring of witches riding on their besoms, death's head lanterns and blasts of air, cold as if from a charnel house, are rife on the heights, and only an exceptionally brave man dare venture there, unless he happens to be a policeman. There is no doubt that the girls are having a lot of fun, with it all.

Victim of a Telegrapher.

Telegraphic wire blunders are as amusing, sometimes, as those charged against the long-suffering typesetter of the old days. For instance, the Newark detective who arrested Claude L. Stillman, former private secretary of Gov. Murphy of New Jersey, telegraphed to Prosecutor Riker thus: "I have Stillman locked up at police headquarters in New York." But it came off the wire in this wise: "I have still on locked up at police headquarters, New York."

Betting on Molineux's Freedom.

Among men-about-town tonight, betting is two to one that Molineux will be a free man before this time next week.

City Hall Site Rejected.

It was settled today that New York will not have an up-town city hall in Madison square. The Misses Stokes, wealthy women, offered to sell their old mansion there for $100,000, much less than its value, and the board of estimate and apportionment has been considering the offer for some weeks. They have decided against it because the choice of this site would involve the condemnation of the expensive corner of Madison avenue and Twenty-sixth street, now occupied by the Manhattan club. Moreover, the city has other sites already in its possession which would be available and would not be so costly. Another act of the board's today was to reject Police commissioner Partridge's recommendation to condemn property in Longacre square for a site for new police headquarters. The indications are that the old rookery at 300 Mulberry street will be used for this purpose for years to come.

Italians Declare for Odell.

Gov. Odell has another champion where he did not expect it. It is the leading Italian newspaper here, Il Progresso Italo-Americano, which now bears the organ of Italian-speaking New Yorkers for 22 years. The paper, which has always been Democratic, has today an editorial declaring that Gov. Odell is the true friend of the workingman, and that all Italians should vote for him. The Italian vote is a big thing in New York, and it looks as if it were to be thrown to Odell.

Spelling Reform Enforced by Fists.

Two marble cutters in Paterson got into a fight today over an educational question that one might think could be easily solved. They were cutting an inscription on a tombstone, when they disagreed on the spelling of the word "requiem." The man that insisted it should be spelled with a "u" in the middle was the winner of the fisticuffs. In the classic vernacular of Paterson, he "knocked the other fellow's block off."

Waiting for Cheaper Coal.

The price of hard coal in New York continues to be $7.90 a ton. As the weather is not severe, most people are waiting until next week before laying in a supply, in the conviction that it will then come down to $6.50, as the wholesale dealers promise it shall.

New Pastor Known by Pittsburghers.

A minister well known to Pittsburghers, the Rev. Dr. A. Lincoln Moore, pastor of the First Baptist church of Atlantic City, has just been called to the pastorate of the Riverside Baptist church, Ninety-second street and Amsterdam avenue, this city, receiving 94 of the 122 ballots cast at the congregational meeting. Dr. Moore is about 38 years old, a graduate of Yale, and has been at Atlantic City about two years and a half.

Direct Trade With the Orient.

It is announced that a new direct steamship service is to be inaugurated between New York and China and Japan on December 15, when the steamship Hero will sail from this port for Shanghai, Tsingtau, Tien-tsin, Hebe and Yokohama. The Hero is to be followed by other first-class steamships at regular intervals. GEORGE C. JENKS.

MR. DRAVO REPLIES

The Old River Champion Denies Attacking the Railroads.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Beg pardon, Mr. Editor; there was no attack at the Kittanning convention "on railroads" as such. You have been misinformed. Any man of common sense favors existing railroads and as many more as may be necessary to meet the pressing demands of commerce. "Instead of making war upon the overland carriers;" I, in common with all river men, "seek their co-operation" in meeting the wants of commerce, as has been clearly demonstrated in the construction of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the more recent entrance of the Wabash system. If those who occupy high places and exert potent influence in councils and press had been as prompt and as earnest in favoring the newcomer as river men, that great carrying system would now be in position to help in relieving the disastrous freight congestion which is paralyzing the industries of our city.

The attack was on the policy which seeks by all possible devices to obstruct the construction and entrance into our city of other railways so imperiously demanded by existing transportation conditions and the long continued policy of limiting the carrying capabilities of our waterways by narrow and insufficient bridge passage ways and the fencing up great rivers by low bridges, forcing the commerce of a great valley, at tremendous hazards, to worm its way through a mere hole, and during ordinary rise of waters to entirely suspend, thus turning a highway of interstate commerce into a lowway of crippled trade. Such a policy and such a policy alone was attacked, while the liberal policy of broader minded rail management was commended, and I beg to say such attacks will be continued on a policy that seeks to block the way of entrance to our city by any carrying system, and will be continued until a wiser and more liberal policy becomes the established rule of all public carriers by rail or water if the latter is in need of any such broadenings.

PERSONALS.

Dontcho B. Pappazonglon, ancient deputy of the province of Kalsanlik, Bulgaria, is at the Victoria. He represents a firm selling attar of roses to the drug trade of the United States and will go as far west as San Francisco. He stated last night that Bulgaria furnishes the finest roses in the world. About 2,000,000 persons are employed in growing the flowers. In the three mountain districts the flowers are plentiful in May and June, and are then gathered. They are put in bottle-shaped vats and the oils run from them. About 175,000 ounces of the oil is shipped annually to the United States.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John B. Kennedy.

John B. Kennedy died at his home in Wheeler avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was born in Hanoverton, O., July 22, 1822, and came to Pittsburgh when quite young. As a newspaper man he was associated in the publishing of the Alleghenian, with his brother, James W. Kennedy. He afterward published with his brother The Bank Note Review. He owned and started the Chronicle, subsequently disposing of his interest to Charles Knight. Later he alone started the Free Press, which was bought and merged into The Pittsburgh Gazette. Then followed his connection with The Gazette as editor-in-chief. He remained identified with various city newspapers until he became owner and editor of The Alleghenian, which he published from 1857 to 1897. He was one of the original incorporators of the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Street Railway in 1857. He will be buried from his late residence on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Dr. Francis F. Davis.

Dr. Francis F. Davis, the oldest practicing physician in Venango county, dropped dead at Oil City yesterday while making a professional call. Organic heart trouble is attributed as the cause of his death. He was born in Beaver county in 1826, was educated in Beaver academy and read medicine with Dr. Elliot, graduating from the University of Michigan. He served as a surgeon during the civil war with the Sixteenth and One Hundred and Twenty-first regiments, Pennsylvania volunteers. He took an active interest in politics and educational matters, serving as director of the local schools for 21 years. He was a member of the board of pension examiners for this section and began for the Allegheny Valley railroad. He was a member of the city, county and American medical associations and of the American Railway Surgeons' association. His widow and two children survive. The latter are John, a physician, and Miss Fanaie, assistant principal of the high school.

George S. Hunter.

George S. Hester of No. 1212 Poplar street, Allegheny, a member of Company I, Seventh United States Cavalry, died at Lytle, Ga., Thursday. Hester was in the Philippines during the war, at saw some exciting service. He returned home about a year ago, remaining but a short time, his family had preceded him for this period, when they received a telegram yesterday announcing his death. It was known that he returned to the Philippines and it was supposed that he was coming home again.

Hunter's mother and sister, his sole survivors, are prostrated by the shock and do not know any of the particulars concerning his death. He was a machinist by trade and was 24 years old. His body will be brought here for burial.

Funeral of Charles S. Faris.

The remains of Charles S. Faris, who died suddenly at Wilkesbarre, Wednesday night, arrived at East Liberty station yesterday morning and were taken to the home of his brother, Robert S. Faris, No. 1106 Center street, Wilkinsburg, where the funeral service, will be held this afternoon by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Yates, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, of which deceased was a member. The funeral will be in charge of representatives of the Wilkinsburg lodge of B. P. O. Elks.

Dennis Hesson Buried.

Dennis Hesson, the well-known East End contractor, was buried yesterday morning from the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, in Center avenue, East End, where requiem high mass was celebrated by his son, the Rev. Father Patrick J. Hesson, of Latrobe. The Rev. Father Francis Keane, pastor of the church, delivered the eulogy. The pallbearers were Eugene Scanlon, Hugh Murphy, Michael Diebold, P. J. Brady, Francis McKnight and William McCall. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. Michael Haymaker.

Mrs. Anna Murray Haymaker, 45 years old, died suddenly at her home in Swissvale avenue, Edgewood, last evening. While in the kitchen preparing supper. When physicians arrived at the home she was dead. She was the wife of Michael Haymaker, an oil man. The physicians think death was due to apoplexy. She is survived by her husband and several children and her mother.

Mrs. John Glison.

Mrs. Mary Glison, nee McKenzie, wife of John Glison, died yesterday at the family home in Wilmerding, after an illness of two months, from consumption. She was 20 years old and had been married but three months. She was a member of St. Colomba's Roman Catholic church, Turtle Creek. Her husband is a foreman in the Westinghouse airbrake works at Wilmerding.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Israel Naley, aged 71, of Manor, Pa., died yesterday of heart disease.

Murdock McLean, 57 years old, a veteran of the civil war, is dead at his home, No. 25 Forty-fifth street. His wife and one daughter survive.

Mrs. Catherine Canavan, 49 years old, wife of John Canavan, is dead at the family home, No. 428 Dorsey avenue, Braddock. Besides her husband, two sons survive.

Edward C. Perkins, a well-known member of the bar of New York city, died yesterday. He left a widow, who is a daughter of the late William M. Evarts, former secretary of state.

Brice Ray, 61 years old, a well-known dry-goods salesman, is dead at his home, No. 2221 Perrysville avenue. His death occurred at the Presbyterian hospital, Allegheny. His wife and one son survive.

Robert Aiken, 60 years old, a former Pittsburgh business man, is dead at his home at Sumner Hill, Reserve township. He was a native of Ireland, and is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters.

Miss Eleanor Nixon, 75 years old, a sister of the late Capt. Joseph Nixon, is dead at the Nixon homestead, Second and Flowers avenues, Homewood. She was a niece of George Stephenson, the inventor of the locomotive.

William T. Robbins, 59 years old, is dead at his home, No. 533 Washington avenue, Braddock. His mother and one sister survive. He was employed as a clerk at the plant of the American Steel and Wire Company.

Mrs. Leah L. Sunderland, wife of William S. Sunderland, is dead at the family home, No. 925 North St. Clair street, East End. She was a member of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church and its societies. Two sons and a daughter survive.

Mrs. Anna Miles Jeevers, aged 48, died at Parkersburg, W. Va., yesterday, at a hospital where she had been brought from her home at Petroleum, W. Va. She was a cousin of Gen. Nelson A. Miles and was of the prominent Miles family in the Shenandoah valley.

CYCLONE ENDED THE COAL STRIKE

Dr. Kirkland Late of Coxey's Army Issued the Edict.

"CYCLONE"—otherwise Dr. J. M. Kirkland—has come out of the deep silence maintained throughout the coal strike. He now benignly takes the public into his confidence. It was the philosophical doctor who fright ened the king of finance, J. Pierpont Morgan, to put a quietus to the struggle. He says so himself. The doctor had been thinking during the struggle, and at the crucial moment he came forward with an edict to Morgan. The first news of the the identity of the one-man factor in closing the anthracite strike came out in an obscure publication in Pittsburgh. Dewey's news of Manila appeared first in a paper of the Chinese quarter of San Francisco, and Cyclone's in a Pittsburgh publication less, although easier, read. Here it is:

"Pittsburgh, October 12, 1902.

"J. Pierpont Morgan.

"Dear Sir:—The coal strike is one in which I am deeply interested, and shall remain so if it should be an indefinite time. As the champion of labor and the leader of freedom's host, I would advise you to concede to every demand that may be made on the part and by the miners. You do not have the Amalgamated Association of I. and S. Workers to deal with, but men who estimate honor dearer than life. I am arranging to render them all the financial aid they need. I am determined their union must and shall stand if it costs billions of money to maintain it. I can raise the money. My advice to you is to concede at once.

"Respectfully yours,

"DR. J. M. KIRKLAND."
(Cyclone.)

Everybody in Pittsburgh knows Dr. J. M. Kirkland; at least every Iron City citizen knows "Cyclone," and everybody else should. He it is, whenever a great public problem remains unsolved, maintains a silence that is intense for an indefinite period, and then he settles it in his busy mind.

Pennypacker Denounces a Democratic Trick to Estrange Elkin Men.

SPEAKS AT LEBANON, PA

People of the German Lutheran Community Go Wild With Enthusiasm Over Next Governor of the Commonwealth.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEBANON, PA., Oct. 31.—Good old Lebanon county, the land of the sturdy old Lutheran and German reform fathers, never got such a shaking up as she got tonight, when a host of shouting, enthusiastic Republicans cheered the next governor of Pennsylvania, Samuel W. Pennypacker, and justified the predictions of Thomas H. Capp and other Republican leaders that the county will not only give fully 2,000 majority for the Republican state ticket next Tuesday, but will elect a solid Republican delegation to the legislature.

Half the town was at the station when Judge Pennypacker arrived this afternoon, and his march to the Historical society building, where he addressed the teachers' institute, was a triumphal procession of cheers. His arrival at the Eagle hotel was a repetition of the enthusiasm, and crowds besieged the hotel to shake his hand.

The meeting tonight at the Academy of Music was a continual round of enthusiasm, the great audience which packed the building cheering the candidate and other speakers to the echo. Among other speakers were Congressional Candidate M. E. Olmsted, Attorney General Elkin and W. J. Schaffer.

Attorney General Elkin referred with indignation to circulars being distributed, ostensibly by the Democrats, charging that Elkin's friends are crying politics at murder. He branded the circular as a malicious document, and said of it:

"This is the first opportunity I have had to make reply. I did not know there was any such pamphlet in existence. All I know about it now is what I saw in today's evening paper. I want to say to my friends and to the people of Pennsylvania that that pamphlet was not prepared or circulated by any friend of mine, but is the work of an enemy intended to create dissensions in our ranks, in order that Democratic success may be made possible in Pennsylvania."

The attorney general then urged, as he had in almost every corner of the state, all his friends to stand by the grand old Republican party and its standard bearers, and to anchor Pennsylvania in the Republican column.

"Get together, boys," said he, "stand shoulder to shoulder in this fight, and go to the polls next Tuesday and vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom, without a single break."

The candidates tomorrow night will address meetings in Delaware county at Media and Chester, winding up at the great Second Regiment armory meeting in Philadelphia.

AND CITIZENS TO HAVE BIG MEETING

Gathering Under Auspices of South Side Labor League. Dems. in Old City Hall.

One of the largest labor and Citizens' mass meetings of the campaign will be held tonight in the new Turner hall, South Thirteenth street, under the auspices of the South Side Labor league. Previous to the meeting there will be a street parade, which will start from the Citizens' headquarters at Twenty-fifth and Carson streets.

The Democrats and the Citizens party will practically close the oratorical end of their campaign tonight. The Democrats will hold a meeting in Old City hall. The speakers will be George W. Guthrie, Judge John Gay Gordon, J. Burwood Daly, Samuel J. Graham, D. F. Patterson and W. J. Brennen. Charles Fagan will be chairman of the meeting. Democratic clubs will march to the hall. Other Democratic meetings will be held in the Bank hall, Duquesne, and the Opera house, Homestead. On Monday there will be a meeting of the Citizens in favor of the fusion ticket in Temperance hall, Forbes street.

The Citizens party organization of the Thirty-Fifth legislative district will hold a big parade tonight. W. C. Mellor will be the chief marshal.

The party meetings will be held today in the Y. M. C. A. hall, Sharpsburg; Maennerchor hall, Thirty-fifth and Marquette hall, Second avenue; Republican club hall, Pleasant; McGoldrick's Opera house, Fifth avenue, Pitcairn; Edgewood township; Foley's auditorium, West End; Turner hall, South Thirteenth street; McCandless township hall, Oakdale, and Oak-Banksville and Wills station.

The Hostetter Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., Scores Another Victory Against Infringement of Their Trade Mark.

The United States circuit court of appeals of San Francisco, Cal., recently handed down an opinion affirming the decision of Judge Morrow of the United States circuit court of San Francisco, who had granted a perpetual injunction against Samuels Bros. & Co., who, with a large number of other dealers on the Pacific coast, had been engaged for some time past in making and selling a counterfeit article purporting to be Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and advising purchasers to obtain the genuine bottle of The Hostetter Company with the label affixed, selling them with their goods, and selling same as the genuine article.

This comprehensive decision being final, prohibits all unfair dealers from manufacturing or selling any article of Stomach Bitters, either in bulk, or by the gallon or otherwise, or in any way making use of the name HOSTETTER, except in connection with the sale of the genuine article, and also prohibits the sale of any Bitters in bulk, though the name HOSTETTER be not used, if the suggestion and advice is made to the purchaser, that he shall put the article into the genuine empty HOSTETTER bottle and sell them for the genuine HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

This decision establishes The Hostetter Company in the exclusive use of the name HOSTETTER, and its ownership in the trade mark, and thefe rules in connection with either the manufacture or sale of Stomach Bitters in any manner whatsoever.

The Citizens' candidates are all clean men; nobody has yet found anything upon which to attack them.

SPEECH OF REED IS CHOKED OFF

Discord Behind the Scenes at Pattison Meeting in Philadelphia.

JUDGE GORDON'S WORK

Refused Obstinately to Speak Unless the Former State Librarian, Who Wished to Eulogize Stone and Elkin, Was Suppressed.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Few of the many hundred people in the Academy of Music tonight knew of the lack of harmony among the Democratic actors. Little did they surmise that Dr. George Edward Reed, who sat on the stage, had a typwritten speech in his pocket that ex-Judge James Gay Gordon said could not be delivered. The Methodist divine, college president and state librarian, was thus forced to become an auditor rather than one of the chief orators.

Reed had hoped to lift his voice in behalf of Pattison and at the same time in defense of Stone and Elkin. With great care he had prepared a denunciation of Quay and Quayism, and although he made two attempts to unload it upon the public, he failed in both.

Having got an inkling that Gordon had refused to do his stunt tonight if a representative of the Stone administration was to appear on the same stage, the doctor figured that he would orate at Media, Delaware county. He was to meet Pattison at the Broad street station, but either by design or accident the ex-governor missed him. Reed then went to the Academy of Music, only to hear hot shot poured into the men he had hoped to defend.

Gordon Hard to Manage.

Judge Gordon and Pattison were close friends during the first administration of the ex-governor. Since then they have been far apart. It was not an easy task to get Gordon to speak in behalf of Pattison, and when he did consent, it was with the understanding that he was to be the boss of the meeting. When Reed made his eleventh hour flop, and it was announced that he would speak in Philadelphia for Pattison, Gordon told City Chairman Donnelly that if Reed spoke he could be counted out. Gordon said he intended to say some plain things about Reed's friends, and thought that the ex-librarian would be out of place on the same platform. So the chairman of the meeting was instructed that Reed must not be introduced.

There was a large crowd as the Academy of music. Pattison had been at Media, as he was the last speaker of the evening.

George W. Guthrie was the first speaker. He was given a rousing ovation and made a scholarly address. He was followed by James Nolan, who gave the crowd every funny story in his kit.

Another Soured Republican.

Penrose McClain, a disgruntled Republican, who wanted a continuation of federal pie and was turned down, made a speech which served to drive people from the hall.

Gordon was the fourth actor. He made a great effort to show that in this campaign Republicans and Democrats should vote together. He even lauded Roosevelt, and said the country is perfectly safe in his hands. Then he made this remark, which is a rather doubtful compliment for Pattison:

"If you elect Pattison, he cannot claim his election as a partisan victory, and I know that Mr. Guthrie is a man of too much honor to stand on a state issue platform and repudiate after election."

Gordon then half turned toward Dr. Reed and started his denunciation of Stone and Elkin. Of Elkin he said:

"Elkin is responsible for every crime laid to the door of the last legislature."

Of Pattison, Gordon had this to say: "We have twice named him governor. Of his first administration, I am closely informed. He would have blundered, as Democrats are prone to do; but he was honest. I am not so familiar with his second administration."

As Gordon finished Pattison walked on the stage and the crowd howled. He made his same old speech.

The Democratic campaign closes tomorrow night. Pattison, and probably Dr. Reed, will speak in Wilkesbarre, while Guthrie and Gordon talk in Pittsburgh.

Thrown From Traction Car.

Charles Riley of Glenwood was seriously injured yesterday by being thrown from a United traction car at Eighth street and Braddock avenue, Braddock, while going to his home at Glenwood. Being unable to secure a seat, he stood between the seats on the open car. A switch had been left open at Eighth street, and as the car swung around Eighth street at a high speed the jolt threw Riley from his position. He suffered concussion of the brain.

Miles Disembarks at Manila.

MANILA, Oct. 31.—Gen. Miles, who reached here yesterday on the United States transport Thomas, disembarked this morning. A salute in his honor was fired from Fort Santiago. Gen. Miles has accepted Gov. Taft's invitation to live at Malacanan palace while here.

Verona Postoffice Robbed.

Thieves early Friday morning cracked the safe in the Verona postoffice and secured over $100 in cash and a large quantity of stamps. It was evident that the culprits were experienced in the business. This is the second time in two years that the office had been robbed.

PLEA FOR CHEAPER MEAT.

Best Beef Sells at 44 Cents a Pound in Germany.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Increasing pressure is brought to bear on the government for something which will afford relief from the excessive prices of meat.

The magistracy of Berlin, in a petition to the government, says that if the prices of meat continue high the salaries of city employes must be raised. The best beef retails at 44 cents a pound and other meats are proportionately high. The people who advocate government action assert that the scarcity of animals is due to the closed frontiers and the exclusion of foreign-dressed meats.

Tenth Regiment Returns.

Members of the Tenth regiment arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning from the anthracite coal fields. With few exceptions the men were in good condition. Little time was spent in this city, as all were in a hurry to return to their homes in nearby towns. A portion of the train as it was made up at Shamokin was sent over the southwest division to Connellsville and vicinity.

SCHOOL ELEVEN PUT UP FINE FOOTBALL

NEW TWO-MILE MARK WAS SET BY CRESCEUS

SHADYSIDE WON THE ANNUAL GAME

Defeated the High School Eleven 5 to 0 After a Bitter Contest.

SOME LIVELY SCENES

Enthusiasm ran riot yesterday afternoon at Friendship park, where, amid stirring school yells and a gorgeous intermixture of football colors, the Shady Side academy team defeated Pittsburgh high school 5 to 0, before the largest crowd that ever attended an interscholastic contest on a local gridiron.

The game was by long odds the best of the many that have been battled between the rivals of the interscholastic field. Not only was the crowd of 2,000 the largest, but the spirit of clean play and thorough sportsmanship, displayed by the elevens contesting and the rooters in attendance, was exceedingly pleasing.

The Crowd Was Enthusiastic.

The crowd was a representative and enthusiastic one and included all grades of those who take an interest in school sports, from the fathers, sisters and sweethearts of the players to the lovers of good football, who were there purely to see a hard fought game between strictly amateur teams.

The contest was a minor representation of one of the big college games and bore more of the features which attend the great contests of the east, than any gridiron battle which has been decided in Pittsburgh this season. The grandstand presented a gay appearance, with the bright costumes of the school girls, mingled with streamers and banners of the two schools, and a plentiful supply of chrysanthemums.

Traps and turnouts were there in sufficient plentitude to carry out the idea of a big school football battle, and one of the pony carts created amusement and diversion at one point of the game by its course directly across the gridiron, in spite of the referee, policemen and struggling players, until a vantage point along the side line was gained.

A pitched battle took place immediately after the contest for the possession of the ball. Arthur Poe, of fame earned on greater gridirons, seized the ball and in the wild struggle which followed was the hero of the moment. Shady Side had earned the pigskin and its determined efforts to regain it from the nervy little Poe soon developed what threatened to become a rough scrimmage. Many of the crowd thought a fight was on and pushed the policemen so strenuously that the coppers at one time were forced to use their maces.

Poe Fought His Way Out.

To the surprise of all, the small-sized Poe managed to work his way out of the struggling crowd of 500 and scrambled up the side of the grandstand, with the ball in his arms. One Shady Side man dragged at his leg as Poe was pulled up over the 14-foot wall by the high school rooters above. There he perched, smiling, while the crowd cheered him.

Big Jim Lalus, the coach of the high school team, walked over, procured the ball from Poe and carried it to the Shady Side bus, restoring the air of good feeling which had prevailed throughout the contest.

The game itself was a virtual victory for High School, as the enthusiastic Shady Side supporters had been betting on a score of from 20 to 30 points. Before the game not even a High School man would bet that his team would win, yet High School decidedly outplayed Shady Side in the second half. The only score of the game, made two minutes after the start of the first half, was on a fumble by Jackson of High School on the kick-off. Shady Side thus secured the ball on the 20-yard line and quickly rushed it over before High School could get its breath. To say the least, it was a lucky score.

High School Took a Brace.

In the latter part of this half High School braced and during the second half the play was almost entirely in Shady Side territory. The academy could do nothing with the High School line and the public school boys repeatedly broke through and blocked Williams' punts. High School suffered much by fumbling, however, while Williams outclassed Jackson in punting. With a full back able to hold Williams on punts, High School should have scored in the second half, as the ball was repeatedly forced to within 20 or 30 yards of the goal, only to be lost on a fumble or relinquished on a weak punt.

The high school star was Lauderbaugh, left guard, who was a team in himself. His tackling was fierce and he often got an opponent for a loss. Once he caught Williams on his shoulders and carried him back for a loss of five yards. Shady Side's star was Capt. Donnelly, who played a fine game all the way. The score and line-up:

Shadyside—5.		High School—0.
Miller	L. E.	Crookston
Dwyer	L. T.	Nichol
Kaufmann	L. G.	Lauderbaugh
Davis	Center	Campbell
Donnelly	R. G.	Palmer
McCutcheon	R. T.	Diebold
Brooks	R. E.	Harmon
Sloan	Q. B.	Bauer
Price	L. H.	Belch
Abl	R. H.	Patterson
Williams	F. B.	Jackson

Touchdown—Donnelly. Missed goals—Williams. Referee and umpire—Arthur Poe, Dr. M. Roy Jackson. Time of halves—25 minutes.

WILL BE HOT FIGHT.

Grove City and Allegheny Teams Meet Today.

GROVE CITY, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Allegheny college will be the attraction at Athletic park tomorrow and a warm argument is expected, although the local collegians expect to win despite the fact that several of their players are still suffering from injuries received in last Monday's game with Westminster.

Several changes will be made in the lineup of the team, as a result of which it is thought that it will be greatly benefited. Viebahn has been shifted from tackle to center and Williams's in Viebahn's position at tackle. Mile Mast will take Craig's position at right halfback.

WILL MEET STRONG FOE.

Westminster Team Is Ready to Meet Geneva Eleven.

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The Westminster eleven expect the hardest game of the season when it will meet the undefeated Geneva team on Athletic field. A strong scrub eleven has given the 'varsity hard practice all week and there is an impression afloat that Geneva will be held down to a closer score than in Wednesday's game with W. U. P. Westminster thus far has played six games, winning three, tying two, and losing one.

The Johnstown Races.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Six heats and an unfinished race was the result of the 2:20 pace at Roxbury park this afternoon. Red Star being a favorite when the race was continued over until tomorrow. Five horses have taken heats in this event. The 2:25 was also unfinished, while the 2:24 pace was fought hard to a finish, Baron Belle proving to be a stayer. The winners were: 2:24 pace, Baron Belle, best time, 2:21¼; 2:25 trot, Korol, best time, 2:24¼.

FINAL DRILLS FOR THE COLLEGE TEAMS

There Will Be Some Hard Struggles on the Big Gridirons Today.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 31.—Yale's football warriors had a signal drill of 15 minutes, a 10-minute playing half and a 15-minute practice in catching kicks this afternoon as a final preparation for the West Point match tomorrow. The work was open, but few were present, as it was reported that no line-up would take place. The scrubs surprised the regulars by taking the ball at their one-yard line on a fumble by Ward and rushing it back to the center of the field on a set of trick double passes. The varsity left here tonight for New York. They will go up the Hudson tomorrow morning. They will face the cadets as follows: Left end, Wilhelmi; left tackle, Kinney; left guard, Glass; center, Holt; right guard, Goss; right tackle, Hogan; right end, Shevlin; quarterback, Metcalf; left halfback, Chadwick; right halfback, Ward; fullback, Farmer.

Tigers' First Secret Practice.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The first secret practice of the season was given the Tiger football players this afternoon in preparation for the game with Cornell. There was no scrimmage work, only signal and formation drills being given, so that the men might be fresh for tomorrow. Dewitt punted unusually well.

Harvard Ready for Indians.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—But little work was done by the Harvard squad today. A couple of light halves were played, with a filling of brief signal work. The Carlisle Indians arrived early. The men look a little heavier than they did last year, and Coach Glen Warner says that, as a matter of fact, they do weigh a few pounds more. Harvard, however, will be very much the heavier team on Soldier's field tomorrow afternoon.

The Indians are stronger than they were last year, whereas Harvard, at this stage of the season, is not quite so formidable. Last year the score was 29 to 0, in Harvard's favor. This year it should be much closer.

Pennsy Given Light Practice.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Pennsylvania is exceedingly hopeful in her game with Columbia tomorrow, and the eleven is in better physical condition than at any time this season. Coach Williams was not very exacting in the practice on Franklin field this afternoon, it being entirely perfunctory in character. As on the eve of all big games, the team was drilled in signals, and the candidates go into tomorrow's struggle with one exhortation—that to win. A huge mass meeting was held tonight in the triangle of the dormitories and Penn's old college spirit found vent in cheers and yells. Speeches were made by Coaches Williams, Hedges and Bull and Captain Gardiner.

DENIED BY SIR THOMAS.

Says Work on Yacht Was Not Started Before the Challenge.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Sir Thomas Lipton read with keen interest the announcement of the steps taken to build a new defender for the America's cup and immediately telegraphed its gist to William Fife, the yacht designer. When Sir Thomas went over the names of those composing the American syndicate he said:

"Well, that certainly is formidable, and it looks like business."

He added, jokingly: "The first thing I do today will be to see how my balance stands at the bank."

Regarding the reports that work on the new Shamrock was commenced before the challenge was sent Sir Thomas said:

"I wish to say most emphatically that not a stroke of work was done until the challenge was received in New York. The designs, of course, had previously been drawn up, but the builders only received the order for the yacht's construction the day the New York Yacht club was notified of my intention to try again. Any other course would have been an attempt to take an unfair advantage. I am not in the habit of doing that."

Messrs. Fife and Watson are both likely to go to New York with the challenger.

FILLED WITH FUMBLES.

Purdue Won a Slow and Tiresome Football Contest.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Inexcusable fumbling on the part of the Northwestern university football team was responsible for its defeat here today by the eleven from Purdue university. Purdue won 5 to 0.

The game was slow throughout and full of mistakes on both sides. Neither side was able to score during the first half. Late in the second half the ball was picked up by McManus of Purdue, who made a 25-yard run for a touchdown, but Purdue failed to kick goal.

Turtle Creek Team Won.

At Turtle Creek yesterday afternoon the Union High School eleven of Turtle Creek defeated the Homestead High School team 11 to 0.

The Best Property on the Market.

On another page of this issue will be found an announcement of the opening sale of Bellevue Park lots. The sale of these choice lots is scheduled to take place this afternoon. There are only a limited number of lots left to be sold. The lots are large and perfectly level, and are situated in the extreme center of the borough. The selling prices range from $100 to $800. They are sold on the easy payment plan. The advantages, improvements and representative values of Bellevue property are familiar to nearly everyone. Therefore a description of them would be quite unnecessary. To appreciate this property it is necessary to look it over thoroughly. That will convince anyone that Bellevue Park is a city of homes in itself. Bellevue Park is the most inviting real estate proposition on the market today.

CRESCEUS BEAT TWO MILE RECORD

Great Trotter Lowered the Mark from 4:28 1-4 to 4:17.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEMPHIS, Oct. 31.—Cresceus, the great son of Robert McGregor, made good his claim to championship honors this afternoon at the driving park in a remarkable exhibition of speed and stamina. The horse was sent against the world's two-mile trotting record of 4:28¼, held by Onward Silver, and completed the circuit twice without a break in 4:17 flat, clipping 11¼ seconds off the former record. Both the horse and Mr. Ketcham, who drove him, received an ovation from the large crowd present.

Today's program, the last of the meeting, was an extra one, and good racing was the order of the day. Cresceus appeared shortly after 3 o'clock, and after scoring twice, Ketcham nodded for the word. Accompanied by a runner Cresceus went to the quarter in 33 seconds. At the half the timers hung out 1:06¼, and the three-quarters pole was passed in 1:39. Straightening out for the wire, Ketcham sent him along at a lively clip, the mile being reeled off in 2:10½. At the mile and a quarter, Cresceus seemed to increase his speed, and the post was passed in 2:41¾, and the mile and a half was made in 3:13. The last three-quarter pole was passed in 3:45 and the two-miles was covered in 4:17. Cresceus trotted the last mile faster than the first. He covered the two miles 7½ seconds faster than the pacing record, made by Nervola.

Another brilliant performance was that of Prince Alert, who went against the pacing record for geldings of 2:00¾, made by himself. Driven by Demarest, the horse moved away like clockwork, reaching the quarter in :29¾, the half in :59, the three-quarters in 1:29½, and beating the former record by three-quarters of a second, the time for the mile being 2:00 flat. Summaries:

COTTAGE TEAM TO MEET STARS

The Homewood Eleven Had Fine Practice and Promises a Stiff, Hard Contest.

Cottage is ready for the big game this afternoon. Every player was on hand last night and for an hour light signal practice was indulged in. After practice the team listened to words of advice by Coach Hill. He cautioned the men against slugging or using any unnecessary tactics to delay the game and urged that they strain every nerve to hold the score down and to score.

A special from Greensburg says the Stars had snappy practice for their game with the Cottage eleven. Captain Richardson was called to Pittsburgh on business and Datz Lawler acted as captain during his temporary absence. Lawler put the boys through lively and everybody had his turn in the line-up, all the plays being put into operation. The pingpong basket ball game was the "fiercest yet," and after one and one-half hours the contest closed with Barney's pony team the winner, 12 to 2. The teams will line up probably as follows:

Pittsburgh.	Position.	Cottage.
Miller	L. E.	Hoban
McNulty	L. T.	Horn
McCutcheon	L. G.	Best
Shiring	Center	Spratt
Lawler	R. G.	McGinnis
Laing	R. T.	Hall
Schmutz	R. E.	Wright
Richardson	Q. B.	Miller
MacSheney	L. H.	Hill
Crollus	R. H.	Keuth
Ellis	F. B.	Maxwell

PLATER WON AND CAUSED TROUBLE

Reversal of Form Caused Judges to Bar Out the Stable.

TWO FAVORITES WIN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—After Plater, an added starter, quoted at 6 to 1, had won the Lynbrook handicap for 2-year-olds, at Aqueduct today, President Reilly ordered that all entries from the stable of A. L. Aste be refused. His action was taken on Plater's race of Wednesday, when he was an 8 to 5 favorite and finished away back in the ruck.

Today Plater had plenty of speed, and getting off in front, made all the running and won easily by one and one-half lengths from the outsider, Lady Albercraft, who was one length in front of Lyman Hay. A. L. Aste, when seen after the races, said he would be able to account for the horse's form. Syrily and Oom Paul were the winning favorites. Summaries:

BEAVER FALLS RACES.

Sir Thomas Won Match Event from Ingomar.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—The matinee races and the match race between the pacing gelding Sir Thomas, owned by J. E. Boyle of New Brighton, and Ingomar, owned by Edward Carr of Rochester, Pa., under the auspices of the Beaver Valley Driving club at Morado park this afternoon drew a large and brilliant assemblage. The match event, was for $250 a side, and as the most intense feeling existed between the friends of the rival horses the betting was very lively at even figures and much money changed hands. The event was won by Sir Thomas in three straight heats; the last heat both horses crossed the wire neck and neck. Summary:

Time, 2:23, 2:21½, 2:20.

A summary of the matinee races is as follows:

Time, 2:22½, 2:22¼.

TO BUILD SOUTH PENN.

Engineers in Close Touch Say Pennsy Will Do It Now.

Engineers who worked on the old South Penn surveys say there are indications that the Pennsylvania railroad will take up these surveys and build that road. One engineer said yesterday that he is certain that three years will see the old line built.

The activity of the Gould interests and the growing necessity for the Pennsylvania to have greater facilities for its through business are responsible for the revival of the project.

Keen Interest in the Pass Question.

In view of the fact that the western and southwestern lines renewed the agreement of last year in regard to exchange passes, the action of the railroads in central and trunk line territory is being watched with much interest. Much bitterness developed during the year among the western lines regarding the action of the eastern roads, which have lines in both central and trunk line territory. The conference committee of the western lines, headed by Darius Miller, is to report the plans of the trunk lines at a meeting in St. Louis on December 2.

Axes and clubs at the polls are not on the Citizens party program. But don't let the ring threat to use them keep you from voting for honest, orderly conduct of public affairs. Advt.

Wabash's Ohio Work in Good Shape.

"The Ohio work of the Wabash is progressing in a thoroughly satisfactory manner," said T. H. Loomis, engineer in charge of thisconstruction, who was in Pittsburgh yesterday. "Work is well under way on every section in the 20 miles between the Ohio river and Lowell, where the connection with the Wheeling & Lake Erie is made. I would not like to say when the whole will be completed. There are too many conditions that may arise to change this, but there is no scarcity of labor and the present rate of progress is excellent."

Time-Card Meetings Next Week.

Thursday of next week the time-card meeting of the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, will be held, and on the next day the same meeting for the southwest system will take place. There will be few changes, no new through trains will be added. The coming of winter, when bad weather seriously interferes with the running of trains, would prevent this, even if there were not a still worse condition facing the Pennsylvania, like all other Pittsburgh lines, in the freight congestion.

"Turn the rascals out." Mismanagement and favoritism in the pubic offices have gone beyond the point of toleration. Vote for the Citizens ticket and a fair deal. Advt.

Dickinson Leaves Union Pacific.

Edward Dickinson, general manager of the Union Pacific, will, on January 1, become general manager of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad, the great Stillwell project which has attracted so much attention for two years. Mr. Dickinson was born at Cumberland, Md., and is well known in this city. For a year previous to 1891 he was superintendent of the Trans-Ohio division of the Baltimore & Ohio.

New Coast to Coast Record.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—With the inauguration Sunday of the Golden State Limited between Los Angeles and Chicago, over the Southern Pacific and Rock Island railroads, the time from coast to coast will be reduced to 58 hours. The limited will reach Chicago in time to connect with the 29-hour trains for New York.

Ring rule was scotched but not killed at the city election. Finish the work at the county election by voting the Citizens ticket. Advt.

Railroad Notes.

R. H. Hurd, who has for two years been a clerk in the office of the district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, has resigned to go with a jewelry company.

Oscar G. Murray, vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio, and George Randolph, of the traffic department of that road, have returned from a three months' trip to Europe.

Capt. Charles G. Cadwallader has been appointed ticket agent at the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania lines in Philadelphia. He succeeds S. H. Wallace, retired, whose assistant he has been for a number of years.

Pennsylvania officials expect to have the new westbound classification yard between Altoona and Tyrone completed by January 1. The yard is five miles long. The receiving yard will have eight tracks, each 3,600 feet long. All the movements will be by gravity. There will be a total trackage of 40 miles.

Excursion to Wheeling Tomorrow.

Train leaves B. & O. R. R. depot 8:10 a. m. Fare $1.50 round trip.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE OLD B., B. & K. NARROW GAUGE FAILS TO PAY INTEREST ON BONDS

"There is no plan on to turn any part of the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua railroad into an electric line; nor is there any other new purpose being worked out," said George L. Roberts, president of the road, yesterday, at his office in the Park building.

Based on the fact that the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua failed to pay in October the semi-annual interest due on its bonds, various rumors have been started as to the means that will be taken to make the road a good investment. "We have not yet had time to look around," President Roberts said. "An adjourned meeting of the board will be held in New York tomorrow, at which all the plans will come up, if we can secure a quorum. This in itself is difficult."

The capital stock of this road is $249,000 and bonds to the same amount are outstanding. The greater part of the bonds are owned by the stockholders, so that there is little liability of the bondholders becoming drastic in their demands. The road has not been paying dividends upon the stock, but until the past month it has met the interest on the bonds. It is a narrow-gauge line.

"Too much competition has been the undoing of the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua," said Mr. Roberts. "When the road was organized, years ago, by interests prominent in the Erie railroad at the time, it had the territory almost to itself. Now it has the Pennsylvania, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern and the Kushequa railroads as competitors."

Less than a year ago the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua leased from the Pittsburgh & Western that portion of the latter road that is narrow gauge, running from Foxburg to Kane, and longer than the leasing road itself. The terms of the lease allow, however, a quick re-transfer to the owning company at the option of either party.

In this connection the need of the Clarion county people for railroad facilities is emphasized. It is said that serious consideration is being given to the advisability of issuing a poster in that section, reading something like this: "Wanted—A railroad, operated by steam or electricity—anything to save this corner of the world from complete isolation."

Since the old bridge on the Pittsburgh & Western narrow-gauge railroad was condemned, Clarion has been isolated. Its nearest station is Clarion Junction, three miles distant. The highways are bad and in the winter it will be practically impossible for wagons and hacks to make the journey without almost insurmountable difficulties. The rumor is credited in that county that in November the old narrow-gauge line now operated by the Bradford, Bordell & Kinzua under lease may be abandoned, and many persons are urging the people of Clarion and the surrounding country to take a hand, and if possible have it altered to an electric line. The people are in earnest and a public meeting in the near future to indorse the plan is very probable.

Business administration of public affairs cannot be secured by electing political hacks to public office. There are none of that kind on the Citizens ticket. They are all reputable citizens with business training. Advt.

EW WAGE SCALE TO START TODAY

bitration Commission's An-ouncement to Allow More Time for Deliberation.

ECOND DAY IN MINE

n. Wilson Leads in Asking Questions of Men at Work. Preliminary Report Is Expect-d on Chief Features.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]
SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 31.—The first portant action by the anthracite coal ike commission was taken today when was announced by Carroll D. Wright, recorder of the commission, that if y award affecting the existing rate of ges shall be made, the award shall e effect tomorrow.

It was fully expected that this question uld come up before the arbitrators, but action of the commissioners shuts any possible controversy that either y may have desired to raise. The announcement of the commission was con-ned in the following brief resolution:

Voted, unanimously, that if the commission, at the conclusion of its hearings and liberations, makes any award affecting exing rates of wages, such awards shall take ect from November 1, 1902.

Time for Deliberation.

Accompanying the resolution was a ief statement made by Recorder right, in which he says:

The resolution was adopted by the commission because it felt that it was important to make its investigations deliberately, so that it might be well, in order to remove itself from pressure from any source which might cause undue haste, to inform the operators and the miners that should the estigation and the deliberations following warrant any change whatever either in ms of decrease or reduction of wages, h change should be from a certain date, enabling all parties to facilitate their culations.

he commission spent the day continu-g their inspection of the mines and ds about Scranton. They visited the ville colliery in the forenoon and the noon was spent in riding through the on on a special trolley car.

May Be Preliminary Report.

is possible the commission may make eliminary report on three of the principal strike questions. They are the increase in wages, a shorter work day and weighing of coal. After these have decided the commission can take up other questions without undue haste. he commissioners were under ground for two hours and a half. Recorder ght did not accompany the party, ing to a pressure of other work. he arbitrators asked numerous questions of all men they encountered in the ngways or chambers, and did not seem mind the discomfiture of the trip. The nville is said to be one of the worst nes in this region. The veins are not re than three feet thick and the miner s a more difficult time in getting the l out than where the seam is thicker.

Questions for Miners.

he commissioners presented a novel ture as they sat around with flaming ps in their hands, listening to the ny digger giving his testimony. The ner was asked how much he made a , how much per car of coal he was able get out, how many hours he worked, at he paid his helper, how much he de per month before the strike, and rous other questions that might give commissioners some idea how to pro-. Gen. Wilson was the chief inator. The representatives of the opers and the two representing the ers interjected questions to bring out ts favorable to their respective sides. Taylor, Dunmore and Throop, three all mining towns outside of Scranton, visited to view the homes and surndings of the mine workers.

At Wilkesbarre Today.

he commission will go to Wilkesbarre morrow morning, leaving here at 8 ck. The Prospect colliery of the ith Valley Coal Company in North kesbarre will be inspected, and a trip Plymouth and other mining towns in Nanticoke will be made. The commis-n will return here in the evening and nd Sunday.

NEW CASTLE PEOPLE USING SPRING WATER

Six Physicians Appointed to Solve Question of Pure Supply

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 31.—The question of a pure water supply for this city has been left with a committee of six physicians who are to report to councils upon the various plans suggested. The report of Prof. Aschman that the Shenango river water is unfit for domestic use, has created great anxiety.

The health board last night asked Dr. H. E. Zerner, president of the Lawrence County Medical society, and Dr. John Foster, president of the Physician's Club, to select four others to assist them in studying the Aschman report and suggest a remedy.

Prof. Aschman conducted an elaborate system of experiments, covering four months, in coming to his conclusion. The fact that he attributes the prevalence of typhoid fever to the water, caused so much alarm that many people are having spring water delivered to their homes.

Last night Chairman Kent of the health board advocated drilling artesian wells. He said that recently he noticed that even the horses refused to drink from the river. Dr. Zerner and Dr. Foster today appointed Dr. Charles A. Reed, City Physician W. H. Hay, Dr. R. G. Miles and Dr. Montgomery Linville to assist in finding a remedy.

LOSS ABOUT $125,000 IN THE SHARON FIRE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
SHARON, PA., Oct. 31.—Four blackened and tottering roofless brick walls are all that remain of Sharon's magnificent $100,000 theater. In less than three hours the fire, which started early yesterday morning, practically destroyed the entire building, stocks of goods on the ground floor and caused a property loss estimated at $125,000. Notwithstanding the heavy loss, James G. Morgan and his son, L. S. Morgan, proprietor of the Morgan hotel at South Sharon, who were the owners of the opera house, announce that they are ready to rebuild.

If the state inspector decides that the walls that are still standing are secure they will not be razed. Another plan which the projectors figured upon is to convert the old block into an office building and build a new theater in North Water street, where they own a large lot.

The losses are given as follows: On building, stage settings, furnishings and fixtures, $100,000, insurance $16,000; Guy Steele, drug store, $8,000, insurance, $2,500; Scotch Woolen Mills Clothing Company, $12,000, insurance $3,500; W. E. Slaughenhaupt, shoe dealer, $10,000, partly covered by insurance; Albert Brady, jeweler, $12,000, insurance $1,000. The latter had his most valuable jewelry locked in a fire proof safe and it was not damaged.

The entire stock of goods in the lower floor is entirely ruined by fire and water. The cause of the fire is not known. It is generally believed, however, that some one leaving the building last night after the show threw a burning match on the floor after lighting a cigar.

The opera house was built in 1899 at a cost of about $100,000. It was a four-story buff brick structure and one of the largest in the city. The interior was patterned after the Grand opera house in Pittsburgh.

Resignation Follows Divorce.

LORAIN, O., Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Following close upon the sensation caused by the stepdaughter of the Rev. C. L. Collins participating in dances, which caused the separation of the minister and his wife, comes his resignation from the pastorate of the First Baptist church. The action is directly attributed to the separation of the Rev. Mr. Collins from his wife and he will endeavor of secure a charge in another city. The official body of the church passed resolutions expressing confidence in him.

BOY TAKEN TO PRISON ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Lyman Loucks, of Scottdale, Arrested By Greensburg Constable

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
SCOTTDALE, PA., Oct. 31.—Constable George W. Huff of Greensburg, this afternoon arrested Lyman Loucks on a charge of murder, preferred by James C. Huffman of Belmont. The warrant was issued by Justice Jacob Hoffer of Greensburg. Huffman is the uncle of Benjamin Barnest, who was shot and killed on Wednesday evening.

Huffman was not satisfied with the action of Coroner Wynn in releasing Loucks on $20,000 bail.

Constable Huff took young Loucks to Greensburg this evening and was accompanied by David Loucks, the boy's father, and his grandfather, Jacob Loucks.

Dressers of Rare Beauty

It is a matter of fact that more attention is paid to style in furniture nowadays than ever before. And, of course, the more that people discriminate in these things the better are they served.

The pith of this proposition is apparent to anyone who visits this store and looks over the various phases of art manifested in furniture for all purposes. Dressers in particular are interestingly different from those of former times. And the best part of it all is that the advance in style has not been accompanied by an advance in price—at least, not in this establishment. Price is always consistently moderate here.

SYRUP OF FIGS

Acts Pleasantly;
Acts Beneficially;
Acts truly as a Laxative.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially.

MOLINEUX TALKS IN OWN DEFENSE

Every Point Registered Against Him Is Denied by Prisoner on the Stand.

HE ADMITS ONE LETTER

Says He Got Blue Crescent Paper at Waldorf-Astoria—His Story Unshaken by District Attorney.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct 31.—Roland B. Molineux took the witness stand today to testify in his own defense against the charge of murdering Mrs. Katherine J. Adams. In response to the questions of his counsel, ex-Gov. Black, he declared his absolute innocence of any part or knowledge of the crime and categorically denied that he had written the Barnet and Cornish letters; that he had ever made cyanide of mercury, or that he had ever seen the silver bottle holder in which the poison was sent until it was exhibited in court.

He admitted having written and signed with his own hands one letter, asking for a certain patent remedy on the famous blue interlaced crescent paper, identical with that on which the Cornish letters were written, and said that he procured the paper at the Waldorf-Astoria. His bitter differences with Cornish, which resulted in his leaving the Knickerbocker Athletic club, were related by Molineux without any apparent reserve.

The witness sustained unmoved a rigorous cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Osborne, answering readily all questions as to his past life, his relations with Cornish and Barnet and the efforts he and other members of the club had made to discover anyone who had a common enmity to the two named.

The feature of the cross-examination was Mr. Osborne's successful effort to place before the jury the substance of the testimony given at the first trial by Mamie Melando and Detective Farrell, but excluded by Justice Lambert. This was accomplished by the expedient of framing a series of questions relative to statements purporting to have been made by the witnesses outside of their testimony, but practically covering every essential feature of it, to which frequent and vehement objections were made by Mr. Black.

Throughout his examination and cross-examination Molineux preserved an unruffled and confident demeanor, answering all questions promptly and even smiling occasionally when replying to his own counsel.

The announcement that a defense would be made, none having been undertaken at the first trial, and that Molineux himself would face his accuser, drew an immense throng to the court room. In the afternoon so great was the crush that police reserves were called to preserve order, and Justice Lambert himself had the utmost difficulty in forcing a passage through the crowd into the court room.

NEW TRUST COMPANY, CAPITAL $1,500,000

Pennsylvania Life and Trust May Build Skyscraper in Downtown Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh is soon to have another trust corporation to be known as the Pennsylvania Life and Trust Company. It is promoted by Porter & Porter, who have enlisted the support of many successful business men. It will have a paid-up capital of $1,500,000, of which all but $70,000 is said to be subscribed.

No location has been selected, but several downtown properties are being considered. If no suitable building can be bought or leased the company proposes to erect a building. The Commercial National bank building in lower Fourth avenue was one of the properties considered, but this deal fell through, owing to the purchase of the property by the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

A meeting will be held in a few days to elect directors and fix upon a location. The list of stockholders is said to include bankers and financiers who propose to make the new company one of the strongest institutions in the city.

Among those reported to be identified with the project are James Gayley, first vice president of the United States Steel Corporation; John Bindley, president of the Bindley Hardware Company, and John W. Garland, president of the Safety Armorite Conduit Company, and of the Pittsburgh Realty Company.

Annual Meeting Postponed.

The United Presbyterian Women's association was to hold its annual meeting yesterday at the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny. Because of the number of members who were at the United Presbyterian bazaar, the meeting was adjourned until next Wednesday. Mrs. H. C. Campbell, president of the association, announced that in the near future a prize temperance essay contest would be introduced among the state normal schools. It was stated that the United Presbyterian bazaar will take in $6,000 as the receipts for two days.

Sigma Chi Chapter.

An alumni chapter of the Sigma Chi college fraternity will be organized in Pittsburgh next Saturday evening at the University club, No. 431 Penn avenue. The charter was granted on the petition of nearly 100 Sigma Chis living in this vicinity. Among the petitioners are graduates of classes dating back to the 60's, including many of Western Pennsylvania's most prominent men.

Seniors and Juniors Clash.

Because they were not invited to the senior banquet, the junior class of the Oakmont High school proceeded to stop the affair. They gained entrance to the kindergarten school, where the festivities were going on, and cut the electric light wires. The seniors secured a hose and soaked the other class, but the juniors finally gained possession of the hose and completely routed the seniors.

ANOTHER FOSTER CHILD OF THE CORPORATION

Most Pittsburgh Concerns Will Not Be in $20,000,000 Malleable Combine.

The consolidation of malleable foundry interests is planned to be another foster child of the United States Steel Corporation, like the American Steel Castings Company. Its formation has been under way for a year or more, the movement being backed by President Charles M. Schwab, Former Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, and Max Pam. John A. Penton, secretary of the National Founders' association, has acted as a promoter. The plan is to capitalize at $10,000,000 in preferred share issue, and a like amount of common.

Some Pittsburghers who are, or have been, interested understand that the deal is held up for the present, although there is no intention to drop it. There is a large contingent in the malleable foundry line that will remain on the outside. It is understood that among these are the McConway & Torley company, the Pennsylvania Malleable Company and the Fort Pitt Malleable and Gray Iron Company. The Pittsburgh Malleable Company has had some part in the negotiations, but it cannot be said now that this interest is either in or out of the deal. These form the list of Pittsburgh malleable foundries.

The Pittsburgh Malleable Company is now a close corporation and sells much of its output to the Westinghouse interests. Its output is about 750 tons a month. The Pennsylvania company is capitalized at $600,000 and its output is 25,000 tons a year. The McConway & Torley Company is capitalized at $1,000,000 and produces about 10,000 tons of castings yearly. The Fort Pitt company is a newer concern and its output does not as yet equal any of the others.

An official of the Pennsylvania Malleable Company said yesterday that about two months ago the company had been dealt with in reference to the consolidation, but that matters never took definite shape, and that about six weeks ago the company was given the understanding that the consolidation plan had been dropped for the present. Reports from other quarters indicate that the deal has been revived.

Among the big concerns outside of Pittsburgh which it is understood will not be taken into the consolidation are the Dayton Malleable Iron Company, Dayton, O.; Springfield Malleable Iron Company, Springfield, O., and the National Malleable Castings Company, which has works in Chicago, Indianapolis, Toledo, Cleveland, and Sharon, Pa.

Halloween Festivities.

Mrs. S. F. Graham of Sheraden gave a Halloween party last evening. The guests were all in comic attire.

Mrs. Walter Gates of Murray Hill avenue was hostess at a pretty Halloween party for the younger people.

At the Pittsburgh Golf club Halloween was observed last night by a pretty informal dance. It was for the members and their friends and a genuine frolic was held.

At the Brighton Country club a dance was given which was pretty and novel. The club house was simply decorated, the many Halloween superstitions were observed and supper was served about midnight.

The Crafton Tuesday Night Euchre club gave a masquerade ball last evening at Ideal park pavilion, Ingram. There was dancing from 8 o'clock until 11. All 30 all unmasked. The supper was served at midnight.

The officers of the Pittsburgh Newsboys' Home gave 50 newsboys a Halloween carnival at the home last night. All the ancient games and pranks were indulged in and the boys given plenty of fruit and nuts to eat.

The Sheraden Optimistic club was entertained last evening at a masquerade party by Miss Elizabeth Gartley at her home in Middletown road, Sheraden. Dancing and old-fashioned Halloween games were the amusements of the evening.

The annual Halloween reception at the Westminster college at New Wilmington, the important social event of the fall term, was held last night. Among Pittsburghers present were Miss Laura Turner, Miss Mary Grier, Miss Mary Park, Miss Agnes Newmeyer, Miss Mary Newmeyer and Miss Elizabeth Donaldson.

Miss Caroline Slack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Slack, Edgeworth, gave a Halloween dance at her home last evening. It was a fancy dress affair and some very elaborate costumes were worn. The guests included the younger Sewickley set, about 35 being present. The house was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums.

An old-fashioned Halloween party was held last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn, Elwood avenue, Allegheny. The guests were masked and wore various costumes. For the little children present a Punch and Judy show was given by Harry Galbraith. A taffy pulling was held, after which came the dance, the music provided by a mandolin club and the Tin Horn brigade. After the dance refreshments were served.

HALLOWEEN DOINGS.

A Parade of Comic Masqueraders. Old-Time Pranks Revived by a Populace Wild in Mirthful Glee.

Matchless indeed were the sights and scenes presented on the streets and avenues of this city last evening. Multitudes upon multitudes, actually engaged in frantic ecstacy, whirled and loitered about the city in the most serious comical fashion. Their peripatetics being absolutely so grotesque that in the early evening the streets down town were literally packed with spectators. Such "doings" on the evening of Halloween had never been witnessed before. Virtually maddened by the impelling ambition to surpass all records of farcical exhibitions, the demonstrators of the street kept ageing in their show of mirth and humor. Their activity became almost unceasing, so that rest and serenity of mind were nighly impossible. Much of the hilarity, many of the pranks and most of the "odd and queer" make-ups displayed last evening being due to the originality of Pickering's. Always alert and ready to make the most of such opportunities, this popular firm had announced a prize offer for the funniest dressed persons on the streets on Halloween night. But owing to the intense interest taken in the masquerading they decided to double the amount of prizes to be allotted by the committee and instead of dividing $30 worth of furniture among four prizes, they decided to award them according to the schedule following:

First prize—$30—Highly polished quartered oak leather couch.

Third prize—$15—Quartered oak Morris chair.

Fourth prize—$15—Quartered oak leather seat rocker.

The awarding of these prizes made it a busy night for the committee and the "Nuf Ced" man at Pickering's. The most imaginative mind could not have struck upon a better advertising idea.

HALLOWEEN FROLICKING WAS GENERAL

were filled with musicians, whose musical art ended with a monotonous performance on the cymbals and the bass drum. In one of these a crowd of boys essayed to emulate the weird dances of the midway, and the crowd became so great that the police dispersed the cavalcade, but the dance was continued on a side street.

Sousa was caricatured by several amateurs at grotesque make-up. One crowd included a band of a dozen players. They stopped at every corner and played an ear-splitting take-off of the "Stars and Stripes Forever," while the alleged Sousa led his band with the elaborate gestures.

Wild Doings in the East End.

Hallowe'en pranks began in the East End shortly after 5 o'clock last night when two young men heavily masked drove a large, gray automobile up Penn avenue at a speed of almost 50 miles an hour. At Frankstown avenue they turned and came down Penn again, leaving behind a cloud of dust and a corps of policemen chasing the gay young chauffeurs.

At the corner of Sheridan avenue the gray devil ran into a Greek chestnut stand and the wares of the Grecian were scattered to the four winds. A squad of police under the command of Edward McFolland pursued the fleeing party, but were unable to catch them.

All the "village cut-ups" of East Liberty valley were on en masse last night for one great, grand celebration. Penn and Frankstown avenues were crowded for blocks, and about 9 o'clock it was almost impossible to get along these thoroughfares so great was the crowd. There were parades of almost every description. Bands, drum corps and impromptu musical organizations of almost every kind were out in full force.

A leading feature of the entire celebration in the East End was the appearance of several ghost parties in Penn avenue. The members of these parties were said to belong to the swellest society set of Pittsburgh and they were all having one gay, hilarious time. With their faces painted in horrible designs and arrayed in pure white costumes from head to foot, the members of these parties paraded the streets, and did some hair-raising stunts.

Had a Free Hand in Allegheny.

Scenes of old Rome were re-enacted in Allegheny. On Federal street were witnessed perhaps more amusing scenes than at any other place in the two cities. The rigid police restrictions of the Pittsburgh police department drove many across the river. The Allegheny police placed no limits on the fun of the frolickers so long as their pranks were confined within the bounds of respectability and the law. Masks, costumes, bells, horns, or anything conceived for the enlivening of the scenes were permitted. The result was that Federal street, from the bridge to North avenue, was crowded from curb to curb all night. Clanging bells, screeching horns and the numerous devices for the making of noise created a veritable bedlam and added to the riotous character of the demonstration. Alphonse and Gaston were there, with a battery of admiring followers. Their mock politeness as they struggled through the crowds on the street was ridiculous.

Many characters never before impersonated here were out last night. One youth of unusual proportions was parading the street in the garb of Giant Despair, carrying on his shoulder an immense gnarled club.

Supt. McAleese's order to allow no person to parade as one of the opposite sex was not regarded in Allegheny. Boys dressed as "Mother Goose," others as buxon laundresses or scrub women, and some with the scant make-up of the ballet girl were out in numbers. Even the Salvation Army lassie was not free from caricature.

Scenes at Police Stations.

Before 10 o'clock 20 youths attired in female attire and five young women dressed as men were placed in cells at Central police station. Before midnight their friends mised them from the street throngs and went to the Central station to learn if they had been taken in.

These friends were informed the prisoners would not be liberated until they were clad in garments of their sex. A pretty young girl, about 20 years old, dressed in Bloomers, was arrested on Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. She confided in Asistant Superintendent of Police William Wilson and her mother was sent for. The parent came to the station house in a carriage. After the young women had changed her clothing she was taken through the court to her mother. She had been weeping, but when the roar of laughter from the police greeted her entrance to the court she drew her coat collar about her face and joined in the laugh. Her mother received her with open arms and greeted her with: "My poor dear."

A girl about 14 years old was the next to be brought out of the cell department. She was attired in her brother's clothing. A long overcoat and trousers were her garments. An angry father grabbed her by the arm and rushed her through the side door into the street.

Men dressed as women did not fare so well. A forfeit was demanded in their cases. Some of these young men had corsets on. Magistrate Bernard McKenna demanded that they divest themselves of this article before the police present. They obeyed to the amusement of the blue coats and the newspaper men.

A Halloween prank which might have had more serious consequences was the cause of the wrecking of a Second avenue car of the Pittsburgh Railways Company near Rankin last night. The car was coming to the city and was crowded with passengers. While running at high speed it struck an obstruction and shot across the outbound track and over a steep embankment into the dark. John Wright, the conductor, was thrown from the car and badly hurt.

Among the maskers Detectives William Elmore and Edward Kennedy arrested William McCune and George Johnson, both of Allegheny, and locked them up as suspicious persons. The detectives allege the men are pickpockets and were masked for the purpose of carrying on their trade.

ACROBATS WERE OUT, TOO.

JEERED AND CHEERED.

James Francis Burke's Halloween Meeting Was Not Altogether Popular.

For once at least in this campaign James F. Burke had a big crowd at his meeting. It was chiefly a crowd of masqueraders out for Halloween fun, and Burke and John Marron were cheered and jeered impartially.

Fifth avenue was crowded with masqueraders and spectators last night. Suddenly a squad of mounted policemen appeared at the lower end of the street and pressed the crowd back to the sidewalk until the parade of Burke's friends, afoot and in carriages, passed. Several men and women were badly jolted by the policemen's horses, children fled to the sidewalk in dismay and many were knocked down by a policeman's horse. The policemen were followed by a brass band and then came the marchers and the carriages. One banner said, "Burke, the 'Lead, Kindly Light' of Pittsburgh."

At the court house square a meeting was held. No excuses were offered for the rough treatment the crowd had received from the mounted police, nor for taking the parade in the street at such a time, but Mr. Burke said a few words and introduced John Marron. Mr. Marron, in his pleasant way, paid his compliments to H. Kirke Porter, Burke's opponent in the congressional race.

BERSCH CONVICTED.

Former St. Louis Councilman Gets Five Years in Penitentiary on Charge of Perjury.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—Edmund Bersch, former member of the house of delegates, was today found guilty of perjury in his testimony before the grand jury as to the $75,000 boodle fund raised to secure the passage of the Suburban railway franchise bill and given five years in the penitentiary.

The defense rested about noon, and after brief arguments by opposing counsel, the case was given to the jury, which deliberated but a few minutes.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

—Two cases of typhoid fever, two of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

—Jatta Yonk, a Slav, 40 years old, is at the South Side hospital in a critical condition. He tried to escape from a train on a trestle at Mary and South Twenty-seventh streets late Thursday night and fell through.

—Richard Bucks was committed to jail by Alderman Poole of a charge of embezzlement, made by C. A. Braun, a butcher in the Diamond market. Bucks was a collector for Braun and is alleged to be short $75.

—James Devine, employed in the grocery store of H. C. Perrott, No. 307 North Diamond street, Allegheny, on opening the store yesterday morning found a letter in which an unknown woman wrote that she intended to kill herself.

—City Detective Elmore returned from Columbus, O., yesterday morning without Dr. J. M. Evans, charged with false pretense by the stockholders of the Keystone Copper and Gold Mining Company. The hearing in the case was postponed until next Wednesday.

* SOCIETY *

MRS WILLIAM THAW will spend a portion of the winter in Washington, D. C., where she has rented the Cameron house in Lafayette square, formerly occupied by Senator M. A. Hanna and family. The house has for many years been a center of hospitality and brilliant entertaining. It is large and generously planned, and suited to elaborate social affairs. Mrs. Thaw will be accompanied by her daughter, Miss Margaret Thaw, who is one of the prettiest of the younger girls in Pittsburgh, a debutante two seasons ago. Harry Kendall Thaw, who returned from Europe a week or two ago, will spend the winter with his mother. Wide travel in foreign countries as well as at home has brought about an extensive acquaintance in diplomatic circles, which with the wealth and social prestige the Thaws enjoy, will give them prominence in the official and semi-official life of Washington. Mrs. Thaw's elder daughter, Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, will spend some time in Washington, as well as at Dungeness, the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, in Georgia.

Lectures and Recitals.

During the coming year of the Women's club of Sewickley, which meets at the Edgeworth club each Wednesday, the members of the club have promise of some unusually enjoyable meetings. After the holidays Prof. Charles Zublin of the University of Chicago will give a series of six lectures entitled "The Elements and Structure of Society." Later Dr. E. E. Briggs will give four lectures on "Moral Leaders." Mrs. Alfred B. Harlow, last year's president of the club, will take charge of one day in the department of lectures and Mrs. Samuel S. Gilson, in the department of philanthropy, will talk one day of "The District Nurse" and other local charities. Prof. Richard Skalinski will give an interesting talk on "Personal Experiences in China." Miss Canfield of Grand Rapids, in December, will give an illustrated talk on "Paris." Edward A. McDowell of Columbia university, pianist, and Miss Murray, the celebrated Scottish vocalist, will also appear.

A Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Tucker of Lincoln avenue, East End, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday evening, October 28. They held a reception from 8 o'clock until 11 and assisted by their five children and several grand-children received a large number of friends. The house was prettily decorated in yellow and green. Supper was served during the evening. The occasion was remembered by many with gifts, the children and the grand-children presenting Mr. and Mrs. Tucker with a bag of gold coin. Mr. Tucker has been connected with the H. K. Porter Locomotive Company for over 30 years.

In Honor of Mrs. Dalzell.

Mrs. William Ralston Crabbe gave a delightful little card party yesterday afternoon at her home in Castleman place, Shadyside, in honor of Mrs. John Dalzell. The entertainment was small and informal, a few of the old friends of Mrs. Dalzell being asked to meet her. After the card party Mrs. Dalzell went to Mrs. Omar Scott Decker's home in Lilac street, where she was the guest of honor at a pleasant little tea. Mrs. Dalzell is visiting her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Sage Dalzell, at the Westerlea, Hawkins station.

An Engagement Announced.

Mrs. D. D. Ewing announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Leighton Ewing, and Dr. H. Wilson Morrow of Sewickley at a luncheon yesterday afternoon for a few friends. Among the guests were Miss Edith Sanders, Miss Maude Corbett, Miss Margaret McGeary and Miss Grace McGeary of Leechburg, Miss Florence Stewart and Miss Agnes Stewart of Freeport; Miss Anna L. Patterson of Aspinwall; Miss Olive King, Miss Carrie Black, Miss Helen Roberts and Miss Alice Clark. In the evening the company was increased by a few friends of Dr. Morrow's, among them J. J. M. Taylor, Thomas H. George, Clark Hill, Calvin Coulter, Fred Jones, Ada Hays, Howard Collingwood of Swissvale and Clifford Stewart of Freeport.

Pittsburghers in the East.

Dr. and Mrs. James Stewart Lacock, whose wedding took place on Wednesday, are now at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York city. Mrs. Lacock was Miss Florence Ault.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darlington and Miss Darlington have closed their country home at Mamaroneck, Long Island, and are staying at the Holland House. The Darlingtons will remain in New York for a month or six weeks before returning to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. D. N. Jones and her daughter, Miss Lois and Miss Edna Jones of Murray Hill avenue, left on Thursday evening for the seashore, where they will spend the remainder of the fall. They will go to Florida for the winter.

Musicale in Sewickley.

A private musicale will be given by Mrs. Van Cleve at her home in Broad street, Sewickley, on Tuesday evening, November 11. Noted local and out-of-town musicians will be present and take part in the program. A large list of invitations have been issued for the affair.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. William Thaw, who has been visiting in Ohio, is expected home tonight.

Miss Rebecca Jennings of Fifth avenue, Shadyside, is entertaining Miss Stevenson of Philadelphia, as a house guest.

Friday evening, November 7, a four handed euchre and smoker will be given at the Keystone Bicycle club in Howe street, East End.

A fancy work party was given at the home of Mrs. S. W. Ewing, No. 1220 Mill street, Wilkinsburg, yesterday afternoon, the guests numbering nearly 100.

Mrs. Arthur M. Lloyd gives an afternoon tea November 11 at her home in Homewood avenue to formally introduce her daughter, Miss Sara Verner Lloyd, to her friends.

The regular meeting of the board of managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association will be held this evening in the assembly room of the Kindergarten college in Fifth avenue, Oakland.

Miss Laura M. McClintock of Huntington, W. Va., spent a few days this week with Mrs. Sarah L. Lingo of the East End, returning to her home yesterday. Before coming to Pittsburgh Miss McClintock visited in Franklin, Oil City and Titusville.

Secretary Brodrick to Wed.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Mr. Brodrick, secretary of state for war, is engaged to marry Madeleine Stanley, eldest daughter of Lady Jeune, wife of Sir Francis Jeune, judge advocate general. Lady Jeune's first husband was Col. Constantine Stanley. Mr. Brodrick has been a widower for about a year.

"OPENS NEW ERA IN AMERICAN MUSIC"

Victor Herbert Says Libel Verdict Means Much to Present Day Composers.

When Victor Herbert compiles the letters and telegrams of congratulation received since winning his libel suit against the Musical Courier in New York, he will have a scrapbook unlike anything that ever graced a musician's library.

Two great baskets filled with congratulatory letters and telegrams stand in Mr. Herbert's library in Aiken avenue. Newspaper clippings have come in bales. The letters bear the autographs of many of the greatest musicians, as well as men and women prominent in the world of art and literature.

"Three cheers for you!" wrote Dudley Buck, who inclosed some clippings from a Brooklyn newspaper. It was characteristic of the hundreds of other letters and telegrams.

"I did not imagine that the suit could arouse such universal interest," said Mr. Herbert. "On my own part I felt no qualms of conscience, and the verdict not only set me right before the world, but it was moral and legal vindication for every musician who has been hounded by these people. It opens a new era in American music—yes, the world's music. It gives courage to the individual composer, who heretofore was circumscribed in his art and well-being by the edicts of a coterie of self-appointed critics. The whole profession will benefit by the independence won through the moral influence of this suit.

"The effect in Europe will be the same. New standards will be raised everywhere. I have not heard much from abroad, but a few brief cables have shown me that the popular opinion across the water is very much the same as that which finds such general expression in this country.

"I am most grateful for the expressions of good will which I have received from my friends in this city. I am now engaged on the programs for the Pittsburgh orchestra concerts, and feel that the result of the New York case will in some way benefit the musical outlook in Pittsburgh, where the people are practical rather than pedantic in their appreciation of good music."

ST. PAUL ORPHANS AS ENTERTAINERS

Program for the Meeting of Relief Association at Idlewood Tomorrow Afternoon.

The little folks of St. Paul's Orphan asylum will entertain several thousand persons at the annual meeting of the Orphan's Relief association at Idlewood tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The management of the institution will receive the members of the association and the contributors toward establishing a refuge for homeless children, and the largest gathering at the new Idlewood building since its dedication is expected.

The orphans have established a reputation as interesting entertainers and a unique program has been prepared. It includes a number of solos and choruses, several recitations by budding elocutionists, and a play in two scenes, entitled "Little Carrie's Quarter." At the business meeting of the society the officers of the association will be elected. The Pittsburgh Railways Company will supply extra cars to accommodate the crowds.

Roosevelt to Stop Here.

Maj. Sylvester the superintendent of police of Washington, D. C., yesterday notified the Pittsburgh police that President Roosevelt would pass through Pittsburgh on the morning of November 12, en route to the south. The presidential train will arrive at 9:05 and leave at 9:20. The Pittsburgh police will take precautions.

Honestly, Can You Play The Piano Properly?

It is a remarkable fact that although the number of pianos in use throughout the United States today is enormous, there are comparatively few persons who are satisfied with their skill in playing the piano. One reason for this is that only a small number of persons are musicians by nature. And another and equally good reason is that only a small proportion of those who use pianos have the time necessary to attain great proficiency in playing.

Hence, it is not to be wondered at that the Pianola Piano Player is steadily gaining in favor and is now used in hundreds of homes where a prejudice against such things formerly existed. But should there be a prejudice against a piano player? The Pianola is in nowise mechanical in its results, because its manipulation is entirely under the control of the person operating it. Therefore the expression is not only colorful, but is characterized by all that delicate shading which renders the music of great pianists so fascinating. Yet in spite of the large number of Pianolas in use, one occasionally finds some person who is not familiar with the character of this wonderful device.

There is nothing mysterious about the Pianola. It is just a little cabinet which stands in front of the piano (it is not fastened to the instrument). It is equipped with a delicate mechanism, a set of pedals and various stops. The person who wishes to produce music places the Pianola in position, sits down and operates the pedals. This is all one need do to produce music. But if one wishes all the finer effects the eye should be kept on the music sheet as it passes through, and the stops should be manipulated accordingly, thus securing all the finer shadings, just as successfully as if one were a master musician, playing the piano by hand in the ordinary way.

Now, of course, all these superb effects would not be considered wonderful if one were required to go through a long course of training in order to produce them. But the Pianola requires no such thing. Anyone can operate the Pianola without any experience at all. And with its aid all kinds of music can be produced—heavy overtures, light operas, dance music, etc. As an accompaniment to the voice nothing can excel the Pianola.

You are invited to come in and hear it any time.

Head Out of Danger.

Bruce Head's condition was much improved last night. Dr. S. L. Walker said that his patient was out of danger. John B. Carter, half brother of Head, reported his determination to prosecute Dr. Curgeon to the utmost. Duncan is still confined at the Allegheny county jail and hopes in a few days to be liberated on bail.

There has been an increase of 15 per cent per capita in taxes during the past six years. Another term of ring control is dangerous. Vote the Citizens party ticket. Advt.

For the promotion of vice syndicates vote the ring county ticket. For pure administration elect the Citizens candidates. Advt.

STOCK MARKET STRONG, CLOSING AT THE BEST

Call Money Advanced to 7 Per Cent. but Did Not Check Upward Movement---Fire Proofing and Window Glass Weak Local Features.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The eastern stock market yesterday displayed surprising strength at the close. London quotations came higher, and foreigners bought more stocks than they sold, which resulted in a steady to firm tone during the morning session. In the afternoon, despite the fact that call money rose to 7 per cent, the advancing tendency continued, and the close was at or near the highest prices of the day. In the absence of news, the speculation was largely dominated by sentiment. The betting on the result of the New York election shifted more strongly to the Republican side, and this was not without its effect. Sterling exchange was easier, and the exports of wheat for the week were reported at 6,000,000 bushels, which, while 1,000,000 bushels smaller than last week, were larger than expected, and tended to encourage the feeling that after all gold exports may be entirely averted. Another encouraging factor was that the end of the month, when there is usually considerable shifting of loans, brought no urgent liquidation in the stock market; that is, there appeared to be a scarcity of offerings on the advance, whereas for some days past every rally was checked by the sale of long stocks. The situation appealed to the short interest, and the covering of the latter aided in the rise. Manhattan was one of the strongest features in the market, rising from 135½ to 138⅝ and closing firm. The old story that has done service for more than a year past, to the effect that the introduction of electricity meant enormous increase in net profits, was again repeated. Metropolitan and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were firmer in sympathy. One of the weak features in the early trading was Louisville & Nashville, which broke to 133½, but subsequently recovered to 137 and closing firm. Northwestern was also weak, breaking from 229 to 223, but at the close recovered to 228. The selling is said to be for account of interests which acquired the stock for the purpose of obtaining representation on the board at the last annual meeting, but being outgeneraled by the Vanderbilts, are now liquidating. Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific and Reading were strong and higher. Pennsylvania advanced to 163¾, in anticipation of the declaration today of a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. The industrial stocks were only moderately active and steady, but General Electric advanced 2½ per cent in the closing dealings.

The rate for call loans ranged between 5 and 7 per cent, but declined to 5½ per cent at the close. This is not an unusual fluctuation at the end of the month, when the banks are preparing for interest and dividend disbursements. The slight decline in sterling exchange was thought to be influenced by the advance in money. The estimates as to the movements of currency during the week vary more than usual, one agency figuring out a net loss of $212,600 to the banks. The loss would have been much greater but for the receipt of more than $2,000,000 gold at Pacific coast ports, which was promptly transferred to New York. Today's bank statement did not receive the attention it usually does, possibly for the reason that the showing is not likely to have much effect upon the stock market. The surplus reserve is now larger than at any time since early last spring, but the banks appear to have the situation well in hand, holding the rate on time money firm, and unless Tuesday's election should prove overwhelmingly favorable to the present administration, there is not likely to be any important revival in speculation. If the stock market remains within present bounds until the return flow of currency sets in, the money market will take care of itself.

The local stock market yesterday was dull until toward the end of the session, when some activity occurred in the Fire Proofing shares, which was at the expense of values. The common stock opened lower at 28 and broke to 27 on what looked like forced liquidation of a 500-share lot, and the selling of the latter seemed to uncover stop-loss orders. There was a slight rally to 27¼, but the final sale was at 27, a net loss for the day of 2 points. The preferred stock declined to 38 and closed at that price bid. Unofficial reports as to the condition and business of the company were all bullish, and the only explanation for the break was the forced sale of margin accounts. Window Glass also developed some weakness, selling down to and closing at 52½, a loss of 1¼ for the day. Philadelphia Company common did not sell during the day, but late in the session it sympathized with the weakness then prevailing and was offered down to 47⅜. Brewing shares were fractionally lower and closed at or near the low point. Dealings in the steel stocks were light and the changes in price rather insignificant. Pittsburgh Coal sold at 30⅜, and the preferred at 88⅝@89, both closing at net losses of ⅛@¼. Only 10 shares River Coal common changed hands all day, while the preferred sold at 40⅝@41, closing at a decline of ⅛.

There was less activity in the bank and trust company group and prices were irregular. The air was full of rumors as to impending deals, but the only definite statement made during business hours was the announcement that the stockholders of the Union National bank would be asked to vote on a proposition to increase the capital stock from $250,000 to $500,000, the new stock to be sold at $1,600 a share, bringing the total capital and surplus up to $4,000,000. There were no public quotations on Union National stock. American Trust was strong and higher, selling to the extent of 220 shares at 139 to 140, closing at 139 bid 135½ asked. North American Savings sold at 125⅝ ex-dividend of 4½ per cent, which was equivalent to a net advance of ¼ over the last previous sale. Colonial Trust sold at 610@615, closing at 600 bid. Pennsylvania Trust was offered down to 305 and closed at 290 bid. Real Estate Trust was nominally quoted at 304@307. Tradesmens National bank did not change hands, but the stock advanced to 102½ bid, and advance of 8 points over the sale on Thursday. Small lots of Marine National, Safe Deposit and Trust and German-American Savings and Trust changed hands at unchanged prices. The bond market remained dull and unchanged.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges for the month increased $23,000,000.

Union National Bank to sell 2,500 shares new stock at $1,000 a share.

National Fire Proofing broke to 27, closing weak.

American Trust rallied to 140, closing at 139 bid.

IN WALL STREET.

Total sales for the day, 415,200 shares.

Manhattan is big feature, 77,000 shares being sold and net advance of 2⅜ points registered.

Sub-treasury purchases bonds to amount of $405,000.

L. & N. and Reading gain 1⅜ points.

Bonds firm; total sales, par value, $1,640,000.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The net earnings of Wisconsin Central for September increased $42,000.

The gross earnings of 49 roads for the third week in October increased 7.07 per cent.

North American Savings sold at 128½, ex-dividend of 4½ per cent, which was equivalent to 130¾, dividend on.

Diamond National bank was offered at 475 and Columbia National bank at 471. Cosmopolitan National closed at 108@109½.

The comptroller of the currency has extended to October 31, 1902, the corporate existence of the First National bank of Chillicothe, O.

The gold production of the Rand mines for September was 190,000 ounces, an increase of 20,000 ounces compared with the preceding month.

A settlement has been reached between the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and its striking miners. The men have been out since June 30.

The following stocks were quoted ex-dividend yesterday: Westinghouse Electric, 1¾ per cent; Pullman, 2 per cent; United States Express 2 per cent.

The street was full of rumors regarding the consolidation of two national banks and two trust companies, but up to the close of the market details were not forthcoming.

It looked as though the end of the month had brought a little house-cleaning in the local stock market. This was the view of the decline in several stocks at the close yesterday.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized R. H. Spendley of Hollidaysburg, D. McFarland, J. T. Lee, J. W. Ciber and R. C. Irvine to organize the Citizens National bank of Hollidaysburg on $50,000 capital.

The decline in National Fireproofing common to 27 brings the stock to a basis of about 9.2 per cent, while the preferred at 38 represents 9.5 per cent income basis. The latter is now quoted relatively lower than any of the other 7 per cent preferred industrial shares.

Some Wall street banking interests are looking forward to a better market. New securities are made to be distributed to investors in the form of stocks and bonds. Over $600 of new bonds and dividend paying stocks have been created. These securities will be sold to investors, but in order to do so the market conditions must be favorable.

The New York stock exchange will remain open as usual on Monday, but will be closed on Tuesday, election day. A petition had been circulated requesting the exchange to close the exchange on Monday as well as on Tuesday, and Pittsburgh members circulated a similar petition, but the fact that New York will remain open on Monday also settled the question for Pittsburgh.

The statement of the United States Realty and Construction Company as of October 1, 1902, shows assets of $59,599,600, consisting of $11,004,600 cash and $48,595,000 stocks of companies, providing offset by capital stock issued of $59,599,600. The statement for the New York Realty Corporation for profit and loss account from May 1, 1901, to September 30, 1902, showed profits of $1,470,490 against which there are expenses of $200,964, leaving profits of $1,269,525. The profit and loss account of the George A. Fuller Company from April 10, 1901, to August 31, 1902, shows profits of $3,787,285 and expenses of $428,426, leaving profits of $3,358,859. The company's surplus on August 31, 1902, is $2,682,436.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local rate for call and time loans remained unchanged yesterday at 6 per cent. It is not expected that there will be any immediate change in this rate, but an increase in the supply of funds is not improbable within the next two weeks, when payments will have been made on account of subscriptions for new banking and trust company capital. OCTOBER IN THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

The month of October was one of liquidation in the stock markets. There was a natural reaction from the feverish activity of the preceding month, the dealings on the New York stock exchange dropping from an average of more than a million shares a day to about 300,000 shares. The reactionary tendency, however, was not confined to Wall street. In London the month opened with the Bank of England raising its minimum rate of discount from 3 to 4 per cent, and on two occasions raising its selling price for gold, the action in both instances being taken with the view to, diverting the French demand for gold to New York. Higher discounts abroad caused sales of foreign-held American securities, larger imports of merchandise added to the adverse foreign trade balance, and throughout the month gold exports were imminent. Actual shipments were only prevented by the maintenance of high rates for money in New York, and the latter naturally attracted money from interior markets, causing stringency all over the country. In this emergency Secretary Shaw issued an unprecedented order releasing national banks from the obligation of carrying a reserve against deposits. He also permitted the substitution of other than government bonds for the security of public deposits, and purchased something like $15,000,000 government bonds, releasing thereby from the treasury about $20,000,000 cash.

In Pittsburgh bank exchanges for the month approximated $163,000,000 or $23,000,000 in excess of the largest previous October total. The money market was active and firm at 6 per cent, and owing to the large commercial demand upon banking credits, there was probably more shifting of loans, representing the liquidation of stock brokers' accounts than during the entire previous nine months. As a consequence trading in stocks was restricted, and the total transactions on the Pittsburgh exchange approximated only about 170,000 shares. Prices were irregular, but the general tendency was downward. In the Westinghouse group, Electrics declined from 111 to 104, and Air Brake from 183 to 175. Window Glass declined from the equivalent of 62 dividend on to 52½ ex-dividend. Crucible Steel common declined from 22⅝ to 20½, and the preferred from 91 to 85. United States Steel common declined from 41⅛ to 38⅞, and the preferred from 91 to 88. Pressed Steel Car, on the other hand, sold at the highest prices of the year, the common at 62 and the preferred at 95½. The coal stocks led in point of activity, but the fluctuations were narrow. Brewing securities were firm, while Fire Proofing was weak. The month closed with a slight recovery in the industrial list.

The course of the market for bank and trust company stocks was the reverse of that for the general market, the whole list forging ahead. The event which revived interest in this group was the action of Union Trust in increasing its capital from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, selling the $500,000 new stock for $10,000,000, or at the rate of $2,000 per share. Previously $100 par value stock advanced to $2,250 bid, the highest price at which a local stock was ever quoted. Other noteworthy advances were $178 a share for Pittsburgh Trust, which sold at $300; $140 a share for Fidelity Title and Trust, which sold at $790; Colonial Trust, up $100 a share at $680, Pennsylvania Trust, up $25 a share, at $315. Other bank and trust company shares advanced from $5 to $20 a share, reaching the highest prices ever quoted, and the month closed with interest largely centered in this class of shares, the demand for which superseded the demand for bonds.

A financial event of the month of more than local interest was the completion of the deal whereby the Pittsburgh stock exchange sold 50 new seats at $10,000 each, and applied the proceeds thereof to the purchase of the Mechanics National bank property. The effect of the transaction was the advance in the market value of exchange seats to $12,000, the highest ever quoted.

PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

Government Steamboat Inspectors Have Condemned the Steamer Little Ike.

Capts. Atkinson and Williams, government steamboat inspectors, yesterday inspected the sand dredgeboat Little Ike, owned by the Iron City Sand Company, and found the craft in such bad condition that she was not given a thorough test.

The inspectors notified the company that the vessel had been "crossed off" and the boat can do no more work on the river. The Little Ike was built in 1853 by W. Douglass & Son's at Pittsburgh, and is somewhat smaller than the sand dredgeboats of recent construction. It is likely that the machinery of the vessel will be taken off and used on some other boat.

News of the Rivers.

The Marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam, at 6 o'clock last evening, indicated a depth of 2.9 feet and the river was stationary.

Government employes yesterday began the work of placing flashboards on the dams on the Monongahela river.

The United States Quartermaster, which is building a river tipple at Elizabeth, will soon be ready to load coal into the river.

The snagboat E. A. Woodruff on her down trip removed the T. J. Hall flat, which had been sunk at Nine-Mile Island.

A. R. Budd, of the Budd Coal Company, who is in Cincinnati looking after repairs to the Harvester, will not be home for 10 days.

E. P. Wilson, secretary of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, states that 175 delegates and visitors from Cincinnati will attend the convention at Parkersburg.

Rivermen do not look for a good shipping stage of water in the Ohio until Thanksgiving. The Ohio is very low and it will take much rain to make the stream navigable.

A meeting of the Board of masters and pilots will be held this morning, and a large attendance is desired, as 14 applicants are to be made members of the association.

The miners in the Kanawha valley are still on strike and it is expected that as long as the strike continues the price of Pittsburgh coal in the Cincinnati market will remain firm.

The steamer Kanawha is reported to have laid up at Point Pleasant for the present. Capt. W. E. Roe will be at the Parkersburg river convention to help the boom for river improvements.

Price Bros. are building a small stern wheel packet on the Allegheny wharf, which is to be used on the Monongahela between Monongahela and Boston. The craft will be equipped with the best of machinery and appliances.

Capt. W. L. Sibert, after spending several weeks in Tennessee, arrived home yesterday. He was a member of a board of United States engineers appointed to examine certain improvements contemplated on that stream.

The members of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, were yesterday notified by the superintendent building Lock No. 5, on the Ohio river, that the cofferdam there now extends 450 feet out into the river from the outside walls of the lock. The contractors are preparing to put in the wickets on the main pass.

The local steamboat inspectors yesterday addressed a letter to Capt. Robert Oakes requesting him to report to that office and defend himself against the charges made against him by Capt. Harger. The letter, signed by Capt. Oakes is charged with having shot at Capt. Harger several weeks ago, the shooting taking place at Phillis Island, on the Ohio river, on the boats the men were on were passing that point.

The local steamboat inspectors yesterday addressed the following letter to Capt. Frank G. Dodds of McKeesport, which explains itself: "After careful consideration of all the testimony in the charges filed against you by Capt. W. Rodgers, for criminal neglect of duty, carrying and concealing on board spirituous liquors and drinking same to excess, while in the performance of your duty and while in charge of tow, you are to be steered over dam No. 1 on the Monongahela river, with nine empty flats in tow, with an unlicensed man at the pilot wheel, at or about 4 o'clock p. m. of October 19, 1902, wrecking the steamer Rebecca, of which you had command, to the extent of $10,000, we are satisfied that the charges preferred against you have been fully sustained by the witnesses summoned in your behalf. We will, therefore, suspend your license for a period of two years, commencing November 2 and ending November 1, 1904." The decision prevents the captain from engaging in any licensed capacity on a steamboat.

WILKINSBURG BLOCKS ARE PURCHASED FOR $68,000

Two Office Buildings Planned for Lower Fourth Avenue—East End Realty Company Will Have $100,000 Capital.

The Pittsburg Furniture Company has bought from A. J. Pittingburg the property Nos. 705-709 Penn avenue, First ward, Pittsburg, for $68,000. The plot consists of three lots having a total frontage of 66 feet in the north side of Penn avenue, just east of Wood street, and a depth of 110 feet. Two four-story brick stocks, one with a stone and the other with a pressed brick front, occupy the lots. Both are modern buildings, the larger one having been erected only a few years ago at a cost of $22,000. The furniture company has occupied the property two years and now fills the entire block with its business. Recently the capital stock of the company was increased from $40,000 to $80,000.

This is the largest sale of business property in Wilkinsburg for several months, and in view of the character of the buildings, the price, a little over $900 a foot, is thought to be reasonable.

Paid $550 a Front Foot.

Through the agency of C. S. Marshall in the East End, D. H. Wallace has disposed of 33 feet of Wood street frontage in Wilkinsburg for $18,150 cash. The lot is situated in the east side of the street, north of Franklin street, and near the Gilligan & Miller building. It has a depth of 122 feet and is improved with a small house. The sale is at the rate of $550 a front foot. The purchaser is a non-resident who bought for an investment.

The Union Realty Company sold for J. H. Booth a vacant lot 125x137 feet, at the corner of Sheridan and Jackson streets, nineteenth ward, for $15,000. The buyer's name is withheld, but he is known to be a well-known downtown insurance broker who will improve the lot at once with a residence to cost not less than $15,000.

The deed was registered yesterday conveying from George O. Morgan to the First Unitarian church, a lot 170x150 feet at the southeast corner of Ellsworth and Morewood avenues, Twentieth ward. The consideration named was nominal. Mr. Morgan bought the lot last summer from T. M. Ferguson, for $24,021. Plans for the church to be erected on the site are already prepared.

Hostetter to Erect Office Building.

By the registry of deeds yesterday it was shown that D. Herbert Hostetter was the buyer of the two properties in Third and Fourth avenues recently sold by Samuel W. Black & Co. The block of Nos. 214-216 Fourth avenue was secured from George I. Whitney and Francis L. Stephenson for $120,000. The lot measures 27.5x114 feet at the Fourth avenue end, and 37x85.7 feet in the rear, facing Third avenue. The other property is 29x85.5 feet at Nos. 321-323 Third avenue, and brought $40,000. It belonged to the Farmer's Deposit National bank. Most of the leases on the property expire April 1, and at that time Mr. Hostetter will begin the erection of a modern office building six or eight stories high on the Fourth avenue lot.

Another office building of similar heigh will be erected by D. E. Park next spring on the site of the Apollo building at Nos. 388-242 Fourth avenue. The Apollo building is not well adapted for offices in its present condition and it is the aim of Mr. Park to put up a structure that will be a modern and convenient home for the dozens of brokers who are now seeking quarters in that end of the avenue.

Third Avenue Sale of $30,000.

The property at No. 21 Third avenue, between Short and Redoubt alleys, has been sold for a price approximating $30,000. The lot measures 20x72 feet and is improved with a three-story brick house. The purchaser is Frank McCann, who takes the property for an investment. The deal was made by Harry Woodburn.

Through the agency of S. H. Lloyd, three residence properties in the East End have been sold for a total consideration of $26,000. The property, brick house, owned by Olivia Love and consists of a colonial brick house of 10 rooms on a lot 40x107 feet on the west side of Stratford avenue, near Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward. It was bought by an East End business man for $16,500 and will be occupied by him as a home.

An 8-room 10-room house at the southwest corner of Ivy street and Kentucky avenue was sold by D. A. Gormley to a business man for $7,500. The lot measures 25x95 feet.

The third property was conveyed from Edwin D. Smith to S. J. Dick for $2,950. The lot is 25x100 feet and has erected on it a frame house.

Allegheny Block Brings $14,000.

The Rev. W. H. Jamison has sold the property at No. 821 Federal street, Allegheny, for $14,000. The property is situated on the east side of the street, near Erie street, and consists of a lot 20x100 feet, improved with a two-story brick business block. The latter is occupied by the Marshall Grocery Company. The name of the buyer, who contemplates improving the property, was kept secret.

The report that the George Hubley property, on the north side of Penn avenue, near Pitt street, Wilkinsburg, had been sold for about $20,000 and was to be used as a site for a large family hotel, was denied yesterday by the owner, Timothy Barrett. No negotiations are pending for the property, according to Mr. Barrett, who has owned it for several years.

A $100,000 Company Forming.

The Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company is the name of a new corporation that has applied for a charter. The members are the well-known real estate firm of Samuel Kelly & Co. of the East End and Capt. Charles W. Woods, who is now stationed at lock No. 2. The new company will, it is understood, have a capital of $100,000, although only a nominal amount will be required to begin with. The brokerage business, a general real estate, mortgage and insurance business, will offices at No. 6106 Penn avenue, East End, where Samuel Kelly & Co. are now located.

Will Build a Second House.

H. G. Morgan has plans prepared for another colonial brick house of 12 rooms which he will build on the east side of Braddock avenue, near Penn avenue, at a cost of $14,000. The house will stand next to a similar residence which he is just finishing.

Capt. Robert J. Gould of the Allegheny Real Estate Company has started to build two 10-room frame houses in McKinley avenue, Avalon, at a cost of $4,800 each.

Architect J. E. Obitz is preparing plans for a brick stable in Maple avenue for Thad Stuckell, to cost $5,000.

Architect J. A. Long has plans for the remodeling of the Baer block at Somerset, Pa., now occupied by the Farmers Deposit bank of that city. The improvements will cost $10,000.

Architects Milligan & Miller have awarded the contract to Crosby Bros. for the erection of a 10-room, reception hall, brick house for H. M. Bartlett in Hampton place, at a cost of $5,000.

The Latest Lot Proposition.

Bellevue park is the new lot plan which will be formally opened today by the Allegheny Real Estate Company. The property is in a very desirable location, being only 20 minutes' ride from Allegheny city hall and 200 feet from the Lincoln avenue car line. The sale opens at 1 p. m. and the lots will be offered at from $100 to $850 apiece.

Arnold, Monaco, Black & Baird will give the last free excursion this season. This is the third sale on this plan, the first having been postponed on account of rain. A large number of the lots have been disposed of and it is expected that today's sale will nearly clean up the plan.

The C. H. Wanner Co. has decided on an innovation in the way of lot sales and will have a boom sale tomorrow at its plan at Cascadoc. The plan is situated near New Castle and adjoins the West Pittsburgh property where the Pittsburg Manufacturing Company is being erected. The lots will be offered at odd prices, $98 and $148 each, and should prove attractive bargains.

Exchange Deal in Edgewood.

Edgewood: S. L. Smith & Co. sold for S. L. Smith to W. C. Craven a 10-room brick house, lot 25x100 feet, on the east side of Maplewood avenue, Edgewood, for $6,000. Also, Harris Bonnell lot 25x150 feet, Hazelwood avenue, for $4,500. In part payment Mr. Smith received a plot 75x105 feet on the east side of Clark street and a lot 25x100 feet on the north side of Stanton avenue, near McKee street, which were valued at $5,000. The Clark street frontage will be improved with four six-room brick houses at a cost of $12,000.

Wilkinsburg: W. H. H. Friend sold for D. A. Ritz to Milton Schlaugenhaupt two brick houses, lots 25x100 feet each, on the north side of South street, near Swissvale avenue. Second ward. Wilkinsburg. Consideration, $5,000. This makes four houses Mr. Ritz has sold in the same party within two weeks.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The Commercial Bulletin will say in tomorrow's report on the wool trade of this city:

The market is active and strong. Large sales of medium fleece wools have been made at slight advances. All medium wools are tending upward, owing to the high prices for competing South American wools. Fine wools are strong but show no material advance. The whole market is firm, however, and the predictions are for higher prices with the turn of the year. The receipts of wool in Boston since January 1, 1902, have been 280,463,622 pounds, against 230,893,559 pounds for the same period in 1901. The receipts of hides to date are 20,579,718 pounds, against 24,653,665 pounds for the same period in 1901. The stock on hand in Boston January 1, 1902, was 17,540,445 pounds. The total stock today is 122,275,877 pounds. The stock on hand November 2, 1901, was 92,196,499 pounds.

Nothing in the history of Allegheny county so shocked the public sense of political morality as the Stone-Flinn deal for "mutual political and business advantage." Vote the Citizens ticket as a protest against that kind of politics. Advt.

SPRING WHEAT FLOUR PRICES DECLINING

Temporary Shortage in Seeded Raisins—Eggs Scarce and Very Firm.

There was little in the way of news in the hay and grain market yesterday, buyers and sellers getting together fairly well, without any features either especially exhilarating or depressing. Timothy hay was a trifle easier, best grades selling at a decline of 25c a ton; seller's were unable so far to make any greater concession, and buyers seemed willing to accept those quotations. All other lines remained locally unchanged. Reports from Chicago were rather of a bearish nature, wheat having shown some unsettledness with an inclination downward, while fine weather operated against any bull movement in either corn or oats. Millfeed is in demand, and prices are steady as quoted.

Weaker wheat conditions occasioned a decline in flour, the last advance having been of short duration. Fancy spring patent has fallen to a range of $4 05@4 15, with some selling at the lower figure. Flour has never fully followed the ups and downs of wheat quotations as concerned, however, and should not be affected to the full extent of a mill decline. For this reason the top notation of $4 15 is not high, and is nearer the actual market than the lower figure.

Coffee Market Unsettled.

The situation in the primary coffee market continues unsettled, with bulls and bears striving for the ascendency. Latest reports from South America, for before the south's harvest, in receipts showed a slight diminution, and Brazilians are holding out for stiff prices. Under the influence of these advices, eastern speculation was somewhat improved. Locally, conditions are as they have been for some time, with repeated steadiness.

There is considerable interest manifested in the seeded raisin situation just now, supplies running short in primary markets by reason of the strike affecting the packing department. Advices from Fresno with a total capacity of 40 carloads a day the out-turn does not exceed 15 carloads at the outside. Packers are therefore unable to fill orders, and purchasers are commencing to feel the effects of the shortage in the market. This has thrown considerable business to eastern seeded to supply pressing wants, and sellers report a large number of orders. It now looks as though the scarcity for the Thanksgiving trade will be quite severe.

In canned goods there is nothing of particular interest. Markets are all firm, with corn especially strong.

Salt fish is selling freely, and may even be in incredible demand before the season ends. The large packs of canned salmon, which are said to be running behind over a million cases, proves to be true. So great is the shortage in the latter that large holders are refusing to let go at prices so far offered by eastern buyers.

Canadian Apple Crop Injured.

Advices from Canada are that while this is a big crop year for apples, returns from all sections are much injured by rot, scab, specks and scappets. Quantity is all right, and even quality, in the usual sense, for samples are large and well formed, and this year the crop has been unusually free from worms, but the rot has been unusually severe this season. The wet season is given as the reason, as it favored the growth of the scab. The local market is unchanged as to price and demand is good. Other fruits remain as they were quoted yesterday. No change has been made in vegetable prices, except hothouse cucumbers, which are now plentiful and lower, tomatoes but $1 50@1 75 per basket.

The poultry market is easy and chickens are no more than steady at the last decline. Sales of one or two round lots at very low prices are reported, but these were exceptional cases. Eggs are scarce and firm, quotations as they were after the decline of Wednesday.

Butter, eggs and cheese are unchanged. Some effort is being made to secure 25c a dozen for select eggs, but so far actual selling seems to be at values quoted.

SUPREME COURT REFUSED PHILADELPHIAN'S PETITION

No Law to Compel Judges of That City to Hold Court on Election Day—Election Officers Could Ignore Advice.

The supreme court yesterday refused to grant the order prayed for by ex-Judge Thompson of Philadelphia asking that the county be compelled to sit on election day, so that, if necessary, election frauds quarter sessions court of Philadelphia may be promptly attended to. One opinion was written by the court and another by Justice Mestrezat, who concurred in the order.

The court says that two judges will sit in the quarter sessions court in that county Monday, and that it does not appear that any election matters will not be promptly acted upon. But a broader ground for the refusal is found in the fact that no sufficient reasons have been given why a court on that day is necessary. In regard to breaches of the peace, mentioned in the petition, the opinion sets forth that all that need be said is that any judge could only hear them as a committing magistrate.

The court says that the statement that "if no court of record is in session on that day, no arrest can be made of an election officer for election frauds," is an erroneous statement of the law. The power to issue warrants against election officers for election frauds is not only given to courts of record, but to each and every judge thereof, and there are 15 judges of the common pleas in Philadelphia, any one of whom has the power to act in such matters.

Need Not Heed Advice.

The opinion also states:

"Lastly, and this is the probable moving cause for the petition, it is said that election officers on the day of election frequently require and would request instructions as to their legal rights and duties from the court or some member thereof. It would probably be useful and conducive to good order and due observance of the laws to have a tribunal to which questions of the kind mentioned might be referred, but there is no legal authority for it.

"Courts sit to adjudicate actual litigation in the established forms, and it is not their duty or their province merely to advise. The opinion continues:

"If this whole court sat to respond to questions from election officers, it could give no judgments, its opinions would be wholly extra judicial, and the officers could disregard them with impunity. We do not feel called upon to assume such a position or to sanction such departure from established forms."

Justice Mestezat's View.

Justice Mestrezat, in concurring, says he does not approve of the local judges of that city refusing to sit on election day, and that it is regretted that out of the 15 judges of Philadelphia, one at least did not respond to the request. He considers that such a request was reasonable, and to ignore it or refuse it was to deny to the citizen what unquestionably he had a right to demand. Justice Mestrezat says:

"The military power of this commonwealth has recently been called into active service to prevent an alleged violation of the right of property and maintain the peace. A far more sacred right, that of the election franchise of the city of Philadelphia, is imperilled, if allegations of the petition be true, and they are not denied.

"Yet there seems to be no relief for this great wrong. It appears by certificate attached to the petition presented, that the judges of that city practically ignore the return of the elections for protection. I think this is an erroneous view of their duty, and the effect of this action will be to encourage the lawless element in the city to do what the petitioners in this application believe they anticipate being done on election day.

Monday—Commonwealth vs. Frank Goddak, Heinrich Fredrick, Larry E. Glenn, Bello Marcus, Henry Kalkoff, Sadie McGinley (2); Andrew Nagy.

Wednesday—John Jackson, for murder; Timothy Vanlon, Frank Sullough, William McCann (2), S. J. Sanders, James H. Asklin, J. Wesley Johnston, William Johnston, B. Sanders, James Dude, Van Tomacis, Thomas McDonald.

Thursday—Joseph Batrek, Stephen Batrek, John Tardiss, Samuel Morgan, John Burdi, John Van Sickle and Andrew Ruteo, for murder; W. C. O'Reilly, William Jones, John Rochester, John Regan.

Friday's list will be made up of cases left over from other days. Court will adjourn for election, day.

Vote next Tuesday for good government. Vote against the rings, cabals, business interest deals and the whole system of public office for private profit. Vote the Citizens ticket. Advt.

GETS EARLY HEARING.

Appeal of Mercantile Trust Company in Reservoir Case Placed on Present Trial List.

In the supreme court yesterday permission was granted to place the case of the Mercantile Trust Company against Controller Larkin at the foot of the present trial list, and in this manner the case will be disposed of in the near future. The action is to compel the controller to countersign warrants for work done on the new Highland reservoir.

The following appeals from the Allegheny county courts were heard yesterday:

Appeal of Robert Pitsirri from a decree in the Equity proceeding against Albert Hiller, Miriam Hays et al against the Wilkinsburg & East Pittsburgh Street Railway Company, appellant, an action for damages to property; Clara Speers, appellant against Boggs & Buhl, an action to recover for alleged injuries received on an elevator; Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company against Thomas Gamble, appellant, an action on a bond; Robert Herron against the City of Pittsburgh, appellant, an action to recover for personal injuries; Montgomery Patton against C. I. McDonald, appellant, an action to recover for personal injuries.

Keeping down the millage by resorting to extravagant valuations is a ring trick. Vast sums of the people's money are being spent for inferior service just the same. When the Citizens party candidates are in office the taxpayers will get full value for the taxes. Advt.

CHECKS WERE REFUSED.

Suit Entered Against Estate of Theodore R. Hostetter to Recover Alleged Debt of $115,000.

Attorneys Cassidy & Richardson, representing D. C. Johnson, yesterday entered suit against Robert S. Robb, administrator of the estate of Theodore R. Hostetter, to recover $115,000.

It is set forth that on October 21, 1901, the decedent delivered to the plaintiff a promissory note for $10,000; that on July 20, 1900, and January 5, 1902, Hostetter gave him checks for $70,000 and $15,000. On November 9, 1901, Hostetter gave Emery & Co. his check for $20,000 and the same was duly indorsed, and assigned to the plaintiff. The plaintiff then goes on to allege that payment of these checks was refused.

Good government is a blessing. It will never be had in Allegheny county while a vestige of the old machine party remains. Aid the movement for good government by electing the Citizens county ticket. Advt.

Desertion and Surety Cases.

The following desertion and surety of peace cases will be heard this morning in criminal court: Commonwealth vs. James Steen, Stella McIlwaine, Joseph McClelland, Mrs. A. Gasson, Lizzie Peck, Randolph A. Douglas, Kate Larkin, Jennie Moffatt, Henry Hoffman, Peter Banks, August Ludwig, Patrick Crowley, David Cronin, John Gallagher, Sam Jones, Hugh McDonald, Joseph Stecher, Peter Tepper, Robert H. White, John Sell, Daniel Meehan.

Would you stop the further inflation of unnecessary expenses of the county, vote the entire Citizens party ticket. Advt.

Objects to Shindery.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday by Elizabeth Yeager and others against the Schlipp Soap Company. The plaintiffs are residents of Baldwin and Lower St. Clair townships, and the defendant, it is said, operates a shindery nearby. It is claimed that gases from the place poison and corrupt the air, and sewage, while the refuse from the shindery empties into Becks run and pollutes the stream.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

A libel in divorce was filed by Britz Willems against Abner D. Williams.

The will of William J. Moreland was filed. He bequeathed a $65,000 estate to his widow, Martha P. Moreland, of No. 206 North Craig street.

The account of the executor of the estate of John Kaiser was filed. He charges himself with $29,035 55, and has a balance due of $3,110 14.

In the United States district court John H. Miller of Reserve township filed his petition in bankruptcy, giving his debts as $2,486 11, with $250 assets.

Suit was entered in behalf of Robert Davis against the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company to recover $10,000 damages for injuries in the Shrenden explosion.

Harry D. Ulrich entered suit against Thomas J. Ayers to recover $1,000 damages. The plaintiff claims that while he was on his way to church the defendant knocked him down and kicked him.

The following decrees in distribution were made: Estate of Robert Graham, $1,750 61; Elizabeth M. Bidwell, $88,520 29; George W. Shevick, $343 95; Mary Small, $259 40; Martha B. Grier, $18,422 52.

Suit was entered in the United States circuit court yesterday by James R. Quigley against E. H. Dodshon and the Elk Park Milling and Milling Company of Colorado for $8,782 22, alleged to be due for labor and supplies.

The following executions were entered: Dennis Dillon vs. Jere Dinan, $2,000; Homestead National bank vs. George H. Kohl, $365 10; same vs. D. S. Elliott, $6,627 35; same vs. J. W. Johnston, $6,627 35; Hope Planing Mill Co. vs. James Martin, $666 05; M. H. England vs. Frank J. Wesley, $118.

Mr. Flinn made the ring ticket two years ago. The only change occurred was when Stone was given one place on it.

If you want Flinn and Stone out of politics, don't vote for the ring ticket.

The people are supreme; all that they need to do is to come out and show their will at the ballot box.

IT IS DOUBTFUL

If Local Applications Alone Ever Cured a Case of Catarrh.

Most remedies for the treatment of catarrh are in the form of sprays, inhalers, powders, washes or salves, all purely local applications, and many of them often give temporary relief, but the reason none of them ever really cure chronic catarrh is because catarrh is not a local disease and it cannot be cured simply by treating the local symptoms.

Moreover, the more serious forms of catarrh, like catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bronchial tubes, cannot be reached at all by local applications, and the fact that neglected catarrh of the head very soon involves the bronchial tubes, stomach and liver, demonstrates that the disease is a blood disorder, a constitutional malady, and not at all a local disease.

To really cure catarrh the system must be cleansed from catarrhal poison by an internal remedy which acts effectively upon the blood and liver.

The success of a new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is because it drives out of the system, through natural channels, the catarrhal poison and the mucous lining of the nose, throat and trachea are freed from the excessive mucous which collects and causes the hawking, spitting and gagging, because the excessive secretion is not furnished from healthy blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain many of the same valuable antiseptics used in sprays and inhalers, but instead of being applied to the inflamed membranes of the nose and throat they are taken into the stomach and thus reach the blood, the real seat and cause of the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges composed of Red Gum, Hydrastin, Bloodroot, and similar catarrh specifics, and ready to use that little children suffering from colds take them with same beneficial results as adult persons.

No trace of cocaine or opiates, so common in catarrh medicines, can be found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Catarrh and Colds Relieved in Ten to Sixty Minutes.—One short puff of the breath through the blower supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this powder over the surfaces of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use. It relieves instantly and permanently cures catarrh, hay fever, colds, headache, sore throat, tonsilitis and deafness. 50 cents.—27.

The Vogue of the Sofa Pillow.

How many Sofa Pillows does it take to furnish a house? Did you ever see a room that contained too many? Doubtless you want more than you already have. See these:

Javanese Floss-Filled Pillows

(In the Muslin.)

One of the products of Java is a plant called the "Kopok," which bears a bean-shaped pod from which the natives gather a soft, fluffy vegetable substance which they ship in large quantities to the great American feather-houses. This material, known to commerce as "Javanese Floss," is soft, elastic, fluffy, odorless and does not mat under compression—five essential qualities of an ideal filling for sofa pillows. Besides this, it is cheaper than feather-down—another point in its favor. We carry Javanese Floss-Filled Sofa Pillows in the muslin, ready for covering, at the following prices:

—20-inch—40c | —24-inch—65c
—26-inch—75c.

Down-Filled Pillows

(In the Muslin.)

These Sofa Pillows are filled with soft, clean, fluffy, odorless feather-down. Sizes and prices as follows:

—20-inch—75c | —24-inch—$1.25
—26-inch—$1.50.

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"

It Isn't Always the Highest Price That Buys the Best Quality.

There are higher prices in town than ours, but NO BETTER CLOTHING. We buy THE BEST that is made, and, buying in larger quantities than any other house, buy cheaper, and, therefore, can sell cheaper. There is an average saving of 25 per cent to you every time you buy clothing here.

Our Suits and Overcoats at $8.50 @ $10:

These, while not made of Imported Woolens, represent the choicest materials of the American Woolen Mills—and the American Weaver has made some wonderful progress the last few years, compelling his foreign brother to look to his laurels. The goods embrace All-Wool Oxfords, Vicunas, Thibets, Unfinished Worsteds, Pin Checks, grey, brown and greenish Novelty Cloths, Scotch Cheviots, Serges, Tweeds, Kerseys, Meltons, Whipcords, Covert Cloths, Worsteds and Blue and Black Cassimeres. The suits come in the swell 4-button Straight Front Single-Breasted and the 3-button Double-Breasted styles and the overcoats can be had in all the fashionable lengths; short, medium long full length and extra long.

Our Suits and Overcoats at $15 to $30:

They will please even the most particular and fastidious dressers. They're the highest of high class garments and make it quite unnecessary for any man to go to a tailor shop for stylish, perfect-fitting Clothes. To begin with, none but choice imported materials have entered into the manufacture of these goods, the silk linings and trimmings are the best, and none but the best cutters and journeymen tailors have done the work. The Suits are made of Belgian Thibets, French Vicunas, Scotch Cheviots, Irish Tweeds, English Serges, Clay Worsteds, etc.—and the styles are both Single and Double-Breasted Sacks, Cutaway Frocks and Prince Alberts. While the Overcoats come in all the swellest styles—Surtout and Century Double-Breasted Frocks, Paletot Single-Breasted Frock, Chesterfield, Inverness, Fulton, Gotham, Fullmore and Wilton styles.

Overcoat Special for Today:

375 Irish Frieze, Kersey and Melton Overcoats—tip top fashionable garments—will please men of fastidious taste—Blue, Black and Oxford—handmade lapel, collar and buttonholes—were made by one of the best Eastern Manufacturing Tailors to retail at $18 and $20, but having been picked up by us at a big concession, we offer them at $12.50, about a third less than their actual value. Come today, however, as there are but 375 in this lot, and they'll go quickly at $12.50

A Sale of Men's Dress Trousers:

Another instance of the benefit our customers derive from our superior purchasing power and policy of large sales at small profits. 1,350 pairs of Men's Fine Dress Trousers, as fine and fashionable goods as any we, or any one else, ever offered for $4 and $5, go today at $3. These Trousers are made of high class All-Wool Worsteds, All-Wool Cheviots, All-Wool Cassimeres, etc., in all the latest fancy mixtures, interwoven checks and plaids, stripes, plain colors, blues and blacks, etc. They're cut in the very latest and swellest peg-top styles, every detail being given the most careful attention. The only regrettable feature about the goods is that there were only 1,350 pairs in the purchase, just about enough for one day's sale. So, if you want a pair, be on hand today and take your pick and fit for $3.00
